FOR ALL CINEMA FIRE DANGERS

The range of "Pyrene" Fire Appliances and Installations covers all cinema fire risks. The "Pyrene" Everyway Hose Reel offers ideal protection for the Cinema itself and there are "PYRENE," "PHOMENE" and "CONQUEST" Extinguishers for special risks. The "Pyrene" Automatic Fire Extinguisher for Cinema Projectors automatically puts out film fires and simultaneously cuts off the arc and stops the motor. Its action is so rapid that only one or two frames of film are damaged.

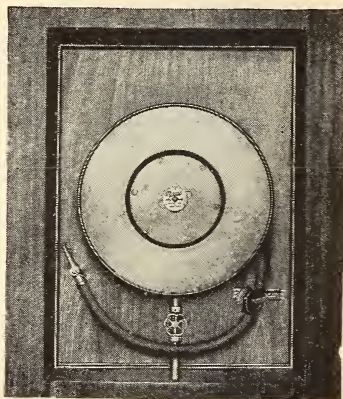

During the war period it is more than ever necessary that all Fire Protection equipment should be properly maintained. The Hire Maintenance Service undertaken by the Pyrene Company, Limited, covers the supply of hand Fire Extinguishers, inspection twice annually, supply of spare parts, repainting and finally replacement where necessary, all within a yearly maintenance fee.

Alternatively, for an economical inclusive annual fee you can have your existing hand fire extinguishers examined, recharged and expertly serviced one or more times a year as required. Certificates issued after each visit to meet local requirements where such exist.

A YEAR OF TRANSITION

A YEAR which began with practically the whole of the nation's energies concentrated on warfare and supplies of war-waging material closed with these energies being diverted to the manufacture of peace-time commodities with which to supply overseas markets.

The change made little if any difference to the kinema industry on its exhibition side. Anticipations that the cessation of warfare would be accompanied by a sudden drop in box-office takings were not realised, and the competition of other forms of recreation which were suspended during the war made very little difference to box-office receipts.

One difficulty which caused anxiety was the reduction in the amount of raw stock available: this affected the exhibitor, more particularly the late-run man, in the poor quality of the celluloid strip supplied which needed sometimes wholesale repair before it could be screened. The renter was handicapped by insufficient stock upon which to print copies, and despatch departments had great difficulty in arranging cross-overs to supply theatres. Fortunately there were adjustments which eased the situation during the year and hopes were expressed that during 1946 it might be possible to remove restrictions on raw-stock use altogether.

The production side of the industry which had carried on so pluckily throughout the war period, handicapped by lack of personnel, limited studio space, and out-of-date and well-worn equipment, found rehabilitation a slow and difficult process. Government departments exhibited little eagerness in vacating the studios which had been used for storage and other purposes, and when freed, shortage of equipment and the caution of Treasury officials in granting permits for the import of essential mechanism and apparatus continued the handicaps.

Even as 1946 dawned, these problems continued and with British manufacturers of necessary equipment still engaged on Government orders until late in the year, the supply from home sources was not encouraging as too little time had so far elapsed to allow re-tooling to take place.

In these circumstances, the quality and quantity of British films made during the year deserves every praise, and prospects at the beginning of 1946 were that the year would see an increasing number of quality films ready to challenge comparison with American films both as regards technical and artistic standards of achievement.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

BY JAMES P. CUNNINGHAM.

THE American motion picture business has been enjoying its longest period of box-office prosperity, due, principally to three basic factors—widespread wartime employment, the desire of the masses for escapist relief and the creation of millions of new patrons through the countrywide showings to young men and women of the Forces.

This prosperity has further crystallised the trend, which started in earnestness last year, towards longer runs of current releases. This policy further reduced the number of features, which, in turn resulted in bigger attractions of better quality; and, at the same time aided the conservation of raw stock because of the reduced number of prints required. Among the lesser runs, however, the reduction in the number of new products continues to present difficulties and has resulted in a cycle of reissues.

BRITISH PROSPECTS.—Highly important, internationally, is the prospect of British participation in the American market on a scale heretofore not reached.

The extent to which American executives of foresight are becoming aware of the necessity of reciprocity between the two countries is quite noticeable. Two reasons for this are the hard, cold business matter of economic losses should England decide at some future date that lack of reciprocity can cut both ways, and the more idealistic policy which has evolved out of the war relationship of two allies. It is generally acknowledged that J. Arthur Rank has undertaken what is considered to be the first forceful, far-sighted and sizeable approach of the British motion picture industry to the American market.

RECONVERSION PROBLEMS.—The transition from war to peace has had less influence both economically and physically, on the American motion picture business than on any other industry which had been so closely associated with the war effort. Nor is it likely to have any, except perhaps for its betterment with the eventual release of materials for reconstruction and replacement as regards the three branches: studios, exchanges and theatres.

The peacetime position of the American film industry abroad, however, is of entirely different colour, for at the turn of the year Hollywood found itself faced with the unquestionably important problem of regaining markets lost during the war. Even with the peace, most of those lost markets remained unavailable to American films chiefly because of the monetary conditions existing in the countries concerned, plus continuing unfavourable transportation conditions and the scarcity of manpower for representation.

There is no doubt in high American film circles that the foreign situation arising from the peace is Hollywood's No. 1 post war problem.

Throughout the three-and-a-half years of war, Hollywood continued to direct films of entertainment, propaganda and instruction to Government and public and the armed forces of the United Nations. And in this connection it should be observed that the Government, for the first time, has gained a full appreciation of the value of the screen in disseminating ideas of international significance, a realisation which is leading to the establishment, for future and permanent procedure, of the relationship of the American film industry to its Government.

Recognition of the industry's record during the war came with the Washington presentation to its leaders of a plaque of "War Accomplishment," with its "Well Done" inscription attested by the Secretaries of the Navy, War and the Treasury.

ANTI-TRUST ACTION.—Wholly dissociated from the war and the peace is the continuing insistency by the Government that no producer-distributor shall also be an exhibitor. The five principal distributor-circuits at the time of writing await the decision of three Federal Court trial judges which will either keep the distribution-exhibition structures of those five companies intact for a quarter of a century, more or less, or will agree with the Government and divorce the theatres—nearly 3,000 of the best houses in 915 cities and towns of the land—thus revolutionising the American industry, its practices and procedure.

There is also pending a Governmental anti-trust suit, filed by the Department of Justice, alleging a monopoly exists in television in which Paramount, Scophony and General Television Equipment are charged with being participants.

TRADE DEVELOPMENTS.—An important development last year was the active participation of several large distributing companies in television. It is obvious that the film industry will eventually be more representative of television than it ever was of radio. It is, however, generally conceded that there is little prospect of large screen theatre television in the immediate future.

The potentialities of the 16 mm. market is exercising all branches of the American industry. Its development promises to be on a tremendous scale and there is little doubt of the ultimate widespread use of 16 mm. film in entertainment, education, business promotion and other quarters.

Greater use of colour in theatre-fare is another factor, with the prediction already made in top industry quarters that practically all films will eventually be coloured.

Then, too, in the electronic field, motion picture sound, lighting, projection, and other phases of operation, stand in the coming months to benefit immensely by the developments made under cloak of war secrecy.

In distribution, one key development is the formation, by several major companies, of their own national service for checking their percentage pictures at theatres, an action taken to further protect their percentage film rentals.

Rank-and-file workers have, in recent months, continued to make sizeable gains in the motion picture industry in salary income.

THEATRES.—Although restrictions on building, equipment and parts have been lifted or are fading, there is a continuing scarcity of materials, and it will be probably another year before there is even an approach to normal supplies.

Meanwhile, exhibition and technical quarters are showing great interest in a pre-fabricated theatre, now being manufactured by interests headed by Charles F. Skouras, chief of the National Theatre Corporation and brother of Spyros Skouras, president of 20th-Fox. The plans embrace models of various capacities, fully equipped, down to a television antennae, an out-front marquee and upright theatre sign, chairs, ornaments, fixtures, etc.—ready to be shipped by truck, train or ship, to any part of the world for assembling with nuts and bolts.

TREND TOWARD UNIT PRODUCING.—In production, the trend is toward a return to the unit production mainly of earlier days; key production-distribution executives are pairing-up in large numbers to form their own independent production companies which release through one of the majors—bringing a marked reduction in the so-called "mass production" by the latter.

Labour trouble which seriously affected production in Hollywood for many months may still flare up anew, with the jurisdictional dispute which originally precipitated the trouble still requiring settlement by the many unions and guilds involved.

The roster of motion picture companies has been increased with the formation of Phil L. Ryan Productions, Sol Lesser Productions (new), Jack Benny Productions, Frank Capra-Samuel Briskin Productions, Sam Wood-Ginger Rogers-Hakin Brothers Productions, William Keighley-Samuel Bischoff Productions, Hal Wallis-Joseph Hazen Productions, Screen Guild Productions (John J. Jones), Story Productions (Hal Horne), United States Pictures (Joseph Bernhard), General Motion Picture Corp. (Charles Chaplin-Arthur Kelly) Eagle-Lion-Pathé Industries, Motion Picture Export Corp., Ben Hecht Productions, Charles Einfeld, United World Pictures (Rank-Universal), Constance Bennett Productions, Gary Cooper Productions, Arrowhead Productions (Mervyn Le Roy), Rainbow Productions (Bing Crosby-Leo McCarey), Liberty Films (Frank Capra-William Wyler-Samuel Briskin), Tower Films (William Keighley-Ralph Jester), Advanced Pictures (Peter Tinturen-Dave Fleischer), Preston Sturges-Howard Hughes Productions Liberty Pictures (William LeBaron and Boris Morros), Popular Pictures (Harry Popkin-Frank Borzage Productions), Alfred Hitchcock-Cary Grant Productions, Robert and Raymond Productions, Robert Riskin Productions, among others.

M.P.P.D.A. PASSES.—The personnel complexion of the industry changed appreciably during the year, a year marked by the decision of Will Harrison Hays to retire from the presidency of the M.P.P.D.A.—but to continue as consultant—and the appointment as his successor of Eric Johnston, head of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who subsequently changed the name of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America to Motion Picture Association of America. Byron Price was appointed a vice-president in charge of Hollywood activities of the organisation.

In the company field, the big news was the merger of the various H. J. Yates production, distribution and laboratory companies into the single Republic Pictures Corp. with Yates as president and James R. Grainger as vice-president; also the establishment by all distribution companies of international subsidiaries to operate abroad for their respective companies.

COMPANY PERSONNEL.—The past year has witnessed many personnel changes among top-ranking executives of the American business.

Hugh Owen has gone back to Paramount and Harvey Day left Terry-Toons. Max Milder won the presidency of Warner Bros. International Corp. and Haskeil Masters got the top sales spot of Warners in Canada. The newsreel won a new editor-in-chief, in the person of Tom Mead. Philip L. Saltonstall and M. A. J. Healy were appointed "film ambassadors" to represent the industry abroad—both as "trouble-shooters."

George Weltner became head of foreign activities of Paramount, and Donald Nelson went from the government to motion pictures to head the Society of Motion Pictures Producers—counterpart of the "Hays Organisation" among independent producers.

Sidney Albright went to Australia for 20th Century-Fox, while Arthur Kelly left J. Arthur Rank's Eagle-Lion, U.S.A., to join Charles Chaplin in a new producing company, and Capt. Harold Auten, V.C., took over at Eagle-Lion.

There were many changes, too, in the top advertising-publicity posts of the American producer-distributors. Robert Gillham left the chief ad. post at Paramount to join an advertising agency. He was succeeded by Curtis Mitchell. Hal Horne left the top 20th-Fox ad. post and was succeeded by Charles Schlaifer. Paul Lazarus, Jr., from the Army resumed his old berth at United Artists. Steve Edwards took over at Republic, when Charles Reed Jones went into other pursuits. Arnold Stoltz is at P.R.C. Pictures, and Monroe Greenthal at Story Productions.

Another of the top ad. posts filled during the year was the promotion of Mort Blumenstock to advertising-publicity-exploitation director of Warner Brothers, to succeed Charles Einfeld, who resigned to enter production.

In other fields of the American motion picture scene went Reeves Espy, to head up production of P.R.C., a post relinquished by Leon Fromkess, who became a production executive with Samuel Goldwyn. Harry Thomas became president of P.R.C. Joseph Bernhardt left Warners to produce.

Al Love, William Levy and Sam Seidelman were assigned to foreign posts for United Artists.

With the death of David Bernstein, Charles C. Moskowitz became treasurer of Loew's and Leopold Friedman, a vice-president. Joseph Vogel was given complete charge of all Loew theatres with Oscar Doob as executive assistant, and Ernest Emerling got Doob's post of advertising-publicity manager of Loew theatres in the U.S.A.

Latest among executive changes is the switch of Carl Leserman to Benedict Bogeaus Productions, and that of Harry Gold to Howard Hughes Productions, both resigning from top sales spots at United Artists. "Joe" Unger has taken over the general sales managership of United Artists.

Steve Broidy acquired the presidency of Monogram Pictures and W. Ray Johnston the chairmanship of the same corporation. Earle W. Hammons, long remembered from Educational Pictures, is now with Ross Federal Service.

Argentina.

THE country has 2,446 kinemas with a total capacity of 1,483,345 seats, to cater for a population of 14,000,000; 192 halls are in Buenos Aires (population 2,600,000).

ORGANISATION: There are nine distribution zones; these are: Central zone, including the capital; Bahia Blanca zone; Rosario zone; Santa Fé zone; Cordoba zone; Northern zone; Cuyo zone; Litoral zone; West zone.

The annual supply of features is up to 500 (maximum), 60 per cent. of which are U.S. films, 25 per cent. Argentinian, 8 per cent. Mexican, the rest European (British, Spanish, French, Russian, etc.). The minimum of films produced in Argentina is about 50 annually, which are widely exported, mainly to other Latin-American countries.

Most important trade organisations are: Sociedad de Empresarios de Cinematografos (exhibitors); Trade Union of the Film Industry (employees of studios and distributing firms); Asociacion Productores de Peliculas Argentinas (producers' association); Association of Actors; Association of Film Critics.

Eight modern and well-equipped studios are in operation: Argentine Sono Film, E.F.A., San Miguel Studios, Rio de la Plata Studios, Pampa Film, Baires Film, S.I.D.E., Palermo Studios. Laboratories: Alex; Christiani; Lumiton; San Miguel Studios; Baires Films; Tecnofilm. The industry enjoys official support; medals are awarded annually by the Government to producers, artists and technicians for the best achievements.

Censorship is confined to aspects of morals and decency and is exercised by the Comision Cinematografica Honoraria de Controlor (Honorary Films Control Commission). Films are graded as follows: (a) suitable for special children's performances; (b) suitable for family performances; (c) performances unsuitable for children; (d) adult performances for persons over the age of 16. The appropriate grading must appear on the film together with its title. Each province of Argentina has its own Censorship Commission, but their verdicts follow those of the commission in the capital. There exists an entertainment tax on film exhibition.

Imports are regulated as follows:—

Unexposed film (film stock)	... 32 per cent. ad valorem plus 10 per cent. additional duty.
Printed films in any language	... 5 pesos in gold plus additional 15 per cent. on the total.

Mexico.

IT is estimated that in excess of one hundred million pesos are invested in the Mexican production industry which dates from little earlier than 1931, when Antonio Moreno produced the first indigenous talkie. Since then 601 features have been produced, the figure for 1945 being 87.

The industry has a strong financial backing by Banco Cinematographico, S.A. and Financiera Cinematografica, S.A.

LEGISLATION.—The Department of the Interior (Gobernacion) passes every script before it can be filmed. Stories considered immoral or against good taste, or subjects degrading to Mexico or any other friendly country are turned down. After a film is completed it has to be censored again before being passed for exhibition and export.

Taxation in Mexico City runs as high as 16 per cent. of the gross: in other places in the interior as high as 25 per cent. of the gross.

QUOTA.—Each theatre of Class AA must show one Mexican film at least every two months, but there is, at present, no need for enforcing this law because of the good quality of Mexican product.

IMPORT REGULATIONS.—There are no restrictions on foreign film imports. There is, however, a difference in import duties dependent upon whether the dialogue is in English or Spanish. Duty on Spanish dialogue films is eight pesos per kilo, whereas the duty on English language subjects is twenty pesos per kilo.

STUDIOS.—Two studios are now in full operation: Clasa and Azteca. They have 10 and 18 sound-proof stages, respectively, equipped with the latest word in apparatus (R.C.A., Western Electric, etc.). Three more studios are under construction: Churubusco, with RKO-Radio of U.S.A. controlling 40 per cent. of the capital, the rest is held by Mexican producers, among them theatrical and radio magnate Emilio Azcarraga. The studio is already operating, but will not be completed until the middle of this year. It will then have 18 sound-proof stages, partly for own production, partly for letting to independent producers. Central Cinematographica, a few miles distant, will eventually possess eight modernly equipped sound stages, laboratories, recording rooms, etc. They, too, will produce their own films. A third studio in Tepeyac, which will have 12 sound proof stages when it is completed by the end of 1946. It will also be available to independent producers. Monogram Pictures is to produce there in Spanish.

ORGANISATIONS.—There are two Trade Unions: The Sindicato de Trabajadores de la Industria Cinematografica (S.T.I.C.) represents the distribution and exhibition end, the other the production end including actors, technicians, directors, writers, etc.

There is a big organisation with branches all over Central and South America: Peliculas de Mexico, S.A., formed by the four strongest producing companies: Clasa, Grovas, Filmundiales and Filmex.

SURVEY OF EUROPE.

BY SPECIAL CONTRIBUTORS AND Kine CORRESPONDENTS.

Belgium.

WITH 1,100 kinemas serving a population of 8,000,000 inhabitants, Belgium has relatively the highest proportion of kinemas in Europe. By decree of February, 1946, admission prices were fixed at a rate three times above the 1939 level. Prices now range from 20 to 30 francs in the cities, and from 7 to 15 francs in other places. The annual consumption of feature films is roughly 300, grossing a total of 1,000,000 Belgium francs. From three to ten prints of each film are employed.

DISTRIBUTION.—Rentals are upon a percentage basis of from 50 per cent. (first runs) to 35 per cent. on the grosses. The control is strict and effective. Generally, 80 per cent. of these takings are remitted from the renters to the producers.

There exists no appreciable production in Belgium apart from documentaries. The only major studio is Studio Sonart at Brussels with one stage only. The principal laboratories available for producers are Laboratoires Dassonville.

IMPORT REGULATIONS.—There are no legal restrictions on the import of foreign films.

CENSORSHIP AND TAXATION.—Before the war, the taxation was twelve centimes per seat in the average. It now touches 8.60 per cent. of admittances ranging from 7 to 8 francs, 14.50 per cent. from 8 to 12 francs, 18.60 per cent. from 12 to 14 francs, and 23.25 per cent. from 14 to 30 francs admittances. It is estimated that an average of 20 per cent. on the takings is absorbed by taxation. The control is rigorous; tickets are numbered and regularly identified by the tax authority.

Censorship: An official Commission of Control of Films has been functioning for many years for the purpose of deciding whether the films may be seen by youths under the age of 16. There is also a security censorship, primarily military in character, which not only censors newsreels only but also is concerned with all forms of production and distribution. The regulation of January 21, which covers this censorship, stipulates that a detailed declaration must be made to the Ministry of National Defence in respect of all films produced with a view to public projection.

Bulgaria.

A LARGE measure of Government control is foreshadowed in Bulgaria, the Government of which is considering the establishment of a national film organisation, the general and technical direction of which would be entrusted to Soviet experts.

The Russian influence in presentation is preponderant: practically every one of the regular Soviet imports obtains screen time. Since November, 1945, several American films were reissued and by the end of the year a number of new U.S. subjects had been shown.

The first Bulgarian film to be shown since the war was "Better Days To Come," starring Assen Kambourov of the Bulgarian National Theatre. It shows good technical qualities.

Czechoslovakia.

AFTER the liberation of the country, the administration of the film industry was transferred from the Ministry of Commerce to the Ministry of Information, and at the same time the business in all its branches was nationalised; Minister V. Kopecky is in charge of the State film monopoly.

The aggregate number of kinemas before the war was 1,400; at present approximately 800 are open. War destruction was on a small scale and confined mainly to Slovakia and the frontier districts of Moravia.

The principal Czech studios, Barando Studios at Prague, were extended, during the German occupation, to the largest and best equipped studios on the Continent. They were taken over intact, but part of them, later on, destroyed by a fire. Some stages have been let for the production of Russian films, but Czech production has also started.

Film import and export, like all other activities of the industry, are handled by the State Monopoly; in charge of this branch is the Plenipotentiary of the Import and Export of Films, J. Elbl. Through this machinery, a record figure of 97 British films was bought in 1945. They have found a very ready reception with Czech audiences, partly with record first runs. The Czechs have their own laboratory in London for sub-titling.

Denmark.

By Kris Winther.

THERE are 430 kinemas in the country, of which 52 are located in Copenhagen; the total represents a proportion of one theatre to every 9,000 of the population. In addition to these static kinemas there are also 17 itinerant exhibitors in the more sparsely inhabited areas.

Although exhibition in Denmark is ostensibly in the hands of the individual exhibitor, it is very closely controlled by the State. A licence is necessary to run a house, and is generally granted as an "award." The system in effect results in an effective brake on redundancy. There is a State tax of 40 per cent. on all sold products and also a special taxation scale on exhibitors which, with other demands, may bring taxation up to 80 per cent. of the net receipts. There is also a tax on poster and still advertising. Moreover, the Price Control Board has its say in the management of picture houses—as it fixes prices. With all this intervention from the side of the State many exhibitors feel that they are little more than robots.

During the past year there were 148 releases, as compared with 323 during the 1938-39 period. They included 14 Danish, 48 American (as against 219), 13 British (15), 34 Swedish (12), 20 German (27), 5 Hungarian (nil). The Danish releases would have been considerably greater but for the lack of new stock.

Pictures run longer than even in the pre-war years. The British (pre-war) George Formby picture "It's In the Air," is now running its thirty-third consecutive week at the same theatre.

The shortage in release houses will be the greatest difficulty against which the new Eagle-Lion Distributing Office, in Copenhagen, will have to contend. Competition from Danish side was to all practical purposes reduced to nil as no Danish production company possessed a single foot of raw film. American pictures may, for a short while, compete until the 48 released features are played out; after that, the currency restrictions, allowing no American dollars for import of pictures, and the new American demands for higher rentals, should open the Danish market wide for British product.

It is difficult to forecast the future. New legislation can be expected that, to some degree at any rate, will make it possible to show American pictures in Denmark. The only certainty regarding 1946 is that British product will make enormous strides.

France.

ALTHOUGH much has been done toward the rehabilitation of the French industry, the position is still extremely critical both as regards exhibition and production.

Before the war there were about 5,000 kinemas in metropolitan France and 347 in North Africa. Of the former some 400 were more or less destroyed during the war, and the remainder need extensive repair both as regard fabric and equipment. The situation of the studios and laboratories is just as bad, and under the circumstances the quality of the current product is a tribute to the ingenuity and skill of technicians.

High Government taxation has aggravated the position. It is estimated that taxation revenue for 1945 will reach approximately Frs. 3,000,000,000, which added to the direct and indirect imposts borne by producers, distributors and the whole man-power of the Industry will bring up the Government receipts from this one industry to a total of nearly Frs. 5,000,000,000. This crushing taxation is having its effect on production, which shows a heavy deficit, in the result that investment in the French film business is no longer regarded as safe.

IMPORTS.—International Agreements are being sought in respect to the import of foreign product. Meanwhile the situation is confused. At the present an import licence is required for the distribution and presentation of foreign films, but until the Agreements are settled their operation is deferred. Details of the proposals are not available, but it is generally thought that they will be based on screen quota.

STRUCTURE OF THE INDUSTRY.—The French industry is controlled by the Directeur-General du Cinema Francais, the Films Division of the Ministry of Information, of which M. Fourre-Cormeray is director with M. Reidinger as co-director in charge of legal and financial matters.

There are four departments in the Films Division: (a) Feature Production Bureau, (b) Documentary production, (c) Legal and Finance, which deals with contracts and the financing of State-aided films, (d) Export and Import, which covers foreign relations, and exhibition abroad. There is also the "Commission superieure technique" which is concerned with the provision of facilities for the industry in general. The French film library is also controlled by the Director-General, who is in charge of its budget. Another responsibility of the Director-General is the Institute des Hautes Etudes Cinematographiques—a State department for the training of technicians, artists and directors.

Censorship, although a special department, presided over by a State Counsellor, is also ultimately responsible to the Minister of Information. The composition of the Commission includes delegates from seven of the National Ministries and seven representatives of various branches of the film industry, patrons and critics.

ADMINISTRATION.—The industry is administered by the Office Professionnel du Cinema, formed August 28, 1945; members are nominees of the Ministry of Information, and M. Acoulon, the director-general of the French Cinema Industry has been named director. This organisation consists of the following departments: legal, technical, raw stock, casting, exhibition of 35 and 16 mm. films, distribution, production, control of theatre takings, control of films, and an organisation dealing with Social and Welfare Services.

The official French organisation has instituted a number of film missions in foreign capitals. These are already functioning in London, New York, Rome, Prague, and in the near future offices will be opened in the Middle East and South America.

BRITISH FILMS.—The Information Service attached to the British Embassy has recently founded a "Film Department" comprising technicians and specialists who have lived and worked in France before the war, and are therefore thoroughly aware of the feelings and taste of the French public. In co-operation with more than 20 French distribution concerns British Film Department has presented in France an important series of English productions during the year.

NEWSREELS.—Newsreel activities during the occupation were centred in the German sponsored "France-Actualities" which subsequently was taken over as the Société des Actualités Française with M. Mercanton as chairman. The arrangement terminated on December 17, from which date this will free circulation of all newsreels—including foreign product.

SUB-STANDARD EXHIBITION.—It is generally accepted that there are about 6,000 situations regularly served by 16 mm. exhibitors, mostly using mobile apparatus. Hitherto, there has been little attempt to control their activities, but early legislation is expected whereby these itinerant exhibitors will be placed under the same control as 35 mm. exhibitors. They will have to be licensed by the competent department of the Ministry of Information.

TRADE UNIONS.—After the liberation various classes of workers grouped themselves into syndicates; of which there are a great number widespread over the country.

CINEMA CENTRE.—The Cinema Centre is a private concern constituted in the form of a Limited Company. Its aim is to collect and keep up to date all information and statistics concerning the Film Industry in France and abroad. The Centre lays its knowledge at the disposition of any member of the profession who may require it, whether it be to do with legal, income tax, technical, artistic matters, etc. The Centre also has its own Press Agency which releases news about the French film industry at home and abroad. It publishes a periodical under the title of "The Courier du Centre du Cinema." Situated right in the centre of Paris near the Rond Point des Champs Elysées, it provides comfortable offices, where one can consult almost any paper published anywhere in the world dealing with the kinema.

Germany and Austria.

BOTH countries under Allied occupation are divided into four zones of occupation. Conditions in each zone differ widely. A general survey of kinemas operating or of the total of films being distributed in both countries has, under present conditions, not yet been possible.

The Political Intelligence Department of the Foreign Office (German and Austrian Division) has been supplying British films for exhibition in Germany. They have been distributed by a special Film Section of the Control Commissions for Germany and Austria respectively. The same films are supplied to the British zones of both Germany and Austria. Twelve British feature films were prepared during 1945 and another twelve for the first quarter of 1946 by the P.I.D. Beside them, a number of documentaries were prepared by the M. of I. and the British Council. The P.I.D. prepared German commentaries. There has been an exchange of films between various Allied zones recorded in England.

Selected and censored German produced films have been shown in many kinemas in both countries. Special and very successful screenings have been arranged for "Henry V," which has stimulated the demand for British films.

A special German newsreel production is run by an Anglo-American unit in Munich; the newsreels are composed of generally available news material and of material supplied by local camera teams. Editing and printing is done in Munich.

Apart from the newsreel production, all the work (selecting, subtitling, spotting, printing) has so far been carried out in England. But, as technical facilities become available, more and more of the work will be transferred to Germany and Austria. British films will be synchronised with German dialogue. Three German firms in Hamburg have been licensed, and in Berlin the British controlled Mars studios and laboratories at Spandau have been re-equipped for synchronising, sub-titling and printing British films.

Holland.

THE Order in Council made in London in 1944 by the Netherlands Government which established a film import and distributing organisation and limited film imports was successfully challenged in 1945 by the Nederlandsche Bioscoop Board, the trade organisation which hitherto controlled the industry. The Order was rescinded in September, and the Board's regulations for the trade received royal assent. Chief among the agreed provisions were the elimination of rentals at set prices and their limitation to between 17½ and 32½ per cent. on a maximum of six pictures a contract.

The result of these restrictions is the withdrawal from the Board of all American companies which previously possessed their own organisation in Holland. American films, however, are demanded by the public, and it is confidently expected that a way out of the difficulty will shortly be found.

Meanwhile, the market is dominated by pre-1939 product from France and Britain and a number of Columbia, United Artists and Universal pictures handled by independent Dutch renters. The total stock of 300 pictures is considered to be sufficient to meet the current needs of the 379 cinemas in the country.

An interesting development is in the establishment of Eagle-Lion Film-Mij., which, under the management of Job Weening, has already been accepted as a member of the Board. The company is distributing the Rank output and also the British product formerly handled by S.H.A.E.F. of the international news-reel "De Vrije Wereld" (Free world).

Business during 1945 has been excellent, and, notwithstanding heavy taxation and increased cost of overheads, net profits are satisfactory.

There are 379 cinemas, the average capacity being 515 seats. Entertainment Tax amounts to 20 per cent. Double bills have disappeared from the market.

With the exception of two Dutch news-reels—Polygoon and Profilti—and some shorts, there is no domestic production. The pre-war film studios—Filmstad, at the Hague, and Cinetone, at Amsterdam—were gutted by the Germans.

Censorship is in the hands of the Government. Before the war there were two boards—a Government board and a Roman Catholic one for Brabant and Limburg, but their activities were merged during the war, and the system has been continued since.

Hungary.

THE War has taken heavy toll of Kinemas in Hungary: although precise figures are not available, it is estimated that there are not more than 300 theatres in the country, of which some 65 are in Budapest itself. Considerable changes have taken place. Owing to the disappearance of many of the former proprietors, Kinema properties have been transferred to the five main political parties and other organisations. There is, however, no question of nationalising the Industry.

Most kinemas show Russian pictures preponderantly, although American product is in great demand by patrons.

Rehabilitation of the Film Industry is taking place. Since August 1, a new Censorship Board has been established mainly composed of intellectuals with Dr. Endre Szebenyi, Councillor of the Ministry of the Interior, at its head. Old trade associations have also been disbanded and have been succeeded by the Hungarian Film Industry Association and a trade union of film employees—to name two of the most powerful.

Preparations for a revival of Hungarian productions are well in hand, notwithstanding the destruction wrought by the Germans and Hungarian Nazis. There are two big studios—Hunnia and Mafirt. Hunnia is now controlled by Victor Gertla, formerly assistant to Eric Pommer, who is also in charge of the Government-sponsored film college, which already has 150 film students. Mafirt is under the management of Akusius Hamza, leading figure in the resistance movement, with, as commercial manager, Stefan Kovacs, who was also engaged in anti-Nazi activities.

Chief distributors outside the American agencies, are Hungarian Film Industry A.G., and Mafirt. The latter, which took over the premises and organisation of the former Hungarian Film Bureau, exclusively distribute all Russian films and many native and French pictures, and also the new Hungarian newsreel. As imports are still restricted there is a good market for recovery of Hungarian product.

Five American companies—M-G-M, 20th-Fox, Universal, Paramount, and Warner's—run their own branches. There was a total of 49 American features in circulation by last autumn.

Italy.

UNTIL the end of hostilities, supply of films was in the hands of the Psychological Warfare Department (P.W.D.) of S.H.A.E.F., under combined Anglo-American supervision; but with the gradual transfer of administration of the Italian government, Italian distributing firms have restarted their activities. Releases, however, are mainly re-issues.

The American companies are now re-opening and are planning distribution of new products. Most of the "dubbing" will be done in Italy. E.B.D., a private company, has been formed to distribute Russian films exclusively.

Under the fascist régime all branches of the trade were subject to strict State control. Almost all the regulations imposed have been withdrawn. Compulsory "dubbing" of foreign films and "dubbing" taxation have been cancelled, the planned film exports monopoly no longer exists, and racial, religious and political restrictions on individuals are abolished.

A preventive censorship of all film scripts scheduled for production has been established, but will cease at the end of the first year after the end of hostilities. All completed films, however, are submitted to the regular censorship and production of newsreels is subject to approval by the authorities.

Italian films are privileged in respect of kinema tax; there is a refund of 10 per cent. on the grosses, with an additional 4 per cent. if a film is acknowledged of "artistic value" by the Commission concerned.

About 20 per cent. of Italy's kinemas were destroyed or damaged during the war. Some have been reopened, but an even greater number are still requisitioned by the government, particularly major halls in the big cities.

Poland.

THE few remnants of the Polish Film Industry were nationalised after the liberation. A comprehensive organisation, "Film Polski," was formed to embrace all sections of the trade.

This action on the part of the Government was due to the inability of private interests to cope with the huge task of rehabilitation. Out of 800 kinemas only 120 were intact after the war, there were no studios and neither raw stock nor equipment.

There was no expropriation but exhibitors were invited to carry on as managers of their respective kinemas. Since the end of the war 235 theatres have been built bringing up the total to 335 by October, 1945.

One studio is opening at Lodz and two others are under construction at Warsaw. There is also a plan for a film city at Warsaw with six studios and ancillary departments. A laboratory has been opened at Warsaw equipped with Multiplex Debrie equipment to handle shorts—mainly instructionals, feature production however is contemplated in the near future.

The creation of a Film Institute for the training of technicians, artists, etc., is envisaged.

Soviet Republics.

By Ivan Bolshakov.

Chairman of the Comitétee on Cinematography of the Council of People's Commissars of the U.S.S.R.

KINEMATOGRAPHY in the Soviet Union is planned and financed by the Government. The production and distribution of motion pictures, the construction of kinemas, as well as the production of kinema apparatus and film are controlled by the Cinematography Committee of the Council of People's Commissars of the U.S.S.R.

There are 15,500 kinemas in the Soviet Union, besides a large number of institutional installations in clubs, schools, etc., serving primarily members of the various trade unions and colleges, etc. By the end of the fourth "Five-Year Plan," in 1950, it is estimated that the number of kinemas in the first category will reach 50,000, and with a proportional expansion of the institutional unions, there will be approximately a total of 65,500 theatres in the union.

Soviet audiences are demanding more musical and comedy films. And this explains why such musicals as "Grand Waltz" and other films of this type enjoyed such success in the Soviet Union; 10 foreign films were demonstrated on Soviet screens, in 1945, with varying degrees of interest.

The import and export of films is handled by a special organisation—"Soyuzintorgkino"—under the auspices of the Cinematography Committee. It has the right to sell Soviet films and purchase the most interesting and worth-while foreign films for the Soviet screen. There is no doubt that the import of foreign films will increase from year to year.

Feature films are produced at 14 studios: Mosfilm, Soyusdetfilm (for children's films), Stereokino (for stereoscopic films) and Soyuzmultfilm (for animated cartoons). All these are in Moscow. Lenfilm had studios in Leningrad and in Sverdlovsk, Tbilisi, Baku, Erevan, Alma-Ata, Tashkent, Ashkhabad and Kiev. Studios in Minsk and Riga are now being reconstructed. Two studios in Odessa and Yalta on the Black Sea coast specialise in marine nature scenes.

The All-Union State Institute of Cinematography trains directors, actors, cameramen, artists, and scenario writers. A special "Kinema Actors' Theatre " has been set up in Moscow under the management of I. Sudakov, one of the most eminent Russian stage directors, to enable motion picture actors to keep abreast of the latest developments in their art.

The 1945 plan provides for the release of over 50 full-length films with the total footage of approximately 150,000 metres. This does not include scientific and technical films, news shorts, and documentaries, or the numerous newsreels.

The development and perfection of the technical aspects of the kinema, particularly in regard of sound and stereoscopic pictures has been the subject of considerable research. Blue-light recording, and the introduction of directional sound and the experiments in ferro-magnetic recording, are lines upon which considerable progress is reported. Work is also in progress on the production of control and measuring instruments.

The appreciation of colour is also receiving close attention. The first Soviet colour picture, "Solovey Solovushko," was produced by a two-colour process, but since 1941 a three-colour system has been utilised, originally mainly in shorts and cartoons, but in 1945 the full possibilities of the new process were illustrated in a feature subject, "Ivan Nikulin—a Russian Sailor." All these films were produced by the hydrotype method which has been developed in the Soviet Union. At the same time, laboratories have been experimenting also with photography by the multi-layer film method.

Notable progress has also been made in the development of the stereoscopic kinema. Four years ago the first picture was made embodying the principles invented by S. Ivanov (which has already been referred to in these columns). The war, however, interrupted further research in this field, but in collaboration with A. Andrievsky, research has been renewed, and the Industry now possesses the virtual and practical solution to the problem of Stereoscopy not requiring any viewing devices.

Spain.

The total amount of capital invested in the Spanish film industry is estimated at the equivalent of between 50 and 60 million pounds.

There are approximately 3,500 kinemas in Spain. Programmes are supplied partly by imports, partly by Spanish production. New import regulations which came into operation on May 1, 1946, fixed the number of foreign films to be imported at 180 a year—of which 120 will be American, the remaining 60 to be shared by all other countries. Spanish studios produced 36 full-length features, 10 shorts, 27 cartoons and 130 documentaries in 1944.

Most of the studios are controlled by the following principal groups: Cinematografia Espanola Americana S.A.; Compania Industrial Film Espanol S.A.; Charmartin Producciones y Distribuciones Cinematograficas S.A.; and Sevilla Films S.A.

Taxation on films is 25.926% on the gross takings of the kinemas. In addition, there is a 3.75% taxation on the amount payable to the distributing firms.

Sweden.

By Sven G. Winquist.

DURING the War, Swedish exhibitors have enjoyed considerable prosperity, and in 1945 Sweden has proved one of the most lucrative of foreign film markets. There are 2,351 kinema theatres in the country, an increase of 107 over 1944.

The Swedish people are enthusiastic film-goers and their likes are catholic. The only exceptions are horror films—three of these were banned by the Censor during the year and some of the more sentimental American films. There is a noticeable revulsion against war themes. By and large, comedies are the most popular fare for Sweden.

A record run for the country was achieved by "Going My Way," which ran for 40 weeks at the same theatre. Another big success was "A Song to Remember," while the British film "Pygmalion," on its re-issue at Sture, this summer, played for more than three months.

Releases between January 1 and November 26 numbered 283, the largest proportion of which were American (193). Swedish producers were represented by 35 films, Britain by 21, and Russia by 13. Our varied film taste is illustrated by the fact that in addition to the above, the product of the following countries were also screened: Denmark, 7; Germany, 4; France, 4; Italy, 2; Mexico, 1; Finland, 1; Czecho-Slovakia, 1; and Switzerland, 1.

A Swedish-controlled distributing company, of which Mr. Greiff is president, has been formed under the title of Svenska A-B Sovietfilm, mainly to distribute Russian products.

Switzerland.

THERE exists no federal legislation (apart from film import regulations as mentioned below) in the Swiss Federation, but a federal Bill is now under consideration with the Swiss Chamber of Motion Pictures (Langgasstrasse 8, Berne), which is a federal organisation covering all branches of the film trade.

The different Swiss cantons regulate all technical matters such as fire prevention, building regulations, etc.

There are about 40 film producers in the Verband Schweizerischer Filmproduzenten (Producers' Association), Rennweg 59, Zurich, but only Praesens Film A.G., Zurich, are regular producers of features, their latest two being "Marie Louise" and "The Last Chance." The others are mainly occupied with making shorts—instructionals, industrial films, etc.

There exist 38 distributing companies, represented by their organisation: Film Verleiher Verband der Schweiz, Marktgasse 37, Berne. They are largely distributing agencies of foreign films. There is an agreement between the Renters' and the Exhibitors' associations to the effect that only member firms are in a position to distribute or to show films respectively. The total of cinemas is 235 in the German and Italian-speaking areas, organised within the Schweizerischer Lichtspieltheater Verband, Bahnhofstrasse 89, Zurich, and 119 in the French-speaking area, organised within the Association Cinematographique Suisse Romande, 6, rue du Lion d'Or, Lausanne.

The import of feature films is subject to a quota based upon the import figures of the years from 1935 to 1938, with a view to protecting the independent distributors and to regulating imports generally. It is thus almost impossible to establish new distributing firms since only those importers already established in the years 1935—1938 are entitled to a share in the quota. The requirements are fully satisfied by the existing firms.

THE EMPIRE OVERSEAS.

Australia.

ALTHOUGH the number of features (1,588) imported into Australia during the year showed a reduction of 77 compared with the previous year, the total footage showed an increase of 70,222 feet, and the number of reels handled and projected increased by 292. The number imported from the United States increased by 5 per cent. to 55.4 per cent. of the whole, which is still considerably below the percentage of the previous eight years; those from the United Kingdom rose by .9 per cent. to 32.4 per cent., the highest percentage yet recorded; whilst importations from other countries fell by 1.4 per cent. to 12.2 per cent. Ministry of Information shorts, industrial and Service Training films of British origin account for much of the increase.

Sub-standard films imported increased by 41.65 per cent., and, although the number is still only 44.48 per cent. of the number imported in 1939, the total footage during the year represents 71.83 per cent. of that handled during 1939. This continued increase is mainly due to Service Training films, and a greater number of commercial advertising films.

Feature Films	1941		1942		1943		1944
United States ..	412	89.6	355	90.5	323	89.2	335	87.5
United Kingdom ..	47	10.2	34	8.7	29	8.0	36	9.4
Other countries ..	1	.2	3	.8	10	2.8	12	3.1
Totals ..	460		392		362		383

CENSORSHIP.—Only one feature film was rejected by the censorship in the first instance during the year, a percentage of .3, this being the lowest on record. An appeal was dismissed by the Appeal Censor, but subsequently the Chief Censor approved an application and plan for reconstruction of the film. The film as reconstructed was passed, creating the unprecedented position of no absolute rejection during the year.

There was also the new high record of 94.4 per cent of films being passed in their entirety. This satisfactory state of affairs does not denote a lowering of censorship standards in Australia, but a gradual raising of standards by producers over a period of years.

The percentages of final rejections of feature films produced in Britain and America during the last five years are tabulated hereunder:—

	1940	1941	1942	1943	1944
United States	2.48	1.4	.8	.3	Nil
United Kingdom	3.2	—	—	—	Nil

FILM PRODUCTION.—In addition to several short documentary films produced by the Department of Information during the year, the feature length film "Rats of Tobruk" was completed by Charles Chauvel. Two other feature length films, "The Overlanders" (made by Harry Watt for Ealing Studios), and "Smithy" (Columbia Pictures Pty., Ltd.), depicting the life of the late Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, are in course of production in Australia.

NEW SOUTH WALES FILMS COMMISSION ENQUIRY.—As a result of the public enquiry conducted by the New South Wales Films Commission, an agreement was entered into between the State Government and the New South Wales Branch of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association with regard to screening of a certain type of film at children's sessions. With the co-operation of the distributors, and exhibitors, a campaign was launched to make the public conscious of censorship classification, and thereby afford discerning parents and guardians, through Press and radio advertising, a reliable guide as to the type of films included in every programme. No new legislation has been enacted as a result of the enquiry.

Canada.

THE highlight of the year was the personal visit to Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal of J. Arthur Rank for a personal conference with Paul Nathanson, his co-partner in Odeon Theatres of Canada, Ltd., and Eagle-Lion Films of Canada, Ltd., both with headquarters in Toronto. It has been a year of startling British film-trade developments in both Canada and the United States.

Eagle-Lion Films of Canada was established with distributing facilities from coast to coast for the handling of British films. John Davis, personal ambassador of Arthur Rank, twice visited Toronto for conferences to assist in organisation details, and, at the year's end, there was announcement of still another visit by the British Odeon co-managing director, who has made an excellent impression among Canadians because of his personal and business-like qualities.

Although 1945 saw the end of the Second Great War, the theatre situation remained static. Building programmes had long since been prepared by circuit companies and other proprietors, but actual construction along any substantial scale appeared to be yet a long way off.

The Dominion Government's wartime ban on civilian construction remained in effect until December, when officialdom took fright over the uncontrollable mounting of unemployment figures. By wiping off the prohibition on "non-essential" construction, the Government tossed the employment responsibility to private enterprise, but it knew full well that the problem of supply of building materials was still critical. Thus the transition period from war to peace may continue strained until the autumn of 1946.

Odeon Theatres of Canada has prepared plans for big theatres in the larger cities, and has dropped the original plan of buying small kinemas, which was a wartime necessity because of restrictive conditions. A "Five-Year Plan" has been prepared for the building of impressive structures in large cities where the result for British product will be maximum. The lack of important theatres in such cities as Toronto and Montreal has been an admitted weakness of Odeon's Canadian organisation, and the new plan involves the building of a chain of theatres in key positions from Halifax to Vancouver.

The same factors would, and do, affect all companies, including Famous Players Canadian Corp., which has intimated erection of 25 new theatres—a more conservative building programme than was anticipated two years previously.

The static condition of the Canadian exhibition field, due to the more important consideration of hostilities, is noted in the fact that the number of kinemas remained constant at fewer than 1,300 for approximately four years. Equipment of these theatres has become worn and the replacement of projection and sound equipment, air-conditioning and heating plants, seats, carpets and furnishings, as well as general repairs and improvements, have become as urgent as the erection of new buildings.

One new film exchange structure was occupied during the 12 months by Columbia Pictures of Canada at Toronto, and a similar building has been many months in the construction stage for Warner Bros. Both have been required because of revised film-handling regulations of the Ontario Government.

The new studio near Toronto for a Nathanson-Rank producing unit has been months in preparation, and it will be well into 1946 before the production stage is reached.

An important 1946 development was the start of Odeon Movie Clubs for Young Canadians, similar to the Odeon Juvenile organisation in Britain. The step met with instant and widespread public favour in the Dominion because its appearance coincided with the spread of a youth problem in many sections of the country, timed with the finale of the war. The truth is that, if it had not been for the Odeon Club movement, with its ideals, which was copied by theatres other than Odeon, there might have been serious complaint against the kinema for contributing to juvenile trouble. In connection with the Odeon movement and its duplication by others, President J. J. Fitzgibbons of Famous Players declared openly he was not hesitant in copying "a good idea."

Publicity for the British product and British screen personnel continued to be relatively meagre in 1946, but the remedy for a condition about which there had been published complaint was noted in the last week of the year in the announcement of the appointment of L. M. Graburn, for some years in the R.C.A.F., as director of advertising and publicity at Toronto for Odeon Theatres. Graburn is a veteran of the film trade, previously long in the employ of Famous Players, and is qualified to tell Canadians about British film people.

Thus, up and down the line, the British film organisation is taking full shape in Canada and the country obviously is standing at the threshold of an era in which British pictures, in appropriate surroundings, should enjoy a great measure of popular success!

India.

THE past year brought a tremendous boom to the Indian film industry.

At the end of 1944 restrictions on imports and dollar remittances were completely removed, and with the arrival of British and American forces to the bases of South-east Asia Command both Indian and imported English-speaking films played to capacity business wherever shown.

It is anticipated that this business will continue well into 1946, and although a fall-off is expected, it will remain on a much higher level than before the war.

The Government has made a severe check of fire precautions and regulations concerning the storage of film following several major film fire disasters. The most serious was that which started in the film vaults of the Paramount office in Bombay, which resulted in 17 deaths, including that of the S. N. Ganguli, local managing director of the company.

The Directorate of Services Kinematography, a unit formed in India Command in 1944, became well established in 1945, and, working in close co-operation with the Indian K.R.S., did a good job providing the troops with film entertainment in the forward areas.

Toward the end of 1944, J. Arthur Rank acquired controlling interest in British Distributors (India), Ltd. The deal was finalised by E. T. Carr, who made a personal inspection of the territory with the local managing director, G. F. Rearden.

Another important development was the formation of an Indian equipment company, G.B.-Kalee, Ltd., in which the Rank group has a considerable holding along with two Bombay business houses, Tatas and Forbes Campbell, to market G.B.-Kalee products throughout India, Burma and Ceylon.

An extensive kinema building programme is planned. Applications for 30 new kinema licences have been made to the Calcutta Corporation. A similar condition exists in Bombay.

The transfer of the S.E.A.C. G.H.Q., to Ceylon caused a boom in this country, which has started to fall off now that the H.Q. has moved to Singapore.

Burma, it is considered, will remain an insignificant market for a long time. Rangoon, which, before the war, was a very prosperous though small city from a film earning point of view, is now almost completely out of action. The only hope for immediate business is through open-air or marquee shows. The D.S.K. have taken over the only two kinemas that are usable for military screenings. It is estimated that it will be two years at least before any new kinemas will be built.

New Zealand.

DURING the year the New Zealand Film Censorship examined 1,560 films; 361 feature length and 1,199 shorts. The countries of origin of the feature films were as follows: Great Britain, 49; Australia, 1; Russia, 1; United States, 310.

Miniature or 16-mm. films examined totalled 104, a considerable increase compared with the number presented in the previous year—namely, 51.

Applications made for provisional and assistant operators' licences totalled 176, compared with 180 for the previous year. Sixty-eight new provisional licences and 114 new assistant operators' licences were issued. This made a total of 1,212 operators and 752 assistant operators licensed since the coming into force of the regulations in 1938. The following licences were also issued under the Cinematograph Films Act: Exhibitors, 465; Itinerant Exhibitors, 26; Renters, 16; Storage, 11; Miscellaneous, 12.

South Africa.

BOOM conditions during the war, which made larger audiences available to the kinema, temporarily counteracted the over-seating problem which was becoming acute in 1939.

In the post-war years this problem will be solved to some degree by the recent film deals between the Schlesinger organisation and the three major companies, 20th Century-Fox, Paramount and Warners. The Rank organisation's films are also being screened by African Theatres and this will result in a definite fillip for British productions in South Africa.

The relaxation of the transport curfew has enabled kinemas to revert to normal running times. High entertainment taxes will keep admission prices up and attendances are bound to fall away as demobilisation proceeds, war factories close and refugees leave. The closer co-operation now existing between film interests in South Africa will, however, enable the Industry to face the difficult post-war period with considerable optimism.

THIS SPEAKS FOR ITSELF !

"Dear Mr. Benson,

As a result of our advertisement in the 'Kine,' we have been inundated with enquiries and orders for the 'Wardourplas' Screen and 35 mm. rewinders, not only for the home market, but to our surprise from far distant places such as the U.S., Canada, India, Africa, Ceylon, S. America, Portugal, etc. . . ."

One advertisement in "Kine" and "Ideal Kinema" reaches everyone in the trade.

CINEMA EQUIPMENT for the HARD-of-HEARING

It's a box-office draw to have ARDENITE aids for the deaf fitted in your Cinema. That has been proved by the large numbers of circuits already using ARDENITE.

With the releasing of Govt. contracts we are now able to offer our newly designed models in greater quantities, but it is still advisable to order well in advance.

The new ARDENITE INTERCOM System saves time between Manager's Office, Box Office, Projection Room, Stage and Cafe.

FILMS REGISTERED UNDER THE ACT.

Official Board of Trade List.

UNDER the new Films Act, Section 6, the Board of Trade must keep a register of films to which the Act applies. By the courtesy of the Editor of the Board of Trade Journal, we are enabled to present a list covering the period from January 1, 1945, to December 31, 1945.

Films, the names of which appear in italics, are parts of series (or serials).

The figures under the heading "Length (feet)" have, in several cases, been altered since the original registration and the corrected figures now appear. Other corrections as notified by the Board of Trade have been made: Br. before the Registered No. indicates a British Film; F., a Foreign Film; and F. is British, but not available for British quota.

KEY TO REGISTRATION PREFIXES.

Br./E. indicates "Registered for the Exhibitors' quota only."

Br./R. indicates "Registered for the Exhibitors' and Renters' quotas."

Br./Dr. indicates "Registered for the Exhibitors' quota and doubled for the Renters' quota."

Br./Tr. indicates "Registered for the Exhibitors' quota and trebled for the Renters' quota."

DOCUMENTARY FILMS IN THE POST WAR FIELD

By LEONARD WALLACE.

DURING the war years the documentary film, with the solid backing of the M. of I., has done a vigorous job of propaganda with pictures that have been, on the whole, of high standard, although there have been some that have committed the sin of dullness.

Unfortunately, the agreement between the C.E.A. and M. of I. which ensured a steady showing for these pictures on the screens of England has had upon both exhibitors and public an effect which may have far-reaching consequences. Both have come to regard documentaries—and they can scarcely be blamed if they lump Food and Fuel Flashes in with them—as doses of medicine, to be taken at regular intervals but hardly enjoyed.

The propaganda need of the war years has, therefore, done the documentary producer poor service. In his relationship with exhibitor and public it has put him back to the pre-war days of the old prejudice against the non-story film. And this is the more unfortunate because both exhibitors and public have been impressed with the best of the documentaries produced during war-time.

There are exhibitors who believe that, given a free hand in the matter of booking, they could build up in their patrons a strong affection for documentary pictures—but only if they have free choice of subject. The modified terms of agreement arrived at between the C.E.A. and the M. of I., in November, 1945, represent a good step towards that ideal.

It would be better, however, if the onus upon exhibitors to show documentaries could be completely removed. This would inevitably mean a sharp falling-off in the number of films of actuality shown—and it would certainly mean a quick end to pot-boilers in the documentary field. But in the long run, if the documentary producers can provide films of the right quality, they will win bookings on sheer merit, and will then be able to “cash in” on the reputation achieved by the best of the war productions.

Already some pictures have been made that few exhibitors would regret showing. World Wide Pictures, for instance, has produced two fine films on current problems in “Papworth Village Settlement,” the story of the I.B. community; and “To-day and To-morrow,” a fine, humanised picture of the development of agriculture in the Middle East. These films have the human interest and narrative appeal without which no picture can capture public approval. There is a wealth of such subjects with a topical reconstruction flavour for immediate use, but the range is illimitable.

There is additional wide scope for documentary producers in the educational and industrial fields. Here the independent units are likely to face competition from the major producers. G.B. Instructional, of course, has for a long time operated in this field, and there are some ambitious plans on Arthur Rank's future programme for the development of this branch of activity. Howard Thomas, at Pathé, also has plans for films of a similar kind, and has already made a start on production. Generally speaking though, supplying industrial and educational film needs will remain the function of the specialised documentary unit.

As each successive day adds its page of social history to the story of our times, so new subjects for the documentary producer present themselves. And if the film makers keep firmly in mind those points about human interest and story appeal in tackling these subjects, they will certainly find that there is a future for their productions in the commercial theatre.

The Film Producers' Guild, Ltd.—Formed in August, 1944, with E. P. L. Pelly as chairman and joint managing director; A. T. Burlinson as joint managing director; F. A. Hoare as a director, and John M. Ward as secretary.

Its Associates are Verity Films, Ltd. (managing director: A. T. Burlinson). Publicity Films, Ltd. (joint managing directors: Harold Purcell and E. W. Beckett). Merton Park Studios, Ltd. (managing director: F. A. Hoare). Greenpark Productions, Ltd. (Managing director: Ralph Keene). Technique Film Productions (director of production: Ronald H. Riley). Gryphon Films, Sound-Services, Ltd. (managing director: E. P. L. Pelly), and Horizon Films.

The Guild was formed because its Associates believe:—

(1) That films can play a great part in the whole scheme of post-war world rehabilitation, but to play their part effectively the films must be of unquestioned integrity and of the highest possible technical quality.

(2) That such films are best made by small units of experienced technicians, specialising in the type of film for which they are best fitted and believing whole-heartedly in the value of the work they are doing.

(3) That these units, however enthusiastic, cannot function properly without adequate technical facilities and financial stability.

(4) That since adequate technical facilities are beyond the resources of small, unstable units, the key to efficient film production is the establishment of a co-ordinated group of individual production units, each retaining its freedom of expression, but sharing in the financial stability and physical resources of a large organisation.

The Guild's personnel of upwards of 130 principal technicians includes Producers, Directors, Writers, Cameramen and Editors, each with his own individual viewpoint and specialised experience: these are supported by a first-class business organisation and have at their command the facilities and permanent technical staff of the Studios operated by Merton Park Studios, Ltd.

Paul Barralet Productions, Ltd.—The policy of the Company remains unaltered, but has greatly extended its scope. One unit has concentrated on the production of several important Government Films, whilst the Entertainment Shorts Department has turned out many interesting subjects. The present schedule includes several novel items.

Concanen Productions, Ltd.—Derrick de Marney and his Concanen unit continued their work for the British Government, as a result of which many "short" pictures were produced for various Ministries.

Concanen Productions acquired the film rights of Charles Dickens' "Bleak House," Elswyth Thane's "Tryst" and R. F. Delderfield's "Printer's Devil" (a scenario of which is now completed).

Government Contracts include films made on the following subjects: Nursing, Diphtheria Immunisation, Blood Transfusion, Road Safety, Staggered Holidays, War Office "Morale of Troops Abroad," Domestic Help in Hospitals, and, lastly, for the Polish M.O.I., "Roof of America."

Gaumont-British Instructional, Ltd.—In addition to work making films for the Services and Government Departments, Gaumont-British Instructional are engaged at the present time on several productions of an Industrial nature.

Two new major activities which have arisen comparatively recently is the setting up of a complete Children's Films Department, now in production at Walton-on-Thames, in charge of Miss Mary Field (Mrs. A. M. Hankin), and the development of activity at the premises in Soho Square for diagrammatic and general animation work, which are working to capacity. In fact, the G.-B.I. Diagrammatic Department is now one of the largest of its kind in the country.

British Films, Ltd.—During the year several film units have been engaged on technical, scientific and instructional films for Government and commercial users; other units have made propaganda and publicity films. Musical productions are in hand, also subjects in colour.

The equipment side is fulfilling orders for mobile cinema units, power generation equipment, and public address installations. Road shows, to present films to specialised audiences, are continuing, including the outdoor Daylight Cinema Van tour for the National Savings Committee.

PROMPT SERVICE AND MAINTENANCE TO ALL TYPES OF CINE APPARATUS

World Wide Pictures, Ltd.—This Company has achieved a leading position among the producers of documentary films. It has 47 completed films—more than a hundred reels—to its credit, ranging from single reelers to feature-length productions.

The Company was almost exclusively engaged on films for Government Departments during the War, but is now undertaking a number of private contracts. The first of these, "There's A Future In It," has just been completed for the Cotton Board.

Two units are now on location, one on the first parts of a series for the Army Kinematograph Corporation, and the other shooting exteriors for a Ministry of Agriculture Production. Other subjects, including an important one on the motor industry, are now scripting.

The policy of the Company is to make films on educational and social themes with particular reference to the peace-time problems of reconstruction, both in the national and international scene.

World Wide's unit consists of experienced documentary technicians with a wide variety of talents and interests. Film directors include Ken Hughes, Graham Cutts, Mary Francis, Clifford Dymont and Frances Cockburn, and (soon to be released from the Navy) Terry Bishop. Ronnie Anscombe, Geoffrey Williams and Clifford Hornby are the chief cameramen.

Hindle Edgar has recently left his production management job to join Jimmy Carr and Ralph Bond as producer.

Crown Film Unit.—The Unit is at present engaged on productions, covering subjects ranging from the Civil Service to coal-mining.

Current productions include a film on juvenile delinquency, "Children on Trial," directed by Jack Lee, Humphrey Jennings' "A Defeated People," a film on the principle of the United Nations' Charter, by Graham Wallace, and one by Richard McNaughton, on railways.

Crown has a small production unit in the Far East, headed by Director Ralph Elton, engaged on making a film about reconstruction in Malaya.

The Unit is scheduled to make a film on the instruments of the orchestra, produced by the M.O.I. for the Ministry of Education. "The Road to Loch Lomond," a film dealing with the replanning of the area around Glasgow, is in the scripting stages. Among the subjects being investigated is a possible series of films about local government.

Following the resignation of Basil Wright as producer, Alexander Shaw is in charge temporarily, pending the establishment of the new Central Office of Information.

Rotha Films—(Films of Fact, Ltd.).—Directors: Paul Rotha, Ritchie Calder, H. L. Beales, Norman Champness. Secretary: John Wales.

Now in Production.—A feature documentary on local government for the Manchester City Corporation. Script by Walter Greenwood, Ara Calder-Marshall. Produced and directed by Paul Rotha. Three films on export trade for the M.O.I., directed by J. B. Holmes, from scripts by Ritchie Calder. The monthly issue of "Britain Can Make It," a cinemagazine for the M.O.I.

Scripts are in hand for: Britain's Water Supply, a Centenary Film for Wolverhampton, and two Ministry of Education films.

Associated with Films of Fact is Unifilm Studio, Ltd., a unit which specialises in making complete visual units of animated films, film strips, wall charts, etc. It is at present making an experimental medical film in animated colour.

OBJECTS.

The objects of the Association are :—

(a) To promote good will and a good understanding between all Proprietors of Kinemas and other places of entertainment, and between them and such persons as work for them, and between them and the Manufacturers and Renters of Films.

(b) To provide a fund for the protection of the interests of the Members of the Association and to protect them from oppression.

(c) To secure unity of action among Proprietors of cinemas and other places of entertainment and in particular to secure that film rentals paid or payable by Members of the Association shall not exceed the maximum sums fixed from time to time by the Council of the Association in accordance with these Rules.

(d) To promote by all lawful means the adoption of fair working rules and customs of the Trade.

(e) To organise means to secure and if at any time considered necessary themselves supply means whereby a free and unrestricted circulation of films and other Trade requisites may be secured for Members of the Association.

(f) To resist by all lawful means the imposition by public authorities or other persons of terms and conditions upon the Trade which are unreasonable or unnecessary.

(g) To secure legislation for the protection of the interests of Members, and to promote or oppose and join in promoting or opposing Bills in Parliament.

(h) To adopt such means of making known the operations of the Association as may seem to the Council expedient.

(i) To promote a good understanding between all local authorities and the Members of the Association, and to take any steps in furtherance thereof in matters which are the subject of local government, and which in the opinion of the Council may be in the interests of, or for the protection of, the Members.

(j) To adopt any means which in the opinion of the Council may be incidental or conducive to the above objects.

Constitution.—The Circle has been formed to combine the responsible publicity directors and managers of producing, exhibiting and renting companies into an association designed to represent and protect the film industry as a whole in its public and Press relations.

The Circle neither seeks nor desires trade union status, and will not affiliate with any trade union or similar body.

Its aims shall be :—

1. To counteract propaganda hostile to the film industry.

2. To cultivate and promote close and cordial relations with the Critics' Circle, and with editorial and advertising representatives of newspapers, etc.; and to assist the industry as a whole in its relations with the Press and the public.

3. To promote greater cohesion and unity of purpose and method between the three main branches of the industry, so that it may be possible to achieve overall publicity campaigns for films throughout production, distribution and exhibition.

4. To incorporate the Central Clearing House, which for seven years has so excellently organised Press show arrangements, and in respect of them substituted order for chaos.

THE PERFORMING RIGHT SOCIETY, LIMITED.

COPYRIGHT HOUSE, 33, MARGARET STREET,
LONDON, W.1.

Telegrams : PERFORIGHT, WESDO, LONDON.

An Association of Composers, Authors, and Publishers of copyright musical works, established to issue licences for the public performance of such works. The Society is not concerned with plays, sketches, or other works of a non-musical character, nor with operas, musical plays or other dramatico-musical works performed in their entirety and by living persons on the stage, but it is concerned inter alia, with performances of music in conjunction with cinematograph films.

The Copyright Act of 1911 prohibits any public performance without the written permission of the Copyright Owners, and the Society's licence gives the permission required by the Act for the works not only of the Society's members, but also those of members of the similar Societies of U.S.A., France, Spain, Sweden, Italy, Germany, and most other countries of Europe and the American continent. The total number of composers, authors and music publishers thus represented is approximately 60,000.

Licences are required for any public performance, whether given by mechanical means or otherwise, and are granted not to musical directors, vocalists or musicians as such, but to proprietors of premises at which music is publicly performed or to the promoters of musical entertainments.

Aims.

(i.) To promote the national and international use of the scientific film in order to achieve the widest understanding and appreciation of scientific method and outlook, especially in relation to social progress.

(ii.) To collect, collate and distribute information on the scientific film. This may include the formation of a reference library of books and the publication of a journal and pamphlets.

(iii.) To publish comprehensive lists of films graded according to scientific merit and suitability for audiences.

(iv.) To establish relations with Government departments, public bodies and other organisations which are in a position to make, use or circulate scientific films.

(v.) To organise a representative panel of scientists to advise producers of films of all types on scientific matters in connection with such films and to maintain close contact with the film industry.

(vi.) To promote the production and distribution of, and, if thought fit, to produce and distribute scientific films.

(vii.) To encourage the setting up of Scientific Film Societies.

(viii.) On request, to select or book scientific film shows.

(ix.) Generally to promote the appreciation of science through other related media suitable for the mass diffusion of knowledge.

This Committee of the above Association has operated for some years as an information centre for scientific film societies and others interested in the scientific film, for getting science represented as truthfully and as widely as possible on the screen.

The society publishes a graded list of scientific films, which carries over 400 entries, and from which local film societies and sometimes cinemas select programmes.

Part of the Committee's objective is to keep watch on the accuracy of films which contain reference either to scientific laws, to the lives of scientists or any other aspects of science.

To film producers who intend to touch on these subjects they offer the advice of scientists who are members of this Association.

THE LEGAL OUTLOOK.

By NORMAN HART, B.A.

(Solicitor to the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association.)

THE first matter I propose to deal with has to do with wartime tenancies. Under the Validation of Wartime Leases Act, 1944, it was declared that the date of the end of the European war as regards certain Leases and Agreement was May 9, 1945. This affects tenancies which have been granted for a period until the end of the war in Europe and Agreements entered into and refers to the war before Japan came into the war. As regards the war with Japan, the date declared was August 15, 1945. If the wartime Lease or Agreement does not provide for a period of notice to be given, at least one month's notice is required.

Onerous Conditions

Another matter is the attitude that is to-day being adopted by some Licensing Authorities as regards new conditions upon the Licences. I wrote pretty fully in last year's article as to the condition with regard to the admission of children under 16 years of age on Sundays and I had hoped that before this article had appeared in print that I would have been in a position to have tested the validity of such a condition.

On various occasions I have appeared before Licensing Authorities, but found it practically impossible to convince them that they are not acting in the public interest by inserting such a condition, but rather they are taking away the parent's right of control over their own children. However, at the moment there it is.

As one knows, Conditions are now on the Licences with regard to standing, the children question, and now it appears that some authorities are considering the question of seating, the prices to be charged, etc.

Owing to the damage caused to cinemas by enemy action, a new Condition has appeared in that Licensing Authorities are requesting that the Licensee should satisfy the Licensing Authorities as to the premises being structurally safe; such being confirmed by a Surveyor's report. One is aware that in the past before a Licence for a cinema has been granted the surveyor appointed by the Licensing Authority has inspected the theatre and given his report to the Authority. It is thought that the much better proposition is for the exhibitor to furnish his own surveyor's report as to the safety of the building rather than leave it to the surveyor appointed by the Licensing Authority.

In view of these and other possible new Conditions that are being inserted in Licences, it is more than ever essential that when each year Licences are issued the Conditions thereon should be carefully scrutinised by the licensee; if any such Conditions are new and onerous, they should at once see their legal adviser or myself.

Sunday Opening Powers

Another matter of interest has to do with the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act, 1939. As readers are aware, under Regulation 42B Sunday opening was permitted if the competent Naval, Military or Air Force authority were of opinion that, having regard to the fact that large numbers of members of His Majesty's Forces were quartered in that area, it was expedient for the Cinematograph graph Theatres to be opened on Sundays, and many readers will hold permission under this Regulation 42B of the Defence (General) Regulations 1939, to open their kinemas on Sundays.

Under the Emergency Powers (Defence) Act of 1945, it was enacted that the Act of 1939 (which was limited to expire on August 24, 1945) should continue in force until the expiration of the period of six months beginning with August 24, 1945, thus it would continue until February 24, 1946.

This would mean, therefore, that had it not been for a Bill now before Parliament known as The Emergency Laws (Transitional Provisions) Bill Regulation 42B would be discontinued as from February 24, 1946, and all Permissions granted thereunder would cease to be in force. However, this Bill will no doubt have become law by the time this article is in print, and the position will then be that where cinematograph theatres have been opened under a permission given under Regulation 42B such permission can be continued until December 31, 1947. Readers who hold such permissions and are desirous after December 31, 1947, to continue to open their kinemas on Sundays will, therefore, realise that they should at once get in motion the necessary procedure to enable them to obtain Sunday opening under the Sunday Entertainments Act, 1932. Exhibitors who now hold Licences for Sunday opening under the Sunday Entertainments Act, 1932, are of course not affected.

Restriction of Illumination

Attention should also be drawn to the fact that the Control of Fuel (No. 3) Order, 1942, is still in force and the Statutory Rules and Orders affecting the same even although the war is ended and black-out restrictions lifted. Particularly should it be borne in mind that "no person shall use or cause or allow to be used any lighting fitting or other appliance whereby there is consumed any fuel for the purpose of advertisement in the course of any business," and the expression "advertisement" is construed as including the display of any article in the course of any business.

In connection with kin ma theatres, this would include programmes of coming events, the still frames and the category boards, etc.. etc. Under this Order, too, there is the restriction of use of electricity for lighting in certain premises, and in the case of a place of entertainment there shall not be permitted or caused or allowed to be used or consumed for the purpose of illumination any electricity otherwise than by means of a lamp or lamps which shall not use or consume in the aggregate for every square foot of the area actually illuminated any greater power than 1 watt.

Law as Regards Queues

I have been asked to advise more than once during the year on the question of queues. If queues are formed on the licensed premises, then they must not be formed in such a position as to impede exits. Some Licensing Authorities lay down the number of persons that can form a queue within the licensed premises or upon any approaches thereto (other than a public thoroughfare), and they must be in such a position and in such numbers as may have been approved in writing by the Licensing Committee.

Where a queue is formed outside the licensed premises the position is that if the obstruction was an actionable nuisance the proprietor of the theatre would be responsible, and it is no defence to any action brought against him that the obstruction has been caused by the failure of the police to regulate the crowds or to keep proper gaps in the queue for the passage of persons going on business to other person's premises. As to what is a nuisance, this may be caused owing to the gathering of a large collection of persons seeking admittance and causing obstruction and inconvenience to adjoining occupiers. or it may also be occasioned by the noise created by music, etc.

Generally speaking, therefore, a theatre queue must be an actionable nuisance, and that, of course, is a question of fact. Exhibitors will, therefore, see that queues are their responsibility, and they must watch their queues.

Quota Problem

I still realise how difficult it is with shortage of suitable films to comply with the quota, but I would point out to readers that they should do their best to comply with the quota. It is very advisable that if any complaints are made with regard to the shortage of quota that the particular Licensee should at once get into touch with the Board of Trade and explain fully the whole position, as this would no doubt avoid the issuing of a summons against him for non-compliance.

I have particularly kept this article brief on account of the space allotted to me, but I hope those who read it will appreciate and realise how important it is in these days when wartime legislation is being revoked or amended should any difficulty crop up to at once get into touch with their legal adviser or myself.

Digest of Acts

The Acts of Parliament and local by-laws which relate to or affect the exhibition, storage or transit of kinematograph films are of paramount importance to the trade, and should be closely studied by all engaged in it. Below will be found a condensed digest of the principal regulations governing this industry. This has been prepared by a leading solicitor, who has explained the most essential points in a manner which will be readily understood by readers.

(We accept no liability for any inaccuracy which may appear in the following summary.)

REVISED BY NORMAN HART, B.A.

CINEMATOGRAPH ACT, 1909.

All kinematograph exhibitions must be held at premises which are licensed (s. 1).

This Act was passed for making better provision for securing safety at kinematograph and other exhibitions.

Under Clause 1, provided premises comply with the regulations laid down by the Secretary of State, which are regulations dealing with the question of safety, nothing more is required.

All premises must hold a licence where inflammable films are used. The Act contains no definition of the word "inflammable."

Exceptions.—A licence is not necessary in the following cases :—

- (a) Where non-flammable films are used (as to whether a film is non-flammable or flammable is one of fact for the Justices to decide). (See Victoria Pier, Ltd. v. Reeves, 1912, 28 T.L.R. 443; also see re Dickman and Moore, Times Newspaper, December 17, 1912.) (Note.—If an exhibitor holds a licence for premises upon which he originally used inflammable films and decides in future to use non-flammable films only, he is still bound by the conditions on the licence granted although otherwise no licence would be necessary.)
- (b) For exhibitions in private dwelling-houses where the general public are not admitted whether on payment or otherwise. (Note.—A hospital has been held not to be a private house under Section 7 of the Act, for which a licence is required—National Hospital for Paralysed and Epileptic Persons, Times, October 11, 1913.)
- (c) Where premises are only used occasionally and not more than six days in any one year. But in this case the occupier must—
 - i. Give seven days' notice in writing to the Licensing Authority and the chief officer of police of the police area ;
 - ii. Comply with the regulations as to safety ;
 - iii. Comply with any conditions imposed in writing by the Licensing Authority.
- (d) On premises used for the purpose of exhibiting films to bonâ-fide purchasers—Att.-Gen. v. Vitagraph Co.; 1915, C.H. 206.

MOVABLE BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES, provided the owner

- (a) Has a licence in respect of the building or structure from the Licensing Authority for the district where he ordinarily resides.
- (b) Has given two days' notice in writing to the Licensing Authority for the district where the exhibition is to take place, and to the chief officer of police of the police area.
- (c) Complies with any conditions imposed in writing by the Licensing Authority.

REGULATIONS AS TO SAFETY.

These are made by the Home Secretary (Act s. 1) except in Scotland and Ireland, where the Secretaries for Scotland and Ireland respectively exercise this power (Act ss. 8 and 9). They are known as the Cinematograph Regulations, 1910 (Statutory Rules and Orders [1910] No. 189) and 1913 (St. R. & O. [1913] No. 566). Every owner and manager of a kinema must make himself familiar with these regulations, which are binding, even if the conditions of the licence happen to be inconsistent with them.

LICENSING AUTHORITY.

(1) ENGLAND.—The Council of the County or County Borough, but as a rule these powers are, in the first instance at least, exercised by a committee. Where the place is licensed by the Lord Chamberlain for stage plays, that official also grants cinematograph licences.

The County or County Borough Council may delegate these powers to the local justices (Act s. 5). Licensing Justices sit as an administrative body, not as a Court of Summary Jurisdiction—Huish v. Liverpool Justices, [1914] 1 K.B. 109. Therefore they have no power to state a case. Doubtful if any appeal of licensing authorities where a licence is refused without any reason.

If reasons are stated and not been satisfactory or a proper hearing has not been given, proceedings by way of mandamus should be taken to the Court of Appeal. A further appeal in such a case can be taken to the House of Lords, or proceedings might be taken in the King's Bench Division for a declaration that proposed conditions which the Licensing Authorities have decided to put upon licences are ultra vires and an injunction asked for to restrain the authorities from enforcing same. In cases before the Court of Summary Jurisdiction where the procedure is by way of case stated to the Divisional Court no further appeal is allowed.

(2) SCOTLAND.—The Council of the County or the magistrates of a royal parliamentary or police burgh. There is no power of delegation (Act s. 8).

(3) IRELAND.—The Council of the County or County Borough or Urban District or the Commissioners of the Town. There is no power of delegation, but a County Council may, in writing, authorise any officer of the Council to exercise any of the powers of the Act (Act s. 9).

GRANT, RENEWAL AND TRANSFER OF LICENCES.

Licences are normally for one year, but may be for shorter periods (Act s. 2 (2)). The Act makes no provision for granting provisional licences.

For new grants or transfers seven days' notice in writing must be given to the Licensing Authority and to the chief officer of police of the police area, but no notice need be given in the case of a renewal (Act s. 2 (4)).

FEES PAYABLE.—One year's licence (grant or renewal), £1. Shorter periods, 5s. a month (but not to exceed £1 for every year). Transfers, 5s. (Act s. 2 (5)).

LICENSEES.—The Licensing Authority has a discretion (Act s. 2 (1) (3)). Where the refusal was based on the ground that several of the directors and the majority of the shareholders of the company in question were alien enemies, the refusal was upheld by the Court (Rex v. L.C.C. ex parte London and Provincial Electric Theatres, [1915] 2 K.B. 466).

CONDITIONS.—Under Clause 2, Section 1, Licensing Authorities have much further powers than those given under Clause 1, as they can grant licences subject to such conditions as they may think fit in addition to the regulations of the Secretary of State as regards safety. The condition must be reasonable—L.C.C. v. Bermondsey Bioscope, 80 L.J.K. 1314. It has been argued on the words of the Act that these must be decided upon when the application for each licence is made, and not determined beforehand (e.g., most of the authorities issue a list of conditions which licensees must submit to), but this argument has not met with favour (see Rex v. Burnley Justices (1916), 32 T.L.R. at p. 696).

Conditions or undertakings which have been upheld in the Courts include Against opening on Sundays and Holy Days, even where non-inflammable films used (L.C.C. v. Bermondsey Bioscope Co., [1911] 1 K.B. 445; Ellis v. North Metropolitan Theatres, [1915] 2 K.B. 61).

Against showing any film to which the Authority objects (ex parte Stott, [1916] 1 K.B. 7);

As to hours of opening and closing (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Against showing any licentious or indecent film (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

There is a distinction between conditions and undertakings and a condition as to the admission of children has been held bad (Halifax Theatre de Luxe v. Gledhill, [1915] 2 K.B. 49), but an undertaking of not so widespread a character relating to the same matter has been upheld (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Breach of a condition is an offence for which the licensee may be fined, and at once lose his licence; breach of an undertaking may lead to refusal of renewal.

A condition that no film can be shown if a specified number of justices object is void, as different groups may think differently (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Where the Licensing Authority enforce a condition that no film to which the Authority objects may be shown, the owner of the film is apparently without any adequate remedy (ex parte Stott, [1916] 1 K.B. 7; Stott v. Gamble, [1916] 2 K.B. 504).

A condition that no film be shown which has not been certified for public exhibition by the British Board of Film Censors is ultra vires, as it sets up in place of the Licensing Committee another Body whose ipse dixit should be a test of what might be exhibited. (Ellis v. Dubouski, [1921] 3 K.B.D.)

As to whether, therefore, the above conditions are intra vires is somewhat doubtful, and it might be argued that even if a film had not been censored and no notice given to the Local Licensing Authority, the only legal ground for proceeding against an exhibitor for showing the picture would be that of indecency.

The argument was upheld in a summons brought against an exhibitor in the Midlands, by the Licensing Authority, on the condition that if it was desired to show a film that had not been passed by the Censor, three clear days' notice must be sent to the Licensing Authority.

POLICE SUPERVISION.—Any police officer and any person authorised by the Licensing Authority may enter any premises (whether licensed or not) where he has reason to believe that a cinematograph exhibition is being or is about to be given. A police officer needs no authority, and while there may pay attention to any other breaches of the law that he may suspect (McVittie v. Turner, [1916] 85 L.J.K.B. 23). If anyone prevents or obstructs him, the offender is liable to be fined up to £20 (Act s. 4).

A Constable without consent is not entitled to take away a piece of a film for the purpose of testing whether it is inflammable or non-flammable.

PENALTIES.

Besides the offence just mentioned, the owner of a cinematograph or other apparatus who uses it or allows it to be used in contravention of the Act or the Regulations or the conditions of the licence, and the occupier of premises who allows them to be used in contravention of the same, may be fined up to £20, and in the case of a continuing offence £5 a day, and the licence may be revoked on conviction (Act s. 3). The manager of a kinema owned by a company is not an occupier, and cannot be summoned as such (Bruce v. McMaignes, [1915] 3 K.B. 1).

A cinematograph licence does not authorise musical accompaniments. A music licence is not necessary where music is subsidiary to the picture.—See Hallinan, 73 J.P.N. 458.

THEATRE AND MUSIC AND DANCING LICENCES may also be necessary. Theatre Licences for Stage Plays are obtained from the Lord Chamberlain in London, and from the justices elsewhere. Music and Dancing Licences, are granted by the County and County Borough Councils, who can delegate this power to the local justices.

Music and Dancing Licences in London are governed by the Music Hall Act, 1751. In Middlesex by the Music and Dancing Middlesex Act, 1894. In other areas beyond 20 miles from the Cities of London and Westminster under the Public Health Acts (Amendment Act), 1890, Sec. 4. Music Licences are renewable only once each year. They may contain conditions (in view of the section of the Public Health Act) different to the conditions of a cinematograph licence, as that act does not apply to Music and Dancing Licences. A Music and Dancing Licence does not authorise stage plays, nor does a Theatre Licence, under the Theatre Act, 1843, include Music and Dancing.

CHILDREN.

Where an entertainment is given for children (i.e., under fourteen), or the majority of persons present are children, and their number exceeds one hundred, and access to any part of the building is by stairs, then it is the duty of the occupier (if he is paid) and of the person giving the entertainment (in any case) to see that an adequate number of adult attendants are present to prevent overcrowding in any part, to control the movements of the audience when entering and leaving, and also to take all reasonable precautions for safety. Police officers have the right of entry. The penalty for a first offence is up to £50, for a second or subsequent offence up to £100, and any licence held in respect of the building may be revoked (Children Act, 1908, s. 121). The cinematograph licence is not mentioned, as it had not come into existence at that date.

The Employment of Children Act, 1903, s. 1, enables local authorities to make bye-laws relating to the employment of children (i.e., under fourteen), and many of them have exercised this power. A licensee should enquire at the council offices whether the local authority of his district has made any bye-law affecting him (e.g., as to programme, sweet, or cigarette sellers, etc.)

No child (under sixteen) employed half-time in a factory or workshop may be employed elsewhere (Act 1903, s. 3 (3)), nor may any child be employed before six a.m. or after nine p.m., unless the local bye-laws allow it (Act 1903, s. 3 (1)). The fine is up to 40s. for a first offence, and £5 afterwards (Act 1903, s. 5 (1)).

Under the Children and Young Persons Act, 1933, where there is provided in any building an entertainment for children or an entertainment at which the majority of the persons attending are children, then, if the number of children attending the entertainment exceeds one hundred the person providing the entertainment must station and keep stationed wherever necessary a sufficient number of adult attendants, properly instructed as to their duties, to prevent more children or other persons being admitted to the building, and to control the movement of the children and other persons admitted while entering and leaving the building or any part thereof, and to take all other reasonable precautions for the safety of the children.

Under Section 4 of this Act a constable may enter the building at any time with a view to seeing whether the provisions of the Act are being properly carried out.

By the Royal Assent having been given to the Shops Hours of Closing Act, 1928, patrons can buy tobacco, matches, table waters, sweets, chocolates or other sugar confectionery or ice-cream at any time during performances in any Theatre, Kinema, Music Hall or other similar place of entertainment so long as the sale is to bona-fide members of the audience and not on a part of the building to which other members of the public have access.

This does away with the ban put upon Kinemas by D.O.R.A. some years ago.

ADMISSION.

Admission can only be given by ticket stamped with a mark denoting that duty has been paid, or in special cases, if the Commissioners approve, through a barrier which automatically registers the numbers admitted. But the proprietor can make arrangements with the Commissioners dispensing with these conditions on the terms of furnishing certified returns at stated times and giving security for due payment of the duty. Penalty for breach: Proprietor, £50 and duty; Person admitted, £5. Special provision is made for lump sum payments in the case of clubs or societies, or in the case of season tickets or tickets for a series of entertainments.

Duty is not payable where the Commissioners are satisfied:

- (a) That the proceeds are devoted to philanthropic or charitable purposes without deduction of expenses, or

- (b) That the entertainment is wholly educational (in case of difference the Board of Education decides) ; or
- (c) That the entertainment is provided for partly educational or partly scientific purposes by a society, and not run for profit ; or
- (d) That it is provided by or on behalf of a school or educational institution if the school or institution is not run for profit, and the entertainment is provided solely for promoting some object of the school or institution, and that all the persons who are performers are under sixteen and are scholars or ex-scholars of the school or institution.

In the case of a charity performance where the whole of the expenses are deducted, but do not exceed 20 per cent. of the receipts, the duty is repaid to the proprietor.

Any officer of excise authorised to do so may enter a place of entertainment and any person who prevents or obstructs him is liable to a fine up to £20.

The Commissioners can make regulations, any breach of which entails an excise penalty of £50, and they may make arrangements whereby the local authority (county, borough, or urban district council), or the police may exercise all or any of the powers of the Commissioners as to this duty. The law is contained in the Finance (New Duties) Act, 1916, ss. 1 and 2, and the Finance Act, 1916, s. 12.

TRANSIT BY RAIL.

RAILWAY REGULATIONS IN REGARD TO FILM BOXES.—The specification of the Railway Clearing House of the type of metal boxes required by the Railway Companies to be used for the transit of films is as follows :

Boxes must be rectangular, wood-lined cases, to hold not more than six films and measure not more than $14\frac{1}{2}$ inches outside either way. They must be made of galvanised iron of not less thickness than .022 of an inch (No. 25 B.G.) for the small one and two film cases, and not less than .028 of an inch (No. 23 B.G.) for the larger sizes (three to six film cases).

All the corners of the sides and bottom must be strengthened by folding seams, the top of the body having wired edges turned inwards. The hinge lid must be turned down all round for a depth of one and a quarter inches. It must fit over the body of the case and have wired edges turned outwards. It must be attached to the body by two strong hinges, firmly riveted to both body and lid, and fastened by stout wire hasps fitting over iron staples riveted to the front of the case. Each hasp and staple must be locked, either by padlock or by a spring safety hook, permanently to the staple by a short length of stout chain. Cases for one and two films need only have one clasp and staple fastening ; other sizes must have two.

Other conditions are that a thin metal label frame, open at the top, must be riveted to the case in such a position that the top edge of the label frame is covered by the lid when closed ; all the boxes must be completely lined with plain wood of half-inch thickness fastened by rivets to the lid and body of the case ; the following words must be painted in black on the lid : " Cinema Films," in one-inch block letters, and " Keep in a cool place," in letters five-eighths of an inch depth. No other lettering must appear on the lid. The name and address of the owners may be painted on the sides or ends, and the cases must be unpainted.

A SHORT EPITOME OF OTHER LEGISLATION.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE ACT, 1781.

Any house opened for Public amusement or debate on a Sunday to which persons shall be admitted by payment of money shall be deemed a Disorderly House—Penalty £200 for every Sunday opened. (Note)—If a reasonable number of persons are admitted free there is no offence under the Act in making a charge for a reserved seat ; it will be noted that the Act speaks of admission, not to a seat, but to the entertainment.

REFRESHMENT HOUSES ACT, 1860.

Any House, Room or Building can be opened for Public resort and entertainment between 10 p.m., and 5 a.m., but if not being licensed for beer, wine and spirits must take out a Refreshment House Excise Licence.

1923. NEW REGULATION UNDER CINEMATOGRAH ACT, 1909.

Exhibitors should always keep a copy of these regulations by them as they take the place of the previous regulations dated 18th February, 1910 and 20th May, 1913.

LICENSING (CONSOLIDATION) ACT, 1910.

HOUSES (ADDITIONAL POWERS) ACT, 1919.

Gives powers to Councils to make orders prohibiting the construction of works or theatres on grounds that the production of dwelling accommodation is likely to be delayed by a deficiency of labour or materials arising out of the employment of labour, or material in the construction of such works or buildings. Any person aggrieved by such an order of prohibition can appeal, subject to the rules of procedure set down by the Ministry. A Tribunal of Appeal can be set up under this Act to hear appeals against any such Order.

FINANCE ACT, 1920.

This was an Act passed to grant certain duties to Customs and Inland Revenue, to alter other duties, and to amend the law relating to Customs and Inland Revenue and the National Debt and to make further provision in connection with finance.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE ACT, 1920, was an act passed to amend the Law in respect of Insurance against Unemployment. All persons of the age of 16 and upwards who are engaged in employment as specified by the Act shall be insured against unemployment in manner provided by the Act.

THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN in entertainments, Statutory Rules and Orders 1920, No. 21.

An application for a licence to enable a child to take part in an entertainment or series of entertainments must be made in writing to the Local Educational Authority signed by the parent and the employer of the child in the form contained in the first schedule thereto, together with the necessary documents.

Under this rule the term "parent" includes guardian and every person who is liable to maintain or has actual custody of the child.

THE FACTORIES BILL, 1920.

This Bill abolishes the distinction between factories and workshops and between textile and non-textile factories, and employs only the one word "Factory."

1921. THE ENTERTAINMENTS DUTY REGULATIONS are regulations made by the Commissioners of Customs and Excise under Section 2 of the Finance New Duties Act, 1916, for securing the payment of Entertainments Duty.

The points to be noted are that the price of admission must be printed on the tickets. Adhesive stamps are not to be issued except upon the tickets. No tickets other than stamped tickets to be issued on payment made for admission. Tickets and stamps to be issued undefaced and defaced subsequently. No Government ticket is to be used for admitting more than one person. (Note: Arrangements approved by the Commissioners can be made for providing returns of payments for admission to an entertainment.)

was passed (inter alia) to define what machinery and plant was deemed to be part of the hereditament for rating purposes.

HOME COUNTIES, MUSIC AND DANCING LICENCES ACT, 1926.

This was an Act passed to amend the law as regards Music and Dancing Licences in parts of certain Home Counties and in certain County Boroughs adjacent thereto. It gave powers to the Council to grant Licences for any period not exceeding 13 months to such persons as they thought fit.

Under this Act the Council can delegate all or any of its powers to a Committee consisting wholly or partly of members of the Council.

LANDLORD AND TENANT ACT, 1927.

This Act came into force on the 25th March of this year. It provides (inter alia) for compensation for improvements and compensation for loss of goodwill.

TRADE UNIONS AND TRADE DISPUTES ACT, 1927, amends the law relating to Trade Disputes and Trade Unions and regulates the position of Civil Servants and persons employed by public authorities in respect of membership of trade unions and similar organisations and to extend section 5 of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act, 1875.

THE RATING AND VALUATION ACT, 1928,

was an Act passed to extend to the Administrative County of London the provisions of the Rating and Valuation Act, 1925, with respect to the valuation of hereditaments containing machinery and plant and to make temporary provision with respect to the deduction to be made in ascertaining the rateable value—to amend Sections 11 and 37 and the 4th and 5th Schedules of the 1925 Act and to provide for the tenant decisions on points of law with a view to securing uniformity in valuation.

THE RATING AND VALUATION (APPORTIONMENT) ACT, 1928, was an Act passed to make provision with a view to granting of relief from rates in respect of certain classes of hereditaments to be affected and the apportionment in Valuation Lists of the net annual value of such hereditaments according to the extent and user thereof for various purposes.

Section 3, sub-section 1 of this Act contains provisions as to "Industrial Hereditaments." "Industrial Hereditament" has been defined to mean a hereditament occupied and used as a mine or mineral railway or as a factory or workshop. A hereditament though part of it may be in law a "factory" or "workshop" is not to be treated as an Industrial hereditament if the premises as a whole are not primarily used for the purposes of a factory or workshop.

With regard to the position of a Kinematograph Theatre, in view of the fact that the premises are not used primarily for the purposes of a factory or workshop I do not consider it comes under the heading of "Industrial Hereditament" and therefore does not appear to be entitled to "relief" as an "Industrial hereditament."

The Rating and Valuation (Apportionment) Act Rules, 1928, made by the Minister of Health under section 58 of the Rating and Valuation Act, 1925, and of the Rating and Valuation (Apportionment) Act, 1928, prescribes the forms of notices, claims and lists to be used for the purposes of the first Schedule to the last mentioned Act and the dates to be observed in connection with the preparation and approval of lists under that Schedule.

The list of valuations is deposited by the Rating Authorities at the office of the Authority and any person aggrieved can object to the assessment within 25 days of the deposit of the Valuation List. Forms of objection can be obtained from the Rating Authorities, and the forms should contain every possible ground for complaint. One person can object to another person's assessment on the ground that it is too low, and in such a case the occupier is entitled to receive notice from the Assessment Committee of the objection.

THE LIABILITIES (WAR-TIME) ADJUSTMENT ACT, 1944.

This Act extends the benefits provided under the Liabilities (War-Time) Adjustment Act, 1941.

HOME OFFICE SAFETY PRECAUTIONS.

Safety measures for the protection of audiences in kinemas, theatres and other places of entertainment in time of war have been drawn up by the Home Office with the object of securing that, so far as possible, uniform requirements are imposed throughout the country. Owners and managers if they have not already taken steps to comply with the requirements will be expected to do so within a reasonable time.

GLASS SHATTER

The protective measures suggested for theatres and kinemas are as follows :—

1.—In the case of skylights, lantern lights and laylights either—

(A) the glazing should be removed and replaced by non-splintering material, or the openings thereby made covered by a light weather-proof roofing ;

or

(B) the glazing should be guarded on the underside with small-mesh wire netting or expanded metal so arranged as to intercept broken glass, and in addition the glazing, if not wired glazing, should be covered with stout cardboard or paper or its equivalent, pasted direct to the glazing, or otherwise rendered less liable to fragmentation to the satisfaction of the licensing authority.

2.—All large windows to foyer and vestibules, and glass doors to the street should be protected. (N.B.—It is not considered necessary to require that the vestibule entrance to the street shall be protected by sandbags.)

3.—Chandeliers and other heavy glass fittings should be removed if possible, or else protected in such a way that no broken glass or splinters can strike any member of the audience.

4.—Shelter should be provided for the staff and performers.

VENTILATION AND LIGHTING

5.—Ventilation plant should be closed down on a gas alarm or any evidence of smoke.

6.—Refrigerating plant (other than ice-cream refrigerators) using a toxic or inflammable refrigerant should not be used and the refrigerant should be removed.

7.—The licensing authority's usual standard of lighting of internal exit-ways and staircase should be maintained, windows being screened so as to prevent the light being visible from outside.

8.—All external exit passageways should be indicated by white directional arrows, which, during the hours of darkness, should be illuminated so as to be visible to persons using the passageways. Secondary lighting should be retained for this purpose where required by the licensing authority, but the light displayed must be dimmed to the minimum required to show the position and direction of the arrow, and so screened that no light is displayed from above.

FIRE GUARDIANS

9.—There should be a qualified fireman or a man specially nominated in writing by the management to take charge of fire appliances. He need not necessarily be employed exclusively on fire protection duties, but he must not during a performance be given other work which would take him away from the building or otherwise prevent him from being immediately available in case of danger or alarm of fire. When any performance is taking place which requires the use of scenery or costumes, the man above mentioned shall remain within the stage risk. This man shall have been adequately instructed in the use of all fire appliances contained in the building.

Attendants and other employees should be properly instructed in the use of the fire appliances provided. This training may be undertaken by the man specially employed to be in charge of fire appliances.

FIRST AID AND AUDIENCE CONTROL

10.—The whole staff should also receive training in first aid and anti-gas precautions, and the local authority should, if necessary, be asked to make special arrangements for training at times when the staff is able to attend. The expenses of such training will be met by the owner.

11.—The arrangements for the control of the audiences in the event of an emergency are the responsibility of the management of the kinema.

12.—Standing should not be allowed in the gangways.

13.—No objection should be taken to the admission of children unaccompanied by adults, but the kinema industry should be asked not to hold special children's matinees in evacuating areas.

AIR RAID LISTENERS

14.—During performances a member of the staff should be constantly stationed at a point from which he can hear the public warning signals. When a warning is received the audience should be informed verbally by the manager or some other responsible person from the stage, where he can be seen by the audience. It should be made clear to the audience that the warning does not necessarily mean that a raid will take place, and that in any case it is not likely to occur for at least five minutes. The advice to be given to the audience in the event of an air raid warning should be arranged in consultation with the police. It is considered that as a general rule the advice should be to recommend them to remain in the building, but it should at the same time be made clear that anyone who desires to leave is free to do so. The entertainment should, if possible, be continued.

COPYRIGHT.

Under the Copyright Act, 1911, the owner of a literary or dramatic work has the sole right to make a kinematograph film or other contrivance by which the same may be mechanically performed, and to authorise such acts. Before the Act it was held that there was no such right (Karno v. Pathé Frères, 100 L.T. 260).

Infringement is doing without the owner's consent anything which conflicts with the owner's rights. It includes selling, or letting for hire, or by way of trade exposing or offering for sale or hire, or by way of trade exhibiting in public or importing for sale or hire any work which infringes copyright or would do so if the work had been made in the country where infringement takes place. It also includes the case of a person who, for his private profit, permits a theatre or place of entertainment to be used for the public performance of a work without the owner's consent unless the person so doing was not aware and had no reasonable ground for suspecting that it was an infringement.

Copyright lasts during the life of the author and fifty years after his death. In the case of photographs, it is fifty years from the making of the original negative. All transfers or licences must be in writing and signed by the owner or his agent. The author cannot assign his copyright for longer than twenty-five years after his death.

A compulsory licence can be obtained twenty-five or thirty years after the author's death, but this provision cannot apply before 1936 at the earliest. The Privy Council has the power to grant a compulsory licence at any time after the author's death if it is proved that the work has been published or performed in public, and the present owner of the copyright has refused to allow republication, etc., so that the work is in effect withheld from the public.

An employee or apprentice does not acquire the copyright in work he does for his employer. Where a photograph is taken at the order of the sitter, who pays for it, he, and not the photographer, is the owner. It is a criminal offence to infringe copyright knowingly, and the offender is liable to a fine up to 40s. for every copy, but not more than £50 for any one transaction. In the case of second or subsequent offences, the justices can send the offender to prison for two months without the option of a fine, and in all cases may order the copies to be destroyed. No criminal charge under the Act can be brought more than six months after the act complained of. In civil proceedings the usual remedy is an injunction, but the defendant is also liable for damages unless he proves not merely that he did not know of the copyright, but also that he had no reasonable grounds for suspecting its existence. For example, if a kinema proprietor hires a film to show at one hall, he is liable for damages if he shows it at any other place (Fenning Film Service v. Wolverhampton, etc., Cinemas [1914] 3 K.B. 1171). Where the alleged infringement is such that the Court would not protect it as an original work (e.g., on the ground of indecency), the owner of the copyright cannot sue under the Act, but can claim damages for defamatory representation of his work (Glyn v. Western Feature Film Co. [1916] 1 Ch. 261). The proper way to prove a film is to call someone who has seen it shown and not to produce the film unless ~~some~~ point turns on the film itself.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD REGULATIONS.

The Local Government Board have power under Section 130 of Public Health Act, 1875, and amendments to issue regulations with a view to preventing the spread of any epidemic or infectious disease. Regulations known as the Public Health (Influenza) Regulations, 1918, were issued by the Local Government Board under general orders dated November 18 and 22, 1918 :—

1. Limiting the time of entertainment to not more than 4 hours consecutively.

2. An interval of not less than 30 minutes between any two entertainments.

3. During such interval the place to be effectually and thoroughly ventilated, the penalty for breach not exceeding £100, and in case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding £50 for every day which the offence continues.

4. No children to be admitted to exhibitions where public elementary schools in the district have been temporarily closed. Notice must be given to the proprietor, otherwise regulation not effective.

These restrictions can be relaxed by any local authority upon such conditions as they may determine on the advice of their Medical Officer for Health. They do not concern the Licensing Authorities, who have no power to deal with such restrictions.

For removal of regulations application should be made to the District or Urban Council of the place where the theatre is situated.

[These regulations have been rescinded. Attempts are being made to make them conditions on cinematograph licences, but it is doubtful whether such conditions are "intra vires."]

THE CELLULOID ACT.

An Act known as "THE CELLULOID AND CINEMATOGRAPH FILM ACT OF 1922" has been passed to make better provision for the prevention of fire in premises where raw celluloid or cinematograph films are stored or used.

The purposes to which this Act applies are :—

(1) The keeping or storing of raw celluloid—

- (a) In quantities exceeding at any one time one hundredweight ; or
- (b) In smaller quantities unless kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a properly closed metal box or case ; and

(2) The keeping or storing of cinematograph film—

- (a) In quantities exceeding at any one time twenty reels or eighty pounds in weight, or
- (b) In smaller quantities unless each reel is kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a separate and properly closed metal box or case :—

Provided that :—

- (i.) For the purpose of this Act, cinematograph film shall be deemed to be kept in any premises where it is temporarily deposited for the purpose of examination, cleaning, packing, re-winding or repair, but celluloid or cinematograph film shall not be deemed to be kept or stored in any premises where it is temporarily deposited whilst in the course of delivery, conveyance or transport ; and
- (ii.) The provisions of this Act shall not, except in the cases referred to in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of Sub-section (1) of Section I thereof, apply to premises to which the Factory and Workshop Acts, 1901 to 1920 apply. Nor do the provisions of this Act apply to premises licensed under the Cinematograph Act, 1909. It should be pointed out, however, that under this Act any Officer duly authorised by a local authority may at any time take for analysis sufficient samples of any material which he suspects to be or to contain Celluloid.

HOME OFFICE REGULATIONS, 1923.

The 1923 Regulations under the Cinematograph Act, 1909, are somewhat important, and have been somewhat amended from their original form, owing to various meetings that took place between the Sub-Committee of the C.E.A. and the Home Office.

The Regulations took the place of previous Regulations of February 18, 1910 and May 20, 1913. The Regulations must be exhibited in the enclosure and easily accessible to operators. They are dated July 30, 1923, and operate from that date, but they would not affect any licence for the period for which it was granted, though, of course, when the same is renewed the new conditions will appear.

As regards clause 4, "Fire Appliances" footnote should be noticed, as it lays down that a fireman need not be employed exclusively in taking charge of the fire appliances. He must not, however, be given other work during an exhibition which would take him away from the building or otherwise prevent him from being immediately available in case of danger or alarm of fire.

As regards No. 5, "Smoking," it should be observed that notices stating that smoking is prohibited shall be kept posted in the enclosure and film room or anywhere where films are stored, wound or repaired.

As regards No. 7, relating to enclosure, fire-resisting material now includes teak or oak not less than two inches thick.

With regard to clause 7, "Enclosures," Sec. 8, it will be noticed that in case of need the enclosure may be left for a short period in charge of a competent assistant over 16 years of age.

As to what is the exact definition of a "competent operator," one does not know, but apparently it can be taken to mean that an operator who can satisfactorily operate would come within the definition of a "competent operator."

With regard to clause 13, "Lighting," it should be pointed out that if the general lighting is by electricity the safety lighting shall be by (a) electricity from another source (b) gas or (c) oil or candles.

One does not take this to mean that the safety lighting, if electricity, shall be taken from an entirely different supply, but merely that there shall be primary and secondary lighting installed in the building, the intention, of course, being that should the electric light supply be temporarily interrupted, the theatre will not be put into darkness.

Clause 14, on "Electrical Installation," it should be noticed that the Wiring Rules of the Institution of Electrical Engineers apply, a copy of which can always be obtained from Odhams Press Ltd., Technical Book Dept., 85, Long Acre, London, W.C.2. Price 1/2 post free.

It should be observed that Sections A, E, F and G of these Regulations do not apply to wiring in existence before July 30, 1923, except in the event of such wiring being altered or renewed.

With regard to clause 15, it should be noticed that the requirements in paragraphs C, D M and N shall not apply to apparatus in use before the date of these Regulations, and the requirements in paragraphs E, G, I, J and K do not apply until July 29, 1925, except in the event of the apparatus being renewed or materially altered.

Schedules :

First Schedule—

Part I.—Renters' Quotas.

Part II.—Exhibitors' Quotas.

Second Schedule—Maximum Fees.

Third Schedule—Provisions repealed in the Act of 1927.

An Act to make further provision for securing the renting and exhibition of a certain proportion of British cinematograph films, and for restricting blind booking and advance booking of cinematograph films; to make provision as to the wages and conditions of employment of persons employed by makers of cinematograph films; and to provide for purposes connected with the matters aforesaid. [30th March 1938]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

PART I.

RENTERS' QUOTAS AND EXHIBITORS' QUOTAS.

Provisions relating to Renters' quotas.

(1).—Determination of renters' quotas for period beginning 1st April 1938 and ending 31st March 1948.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, where a renter has, in any renters' quota period, acquired for distribution in Great Britain films which are registered as foreign long films, or has, in any such period, so acquired films which are registered as foreign short films, then unless—

(a) in the first case, the films which have been so acquired by him in that period and are registered as long films include films registered as British long films and also as renters' quota films, and having a total length bearing to the total length of all the films which have been so acquired by him in that period and are registered as long films (exclusive of films registered only as exhibitors' quota films) a proportion not less than the proportion prescribed in relation to long films by Part I of the First Schedule to this Act for that period or, as the case may be, for the year beginning with the first day of April in which that period falls, or

(b) in the second case, the films which have been so acquired by him in that period and are registered as short films include films registered as British short films and also as renters' quota films, and having a total length bearing to the total length of all the films which have been so acquired by him in that period and are registered as short films (exclusive of films registered only as exhibitors' quota films) a proportion not less than the proportion prescribed in relation to short films by Part I of the said Schedule for that period or, as the case may be, for the year beginning with the first day of April in which that period falls, the renter shall be guilty of a quota offence, except in a case where either the Board of Trade certify, under the following provisions of this Part of this Act, that his failure to fulfil the relevant conditions imposed by this subsection was due to circumstances beyond his control, or the renter proves that fact to the satisfaction of the court.

(2) For the purpose of the preceding subsection, the length of a film shall be taken to be its registered length; but where a film registered as a renters' quota film is also registered as a British ong film and also as doubled or trebled for the purpose of renters' quota on the ground of its cost, then, subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, the length of the film shall be taken for the purpose of paragraph (a) of that subsection to be twice or, as the case may be, three times its registered length:

Provided that a renter shall be deemed not to have fulfilled the quota conditions imposed by paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection as respects the quota period beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and thirty-eight or either of the two renters' quota periods falling in the year beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and thirty-nine or in any subsequent year, if the aggregate of the registered lengths of the films acquired by him in that period or year, as the case may be, for distribution in Great Britain which are registered as British long films and also as renters' quota films bears to the aggregate of the lengths which are to be taken, for the purpose of that paragraph, to be the lengths of those films, a proportion being less than one-half.

(3) The Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may, not later than the end of June in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-eight or any of the eight succeeding years, lay before Parliament the draft of an order directing—

(a) that, in relation to the renters' quota period beginning with the first day of April then next following and in relation to any subsequent renters' quota period specified in the order, this section shall have effect as if for subsection (2) thereof there were substituted the following subsection:

“(2) For the purpose of the preceding subsection, the length of a film shall be taken to be its registered length; but where a film registered as a renters' quota film is also registered as a British long film and also as doubled for the purpose of renters' quota on the ground of its cost, then, subject to the following provisions of this part of this Act, the length of the film shall be taken, for the purpose of paragraph (a) of that subsection, to be twice its registered length”; or

(b) that, in relation to the year beginning with the said first day of April and in relation to any subsequent year specified in the order, the proviso to subsection (2) of this section—

(i) shall have effect as if in that proviso for the reference to one-half there were substituted a reference to such other proportion as may be specified in the order, or

(ii) shall have no effect;

and if, not later than the thirty-first day of July next following the date on which the draft of any such order is laid before it, each House of Parliament resolves that the order be made, the Board shall forthwith make the order in terms of the draft.

(4) The power conferred by the last preceding subsection to lay in draft before Parliament and to make an order shall be construed as including a power, exercisable in the like manner and subject to the like conditions, to lay in draft before Parliament and to make an order varying or revoking an order having effect by virtue of that subsection:

Provided that an order varying or revoking such an order as aforesaid shall not have effect in relation to any period prior to the first day of April next following the date on which the order is made.

(2).—Restrictions on the counting of a British film more than once, or by more than one renter, for quota purposes.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, no film registered as a British film shall, for the purpose of the fulfilment of any conditions imposed by subsection (1) of the last preceding section (hereafter in this Act referred to as “quota conditions”), be counted more than once by the same renter or counted by any renter other than the renter who has first acquired the film (whether before or after the commencement of this Act) for distribution in Great Britain; and no film so registered shall be counted for the said purpose if it has already been counted for the purpose of complying with the requirements of section thirteen of the Act of 1927.

(2) Where, at any time in a renters' quota period, a renter has acquired, for distribution in a limited area in Great Britain only, a film which is registered as a British film and also as a renters' quota film, and which, at that time, had not been exhibited to the public at a theatre in that area, then if throughout that period or, as the case may be, the part thereof during which he carried on business as a renter in Great Britain—

(a) that renter has had no right to distribute in Great Britain outside that area any films which are registered as foreign films or are registered as British films and also as renters' quota films, and

(b) no other renter has had a right to distribute the first-mentioned film in that area, the said film may, for the purpose of the fulfilment of any relevant quota conditions as respects that period, be counted once by the first-mentioned renter, notwithstanding that some other person is also entitled, by virtue of this subsection, to count the film for the said purpose.

(3) Where the films which a renter has, in any renters' quota period, acquired for distribution in Great Britain consist of, or include, old films registered as British films and also as renters' quota films, and old films registered as foreign films, he may, for the purpose of fulfilling any relevant quota conditions as respects that period, count once each of the said old films which is registered as a British film—

- (a) if all the registered films so acquired by him in that period (exclusive of films registered only as exhibitors' quota films) are old films, or
- (b) in a case where the said registered films include films other than old films) if any such quota conditions would have been fulfilled as respects those other films had they been the only films so acquired by him in that period.

(4) For the purposes of the last preceding subsection, a film which in any renters' quota period a renter acquires for distribution in Great Britain shall, in relation to that period, be deemed to be told if, and only if,—

- (a) the film has previously been acquired as aforesaid by some other renter, and
 - (b) not less than one year has elapsed since the end of the year in which the film was previously acquired as aforesaid by any other renter;
- and in this subsection the expression "year" means year beginning with the first day of April.

(3).—Special provisions with respect to British films rented in foreign countries.

(1) Where, by means of such evidence (including statutory declarations) as the Board of Trade may require, a renter carrying on business in Great Britain satisfies the Board with respect to any film registered under Part III of this Act as a British long film and also as doubled or trebled for the purpose of renters' quota—

- (a) that in any renters' quota period the said renter has, for a price of not less than twenty thousand pounds, acquired the film for distribution in a foreign country, and
 - (b) that the said renter has not acquired the film for distribution in Great Britain.
- the Board may, if they think fit, give directions that in determining whether any relevant quota conditions have been fulfilled—
- (i) the film shall (except for the purpose of the proviso to subsection (2) of section one of this Act) be treated as if, at the time when the said renter acquired it for distribution in that foreign country, he had acquired it for distribution in Great Britain, and
 - (ii) any acquisition of the film by another renter for distribution in Great Britain (whether before or after the giving of the directions) shall be disregarded.

(2) Any directions given under this section by the Board of Trade shall—

- (a) in a case where—
 - (i) the film to which the directions relate is registered as trebled for the purpose of renters' quota, and
 - (ii) the Board are satisfied that the price paid or payable by the renter in respect of his acquisition of the film for distribution in the foreign country is not less than thirty thousand pounds, include a direction that the length of the film shall, for the purpose of determining whether any relevant quota conditions have been fulfilled by that renter in any renters' quota period, be taken to be twice its registered length, or
- (b) in any other case, include a direction that the length of the film shall, for the said purpose, be taken to be its registered length :

Provided that, if the total length of the films which, by virtue of any directions under this section, a renter is to be deemed for any purpose to have acquired in any renters' quota period for distribution in Great Britain exceeds half the total length of films registered as British long films which, apart from those directions, he must have acquired for distribution in Great Britain in order to fulfil the relevant quota conditions as respects that period, the first-mentioned total length shall be deemed to be reduced by the amount of the excess.

(3) If, at any time after giving any directions under this section, the Board of Trade discover that they were misinformed as to any of the material facts by reference to which their decision to give the directions was made, the Board may revoke the directions; and where any such directions are revoked, they shall be deemed never to have been given.

(4) If, and to the extent that, section one of this Act has effect subject to the modification made therein by an order containing such a direction as is authorised by paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of that section, this section shall have effect as if, in subsection (1) of this section, for the words "doubled or trebled for the purpose of renters' quota" there were substituted the words "doubled for the purpose of renters' quota or capable of being doubled under this section," and as if, in subsection (2) of this section, for the words "trebled for the purpose of renters' quota" there were substituted the words "capable of being doubled under this section."

(4).—Exemption in respect of films for which demand is limited.

(1) Upon application made, with respect to a film to which this Act applies, by a renter who has, in any renters' quota period, acquired that film for distribution in Great Britain, or who proposes to acquire it in any such period for distribution in Great Britain, the Board of Trade, if satisfied that the film is a long film and that it has not been exhibited to the public in Great Britain within the twelve months immediately preceding the date on which the application was made, may, if they think fit, direct that, subject to the fulfilment of the conditions set out in the following subsection, the fact that he has, before the end of the year beginning with the said date, acquired the film for distribution in Great Britain, shall, for the purpose of determining whether that renter has fulfilled any quota conditions, be disregarded.

(2) The conditions subject to which any directions given under this section in respect of a film shall have effect are that the film must not, in the year beginning with the date of the application upon which the directions are given—

(a) be delivered by any other renter to exhibitors in Great Britain for public exhibition therein, or

(b) be exhibited to the public at more than twelve theatres in Great Britain or at more than six theatres in the administrative county of London or

(c) be exhibited to the public at more than one theatre in Great Britain on the same day; and if the renter delivers the film, after the end of that year, to an exhibitor for exhibition to the public at a theatre in Great Britain, then, for the purpose of determining whether any quota conditions have been fulfilled by him, the film shall (without prejudice to any previous effect of the directions) be treated as if, at the time when he first so delivers it, he had acquired it for distribution in Great Britain.

(5).—Combinations of renters for quota purposes.

Upon application made to them in that behalf, the Board of Trade, if they think fit, may, in relation to any renters' quota period, designate any two or more renters as an approved combination for the purpose of fulfilling the quota conditions as respects that period in relation to long films; and if, in that period, not more than one of those renters has acquired, for distribution in Great Britain, more than three films which are registered as long films (other than films which are registered only as exhibitors' quota films), the preceding sections of this Act shall, so far as regards the fulfilment of the quota conditions as respects that period in relation to long films, apply to those renters as if they constituted together a single renter:

Provided that the preceding provisions of this section shall, in relation to the renters' quota period beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, have effect as if in those provisions for the word "three" there were substituted the word "six."

(6).—Provisions with respect to films acquired and registered in different periods.

Where, for the purpose of any of the preceding provisions of this Act, it is material to determine what films a renter has acquired in any renters' quota period, a film which he has, in that period acquired for distribution in Great Britain, but which has been registered in any subsequent renters' quota period, shall be deemed to have been acquired by him as aforesaid in the renters' quota period in which the film was registered and not in the renters' quota period in which he actually so acquired it.

Provisions relating to Exhibitors' quotas.

(7).—Determination of exhibitors' quotas for period beginning 1st October 1938, and ending 30th September 1948.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, where an exhibitor has, in any exhibitors' quota year, exhibited to the public at any theatre in Great Britain films which are registered as foreign long films, or has, in any such year, so exhibited films which are registered as foreign short films, then, unless—

(a) in the first case, the proportion which the total length of films which have been exhibited by him to the public at that theatre in that year, and are registered as British long films, bears to the total length of films which have been so exhibited and are registered as long films is at least equal to the proportion prescribed in relation to long films for that year by Part II of the First Schedule to this Act, or

(b) in the second case, the proportion which the total length of films which have been exhibited by him to the public at that theatre in that year, and are registered as British short films, bears to the total length of films which have been so exhibited and are registered as short films is at least equal to the proportion prescribed in relation to short films for that year by Part II of the said Schedule, the exhibitor shall be guilty of a quota offence, except in a case where either the Board of Trade certify, under the following provisions of this Part of this Act, that his failure to fulfil the relevant conditions imposed by this subsection was due to circumstances beyond his control, or the exhibitor proves that fact to the satisfaction of the court.

(2) For the purpose of the preceding subsection, the total length of films of any class mentioned in that subsection which, in any exhibitors' quota year, has been exhibited to the public at any particular theatre shall be computed as follows, that is to say:—

(a) the registered length of each film of that class which, in that year, has been exhibited to the public at that theatre during the normal hours in the ordinary programme shall be multiplied by the number of times the film has in that year been so exhibited; and

(b) the products arrived at under paragraph (a) of this subsection shall be added together.

(3) In relation to any exhibitor who does not, in any exhibitors' quota year, exhibit registered films to the public at any one theatre in Great Britain on more than six days nor at more than one such theatre at the same time, the preceding provisions of this section shall have effect as if all the registered films which had in that year been exhibited by him to the public at theatres in Great Britain had been so exhibited at one such theatre.

(4) For the purpose of determining whether any conditions imposed by subsection (1) of this section have been fulfilled as respects any exhibitors' quota year, a film which was first registered as a British film more than four years before the beginning of that year shall be disregarded, unless, upon an application made not later than the end of that year by a renter having a right to distribute the film in Great Britain, the Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, direct that the film shall be taken into account for that purpose.

General Provisions.

(8).—Restriction on renting registered films otherwise than at their registered length.

If, on any occasion on which, during the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, a registered film is delivered by a renter to an exhibitor in Great Britain for public exhibition at a theatre therein, the length of the film as so delivered on that occasion differs from the registered length of the film by more than one-tenth of that registered length, the renter shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds.

(9).—Licensing of renters and exhibitors.

(1) No person shall, in the year beginning at the commencement of this Act or any of the nine succeeding years, carry on the business of distributing registered films in Great Britain, unless—

(a) there is in force a licence under this section authorising him to carry on business as a renter, or

(b) an application for such a licence as aforesaid in respect of that year has been duly made and the determination of the application is still pending ; and if any person carries on business in contravention of this subsection, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds for every day on which he so carries on business.

(2) No exhibitor shall, in any exhibitors' quota year, exhibit a registered film to the public at a theatre in Great Britain, unless at the time of the exhibition—

(a) there is in force a licence under this section authorising him to carry on business as an exhibitor at that theatre, or

(b) an application for a such a licence as aforesaid in respect of that year has been duly made and the determination of the application is still pending ; and if any exhibitor exhibits a film at any theatre in contravention of this subsection, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day on which he so exhibits the film at that theatre.

(3) A licence authorising a person to carry on business as a renter in Great Britain or, as the case may be, to carry on business as an exhibitor in Great Britain shall, upon application made in that behalf by the said person, and on payment of the prescribed fee, be granted to him by the Board of Trade, unless he is disqualified for holding the licence applied for :

Provided that the Board of Trade may refuse to grant such a licence, unless the applicant has furnished to the Board such information, verified in such manner, as they may reasonably require for the purpose of satisfying themselves that he is not so disqualified.

(4) Subject as hereinafter provided, a licence under this section authorising a person to carry on business as an exhibitor shall be limited so as to extend only to the exhibition of registered films at such one theatre in Great Britain as may be specified in the licence :

Provided that such a licence as aforesaid may be granted so as to extend to the exhibition of registered films at more than one theatre in Great Britain, subject to the limitation that the licence does not authorise the holder thereof to exhibit registered films at any one theatre on more than six days in the year in respect of which the licence is granted, or to exhibit registered films at more than one theatre at the same time.

(5) Without prejudice to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, a person shall be disqualified for holding a licence under this section unless he has a place of business in Great Britain.

(6) Where the holder of a licence under this section which is for the time being in force changes the address of his place of business in Great Britain, or ceases to have a place of business in Great Britain, he shall, as soon as practicable, notify to the Board of Trade the change of address or, as the case may be, the fact that he has ceased to have such a place of business.

(7) Subject as hereinafter provided, a licence under this section shall take effect on such day not being earlier than the beginning of the year in respect of which it is granted, as may be specified in the licence, and shall continue in force until the end of that year and no longer :

Provided that if, after the granting of such a licence, the holder of the licence becomes disqualified or holding it, the licence shall forthwith cease to have effect.

(10).—Provisions for securing that films exhibited in Great Britain are obtained from licensed renters.

(1) An exhibitor shall not, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and forty-eight, exhibit on any occasion to the public at a theatre in Great Britain any film to which this Act applies, unless—

(a) he has acquired the right to exhibit the film to the public at that theatre on that occasion from a person who, at the time of the acquisition, was lawfully carrying on business as a renter in Great Britain, or

(b) the exhibitor is himself lawfully carrying on business as aforesaid, and has acquired the film for distribution in Great Britain.

(2) If any person exhibits a film in contravention of this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds for every day on which he so exhibits the film.

(11).—Penalties for quota offences.

(1) Any person guilty of a quota offence under this Part of this Act shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds or, on conviction on indictment, to a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds.

(2) Where a person is convicted, on indictment, of a quota offence under this Part of this Act then, in addition to imposing such a fine as aforesaid, the court—

(a) if the offence is an offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to renters' quotas, and the offender has previously been convicted of a renter's offence not less than twice (whether summarily or on indictment), may revoke any renter's licence held by him, and may order, with respect to the offender or any of the following persons that is to say,—

(i) any person who, at or since the time when the offence occurred, was or has been financially associated with the offender in his business as a renter.

(ii) any person concerned in the management of the offender's said business who was knowingly a party to the offence, and

(iii) any person who has acquired the offender's said business either wholly or in part, that he shall, for such period as may be specified in the order, be disqualified for holding a renter's licence, and

(b) if the offence is an offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to exhibitors' quotas, and the offender has previously been convicted of an exhibitor's offence not less than twice (whether summarily or on indictment), may revoke any exhibitor's licence held by him in respect of the theatre in relation to which the offence has occurred, and may order, with respect to—

(i) the offender,

(ii) any person who, at or since the time when the offence occurred, was or has been financially associated with the offender in his business as an exhibitor, or

(iii) any person concerned in the management of the offender's said business who was knowingly a party to the offence, that he shall, for such period as may be specified in the order, be disqualified for holding an exhibitor's licence in respect of that theatre, and may also order that every person in whose case an exhibitor's licence, or a licence granted under the Act of 1927 for the purposes of section twenty of that Act, has been revoked during the year immediately preceding the date of the conviction, shall, for such period as may be specified in the order, be so disqualified :

Provided that an order under paragraph (a) of this subsection shall not operate so as to prevent the offender performing, for a period not exceeding six months, any obligations under any contract entered into by him before the institution of the proceedings leading to the conviction.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in the Summary Jurisdiction Acts, summary proceedings for a quota offence under this Part of this Act may, in the case of an offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to renters' quotas, be instituted at any time within two years after the end of the renter's quota period in relation to which the offence has occurred, or, in the case of an offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to exhibitors' quotas, be instituted at any time within one year after the end of the exhibitors' quota year in relation to which the offence has occurred.

(4) In this section the expression "renter's offence" means a quota offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to renters' quotas, or an offence under section thirteen of the Act of 1927, and the expression "exhibitor's offence" means a quota offence under the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to exhibitors' quotas, or an offence under section nineteen of the Act of 1927.

(12).—Record books to be kept by renters and exhibitors.

(1) Any renter who has, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and forty-eight, acquired for distribution in Great Britain a film which is a registered film shall, as soon as practicable, record in a book to be kept by him for the purpose—

- (a) the title and registered length of the film, the fact that it is registered as a British film or registered as a foreign film, as the case may be, and such other particulars with respect to the film as may be prescribed for the purpose of identification, and
 - (b) the theatres in Great Britain for public exhibition at which he delivers the film to exhibitors, and the respective dates on which, or periods for which, the film is to be, or has been, exhibited to the public at those theatres on delivery as aforesaid;
- and shall, whenever requested so to do by a person authorised in that behalf by the Board of Trade, produce the said book for inspection by that person.

(2) Any exhibitor who, in any exhibitors' quota year, exhibits a registered film to the public at a theatre in Great Britain shall, as soon as practicable, record in a book to be kept by him for the purpose in respect of that theatre—

- (a) the title and registered length of the film, the fact that it is registered as a British film or registered as a foreign film, as the case may be, and such other particulars with respect to the film as may be prescribed for the purpose of identification, and
- (b) the dates in that year on which the film was exhibited to the public at that theatre, and, in relation to each of those dates, the number of times the film was so exhibited and the respective hours at which the exhibition of cinematograph films to the public at that theatre began and ended:

Provided that an exhibitor who does not, in any exhibitors' quota year, exhibit registered films to the public at any one theatre in Great Britain on more than six days nor at more than one such theatre at the same time, shall not be obliged to keep under this subsection more than one book in respect of the theatres at which he so exhibits registered films in that year.

(3) Any book which an exhibitor is required by this section to keep in relation to a particular theatre shall, so long as he continues to carry on the business of exhibiting registered films to the public at that theatre, be kept by him at that theatre and be open to inspection thereat, at all reasonable times, by any person authorised in that behalf by the Board of Trade; and, subject to the preceding provisions of this subsection, an exhibitor who is required to keep a book under this section shall, whenever requested so to do by a person authorised in that behalf by the Board, produce the book for inspection by that person.

(4) If any person who is required to keep a book under this section fails to keep the book in accordance with the requirements of this section or to record any particular therein in accordance with those requirements, or fails to produce the book on demand for inspection by any person entitled to inspect it, or prevents or attempts to prevent the inspection of the book by any person so entitled, he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds.

(13).—Relief from liability for quota offences in circumstances beyond control of renter or exhibitor.

(1) If, upon application made to them, the Board of Trade are satisfied that any failure on the part of a person to fulfil any relevant quota conditions was due to circumstances beyond his control, the Board may issue a certificate to that effect:

Provided that, where any application is made under this subsection to the Board, they shall, before determining the application, consult the Cinematograph Films Council and consider its advice in the matter.

(2) For the purposes of this Part of this Act, a failure on the part of a person to fulfil any relevant quota conditions shall be deemed to have been due to circumstances beyond the control of that person if, owing to the character of the films available or to the excessive cost of such films, it was not commercially practicable to fulfil those conditions, but, in the case of a renter, shall be deemed not to have been due to circumstances beyond his control if it was commercially practicable for him to fulfil those conditions by making, or arranging for the making of, the necessary films.

(14).—Provisions as to cases where distribution rights in respect of films pass on renters going out of business.

(1) Where, in any renters' quota period, a person being the holder of a renter's licence for the time being in force has ceased to carry on business as a renter in Great Britain, and, in consequence of the cessation, the right to distribute in any country or area a film to which this Act applies, and which that renter had acquired in that period for distribution in that country or area, passes in that period, by assignment or will or by operation of law, from the said person to some other person being the holder of such a licence, then, subject to the provisions of the following subsection, the first-mentioned person shall, for the purposes of the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to renters' quotas, be deemed never to have acquired the film for distribution in that country or area, or delivered the film to an exhibitor for public exhibition.

(2) If, in relation to any such assignment as is mentioned in the preceding subsection, it appears to the Board of Trade that the assignment was made with a view to the evasion of any of the provisions of this Part of this Act relating to renters' quotas, the Board may direct that the said subsection shall not apply in relation to that assignment.

(15).—Power of Board of Trade to alter quotas by order.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this section, the Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may, not later than the end of June nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, lay before Parliament the draft of an order altering either or both of the proportions prescribed by Part II of the First Schedule to this Act for the year beginning with the first day of October nineteen hundred and thirty-nine; and if, before the end of July nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, each House of Parliament has resolved that the order be made, the Board shall forthwith make the order in terms of the draft, and the order shall come into operation upon the making thereof.

(2) Subject to the provisions of the next following subsection, the Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter,—

(a) may, at any time during the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, lay before Parliament the draft of an order altering, either generally or in relation only to long films or short films, all or any of the proportions prescribed by Part I of the First Schedule to this Act for the year beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and forty and the next succeeding year, or prescribed by Part II of the said Schedule for the year beginning with the first day of October nineteen hundred and forty and the next succeeding year, and

(b) may, at any time during the year nineteen hundred and forty-one, lay before Parliament the draft of an order altering as aforesaid all or any of the proportions prescribed by Part I of the said Schedule for the year beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and forty-two and the next two succeeding years, or prescribed by Part II of the said Schedule for the year beginning with the first day of October nineteen hundred and forty-two and the next two succeeding years, and

(c) may, at any time during the year nineteen hundred and forty-four, lay before Parliament the draft of an order altering as aforesaid all or any of the proportions prescribed by Part I of the said Schedule for the year beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and forty-five and the two succeeding years, or prescribed by Part II of the said Schedule for the year beginning with the first day of October nineteen hundred and forty-five and the two succeeding years; and if, before the end of the calendar year in which the draft of such an order is laid before Parliament each House of Parliament has resolved that the order be made, the Board shall forthwith make the order in terms of the draft, and the order shall come into operation upon the making thereof.

(3) This section shall not authorise the making of an order—

(a) altering any of the proportions prescribed by Part I of the First Schedule to this Act to a proportion being, in relation to long films, less than twenty per cent. or more than thirty per cent. or, in relation to short films, less than fifteen per cent. or more than 30 per cent., or

(b) altering any of the proportions prescribed by Part II of the said Schedule to a proportion being, in relation to long films, less than fifteen per cent. or more than thirty per cent. or, in relation to short films, less than twelve and a half per cent. or more than thirty per cent.

(4) As from the coming into operation of an order under this section altering any of the proportions prescribed by the First Schedules to this Act, that Schedule shall have effect as if it prescribed, instead of that proportion, the proportion substituted therefor by the order.

(5) In this section the expression "calendar year" means year beginning with the first day of January.

(16).—Reduction of exhibitors' quotas for year ending 30th September, 1938.

The First Schedule to the Act of 1927 shall have effect, and be deemed always to have had effect as if the proportion prescribed by Part II of that Schedule as respects the year ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and thirty-eight were fifteen per cent. and not twenty per cent.

PART II.

RESTRICTIONS ON BLIND BOOKING AND ADVANCE BOOKING OF FILMS.

(17).—Restriction on blind booking.

(1) No renter shall, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, procure the giving by an exhibitor (whether for a consideration or not, and whether orally or in writing) of any such undertaking as would, if it were legally binding on the exhibitor, impose on him an obligation, either actual or contingent, to take delivery of a film to which this Act applies, for public exhibition at a theatre in Great Britain, being a film which had not been trade-shown at the time of his giving the undertaking: Provided that this subsection shall not operate so as to restrict—

- (a) in relation to any serial film or series of films, the making, at a time when at least three parts of the film or series have been trade-shown, of an agreement for the public exhibition of any part thereof.
- (b) the making, in relation to any one film, of an agreement for the exhibition of that film at one theatre only and on a number of consecutive days, or
- (c) the making, in relation to any one film, of agreements for the exhibition of that film on not more than three days and at not more than three theatres.

(2) Where, in relation to any one film, there have been made, at a time when that film has not been trade-shown, several agreements the purport of which taken together is to provide for the public exhibition of that film in Great Britain either at more than one theatre or otherwise than on consecutive days, the benefit of paragraph (b) of the proviso to the preceding subsection shall not extend to any of those agreements; and where, in relation to any one film, there have been made, at a time when that film has not been trade-shown, several agreements the purport of which taken together is to provide for the public exhibition of the film in Great Britain either on more than three days or at more than three theatres, the benefit of paragraph (c) of the said proviso shall not extend to any of those agreements.

In relation to any film being a part of a serial film or series of films, the preceding provisions of this subsection shall have effect as if, in those provisions, for the words "when that film has not been trade-shown," in each place where those words occur, there were substituted the words "before three parts of that serial film or series of films have been trade-shown."

(18).—Restriction on advance booking.

No renter shall, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and forty-eight, procure the giving by an exhibitor (whether for a consideration or not, and whether orally or in writing) of any such undertaking as would, if it were legally binding on the exhibitor, impose on him an obligation, either actual or contingent, to take delivery of a film to which this Act applies for public exhibition at a theatre in Great Britain at a date later than six months after the date on which he gives the undertaking:

Provided that, in relation to any serial film or series of films, this section shall not operate so as to restrict the making of an agreement in so far as it provides for any part of the film or series being exhibited after three parts thereof have been exhibited to the public at a theatre in Great Britain.

(19).—Penalties.

If any renter contravenes any of the provisions of this Part of this Act, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds.

(20).—Invalidation of agreements involving blind booking or advance booking.

(1) Any agreement made after the commencement of this Act (whether in Great Britain or elsewhere) shall be invalid, if and so far as—

- (a) in the case of an agreement made before the end of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, it purports to impose on any exhibitor an obligation, either actual or contingent, to take delivery of a film to which this Act applies for public exhibition at a theatre in Great Britain, being a film which has not been trade-shown at the time of the making of the agreement, or
- (b) in the case of an agreement made before the end of March nineteen hundred and forty-eight, it purports to impose on any exhibitor an obligation, either actual or contingent, to take delivery of a film to which this Act applies for public exhibition at a theatre in Great Britain at a date later than six months after the date on which the agreement is made:

Provided that the preceding provisions of this subsection shall not apply in relation to any agreement the making of which is unrestricted by virtue of the proviso to subsection (1) of section seventeen of this Act or the proviso to section eighteen of this Act, as the case may be.

(2) Any agreement validly made before the commencement of this Act (whether in Great Britain or elsewhere) which, if made after the commencement of this Act, would be invalid under the preceding subsection, shall, if and so far as it relates to the delivery after the end of September nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, for public exhibition in Great Britain, of a film to which this Act applies, cease to have effect at the end of that month.

(21).—Information to be furnished by renters to Board of Trade for purposes of Part II.

A renter shall, whenever requested so to do by a person authorised in that behalf by the Board of Trade, produce to that person such books or other documents, and furnish to that person such other information, with respect to any film delivered or to be delivered by him to any exhibitor in Great Britain for public exhibition therein, being a film to which this Act applies, as the Board may require for the purpose of the enforcement of this Part of this Act.

PART III.

REGISTRATION OF FILMS.

(22).—Prohibition of distribution or exhibition of unregistered films.

(1) No person shall, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, deliver to an exhibitor in Great Britain for public exhibition therein any film to which this Act applies, unless, at the time of the delivery, the film is a registered film, and no person shall, in the said period, exhibit to the public at a theatre in Great Britain any film to which this Act applies, being a film which he knows, or ought to have known, not to be a registered film :

Provided that this subsection shall not restrict the delivery or exhibition, in pursuance of a valid agreement for its exhibition at one theatre only on a number of consecutive days, of a film in respect of which a provisional application for registration has been made, if the film is trade-shown within six weeks from the date on which the application was made, and shall not restrict—

- (a) the delivery or exhibition of any film which has been exhibited in Great Britain to exhibitors or to the public before the commencement of this Act, other than a film which was first so exhibited after the end of September nineteen hundred and twenty-seven and is a film to which the Act of 1927 applies, or
- (b) the delivery or exhibition, in pursuance of valid agreements for its exhibition on not more than three days and at not more than three theatres, of a film which, at the time of the delivery or exhibition, has not been trade-shown.

(2) If any person delivers a film in contravention of this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds; and if any person exhibits a film in contravention of this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds for every day on which he so exhibits the film.

(23).—Registration of films.

(1) Upon application duly made to them, not later than the end of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, for the registration of a film to which this Act applies, the Board of Trade shall, subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Act, register the film under this Part of this Act in a register to be kept by the Board for the purpose.

(2) The register shall be so kept as to record, in relation to each film registered therein,—

- (a) the title and length of the film, the fact that it is a British film or a foreign film, as the case may be, and such other particulars (if any) with respect to the film as may be prescribed for the purpose of identification, and
- (b) such other particulars with respect to the film as are required by the following provisions of this Part of this Act to be entered in the register.

(3) On the registration of a film under this Part of this Act, the Board of Trade shall issue to the person on whose application the film is registered a certificate of registration specifying all the particulars which, at the time of the issue of the certificate, are recorded in the register with respect to that film.

(4) As soon as may be after the end of the week beginning at the commencement of this Act, and of each subsequent week, the Board of Trade shall publish in the Board of Trade Journal a list of films registered in that week.

(5) The register shall, at all reasonable times, be open to inspection by any person at the offices of the Board of Trade, on payment of the prescribed fee, and any person inspecting the register may take copies of any entries therein.

(6) The Board of Trade shall, on demand made in that behalf by any person and on payment of the prescribed fee, furnish that person with a copy of the entry in the register relating to any particular film, being a copy certified to be true by the officer of the Board of Trade having the custody of the register.

(24).—Applications for registration, and information to be furnished in connection therewith.

(1) Every application for the registration of a film shall be made either by the maker of the film or by a renter who has acquired it for distribution in Great Britain, and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) No such application as aforesaid shall be entertained unless the film which is the subject of the application has been trade-shown within the fourteen days immediately preceding the date on which the application is made:

Provided that—

- a) a provisional application may be made before the film has been trade-shown, and in that case, if the film is trade-shown within six weeks after the date on which the provisional application is made, the provisional application shall thereupon be treated as if it had been made within fourteen days after the film was trade-shown; and
- (b) an application made more than fourteen days after the film was trade-shown may be entertained by the Board of Trade if they are satisfied that the delay was due to special circumstances and was not intentional.

(3) The applicant for the registration of a film, and if the applicant is not the maker of the film, the maker, shall produce to the Board of Trade such books and other documents relating to the film and furnish to the Board such other information with respect thereto as the Board may require, for the proper discharge of their functions under this Part of this Act in relation to that film; and any information furnished for the purposes of this subsection shall, if the Board so direct, be accompanied by a statutory declaration as to the truth of the information, being a declaration made by the person furnishing the information:

Provided that an application for the registration of a film shall not be granted, unless and until there has been furnished to the Board of Trade a statutory declaration made by the applicant to the effect that there has not been made, in relation to that film, any such agreement as is declared by part II of this Act to be invalid in any respect.

(25).—Determination of films to be treated as British films for purposes of registration.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this section, a film shall, for the purpose of the registration thereof under this Part of this Act, be deemed to be a British film if, and only if,—

- (a) the maker of the film was, throughout the time during which the film was being made, either a British subject or a British company, and
- (b) the studio, if any, used in making the film was within His Majesty's dominions, and
- (c) not less than the requisite amount of labour costs represents payments paid or payable in respect of the labour or services of British subjects or persons domiciled in some part of His Majesty's dominions.

(2) In paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection the expression "a British company" means a company incorporated under the laws of any part of His Majesty's dominions, being a company the directors of which, or the majority of the directors of which, were British subjects; and for the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (c) of that subsection, any film used for making photographs depicted as part of any scene in the film which is the subject of the application for registration, shall be deemed to form part of the last-mentioned film; and in paragraph (c) of that subsection the expression "the requisite amount of labour costs" means, in relation to any film—

- (a) (in a case where the total labour costs of the film amount to not less than twenty-two thousand five hundred pounds, and the quotient derived from dividing the amount of the said total labour costs by the number of feet comprised in the length of the film is a sum of not less than three pounds) whichever of the two following amounts is the less, that is to say—

- (i) the amount arrived at by applying the fraction three-quarters to the total labour costs of the film, after deducting therefrom, if the applicant for registration so desires, the amount of any payment which, as part of those costs, has been paid or is payable in respect of the labour or services of any one person who was, while engaged in the making of the film, neither a British subject nor a person domiciled in some part of His Majesty's dominions;
- (ii) the amount arrived at by applying the fraction four-fifths to the total labour costs of the film, after deducting therefrom the amount of any payments which, as part of those costs, have been paid or are payable in respect of the labour or services of any two persons neither of whom was, while engaged in the making of the film, a British subject or a person so domiciled, and at least one of whom was so engaged in the capacity of an actor or actress, or

- (b) in any other case, the amount arrived at under sub-paragraph (i) of the preceding paragraph:

Provided that if, upon the application for the registration, as a British film, of a film in respect of which the condition imposed by paragraph (c) of the preceding subsection is not fulfilled, the Board of Trade are satisfied that the maker of the film took all reasonable steps to fulfil the said condition, and that the non-fulfilment thereof was due to exceptional circumstances beyond his control, the Board, if they think fit, may direct that this subsection shall have effect in relation to that film as if in paragraph (a) of this subsection for the words "three-quarters" and the words "four-fifths" there were respectively substituted the words "seven-tenths" and the words "three-quarters."

(3) If, upon an application for the registration of a film as a British film, the applicant requests the Board of Trade so to do, the Board shall, for the purpose of determining whether the conditions imposed by this section are fulfilled in respect of the film, treat the film as if such portions thereof as may be designated by the applicant, being portions the length of which does not exceed in all ten per cent. of the total length of the film or twenty per cent. of so much of its total length as consists of photographs of studio scenes (whichever percentage is the less), did not form part of the film; and in that case the length of the film shall, for the purpose of the registration thereof, be deemed to be reduced by the length of the portions of the film which, by virtue of this subsection, are to be treated as not forming part of the film.

(4) Every film registered under this Part of this Act shall, if the conditions imposed by subsection (1) of this section are fulfilled in respect of the film, be registered as a British film, or, if those conditions are not so fulfilled, be registered as a foreign film.

(5) Section seven of the Finance Act, 1928, (which provides for the reduction of customs duties on negative cinematograph films which are certified by the Board of Trade to satisfy the requirements of subsection (3) of section twenty-seven of the Act of 1927) shall have effect as if the reference in the said section seven to the said subsection (3) included a reference to subsection (1) of this section.

(26).—Conditions governing registration of British films as quota films.

(1) Every film registered under this Part of this Act as a British film shall be registered as an exhibitors' quota film, and, subject to the following provisions of this section, shall, if the applicant so requests, be registered also as a renters' quota film.

(2) A film registered under this Part of this Act as a British film shall not be registered as a renters' quota film unless—

- (a) the maker of the film was, throughout the time during which the film was being made, a person carrying on business in the United Kingdom and having his principal place of business therein, and
- (b) the studio, if any, used in making the film (exclusive of any portion of the film which, by virtue of subsection (3) of the last preceding section, is to be treated as not forming part of the film) was within the United Kingdom, and
- (c) at least half the requisite amount of labour costs, as defined by subsection (2) of the last preceding section, represents payments which, as part of the labour costs of the film, have been paid or are payable in respect of the labour or services of British subjects ordinarily resident in, or persons domiciled in, the United Kingdom.

(3) A film registered under this Part of this Act as a British long film shall not be registered as renters' quota film unless—

- (a) the total labour costs of the film amount to not less than seven thousand five hundred pounds, and
- (b) the quotient derived from dividing the amount of the said total labour costs by the number of feet comprised in the length of the film is a sum of not less than one pound :

Provided that the Board of Trade may exempt any particular film from the operation of this subsection if, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, the Board are of opinion that the film has special value for purposes of entertainment.

(4) The Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may lay before Parliament the draft of an order directing that the last preceding subsection shall, subject to such modifications of that subsection as may be specified in the order, apply in relation to films registered under this Part of this Act as British short films, as it applies in relation to films registered as British long films ; and if each House of Parliament resolves that the order be made, the Board shall make the order in terms of the draft, and the order shall come into operation on such date as may be specified therein.

(5) The Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may lay before Parliament the draft of an order providing that the Board, upon representations made to them within the prescribed period after there has been trade-shown a film which is the subject of an application for the registration thereof as a British film and also as a renters' quota film, or which has been registered as aforesaid, may, notwithstanding that the conditions as to cost imposed in relation to the film by subsection (3) of this section, or by an order under the last preceding subsection are fulfilled, either refuse to register the film as a renters' quota film or, as the case may be, cancel the registration of the film as a renters' quota film, if, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, the Board are satisfied that the film has insufficient value for purposes of entertainment ; and if each House of Parliament resolves that the order be made the Board shall make the order in terms of the draft, and the order shall come into operation on such date, falling not earlier than twelve months after the date on which the order is made, as may be specified in the order :

Provided that an order under this subsection shall not apply in relation to short films unless and until an order under the last preceding subsection is in operation.

(6) Where, in the case of a film registered under this Part of this Act as a British long film and also as a renters' quota film,—

- (a) the total labour costs of the film amount to not less than twenty-two thousand five hundred pounds but to less than thirty-seven thousand five hundred pounds, and

- (b) the quotient derived from dividing the amount of the said total labour costs by the number of feet comprised in the length of the film is a sum of not less than three pounds but of less than five pounds, the film shall be registered as doubled for the purpose of renters' quota ; and where, in the case of a film registered as a British long film and also as a renters' quota film—

- (i) the total labour costs of the film amount to not less than thirty-seven thousand five hundred pounds, and

(ii) the quotient derived from dividing the amount of the said total labour costs by the number of feet comprised in the length of the film is a sum of not less than five pounds. the film shall be registered as trebled for the purpose of renters' quota.

(7) If, and to the extent that, section one of this Act has effect subject to the modification made therein by an order containing such a direction as is authorised by paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of that section, subsection (6) of this section shall have effect as if, in that subsection, for the words "trebled for the purpose of renters' quota" there were substituted the words "capable of being doubled under section three of this Act."

(27).—Power to disregard items of labour costs in certain circumstances.

If, upon any application for the registration of a film under this Part of this Act, being an application in connection with which it is material to ascertain—

- (a) the labour costs of the film, or
 - (b) the proportion of those costs which represents payments in respect of the labour or services of persons of any particular class,
- it appears to the Board of Trade that any sum which, as part of those costs, is paid or payable in respect of the labour or services of any particular person is so great as not to be a bona fide payment by way of remuneration for the labour or services in question, the Board may direct that the said sum shall, as to the whole or any part of the amount thereof, be disregarded in ascertaining the said labour costs or the said proportion thereof, as the case may be.

(28).—Registration of serial films.

(1) Subject to the provisions of the following subsection, an application for the registration of any part of a serial film or series of films may be entertained if three parts of the film or series have been trade-shown.

(2) The Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may by order direct that the preceding subsection shall not apply in relation to any such application for registration as aforesaid which may be made during the continuance in force of the order; and any order under this subsection may be revoked by a subsequent order of the Board.

(3) If an order is made under the last preceding subsection, any provision contained in Part II of this Act which qualifies, in relation to any serial film or series of films, a restriction imposed by that Part of this Act shall operate so as to qualify that restriction in relation only to the exhibition of such parts (if any) of a serial film or series of films as are not the subject of applications for registration made during the continuance in force of the order.

A film which has been exhibited in Great Britain to the public before the commencement of this Act (other than a film which was first so exhibited after the end of September nineteen hundred and twenty-seven and is a film to which the Act of 1927 applies) shall not be registered after the commencement of this Act, and a film which has been duly registered under Part II of the Act of 1927 shall not be registered under this Part of this Act:

Provided that for the purposes of this section a film shall not be taken to have been exhibited to the public by reason only that the film has been trade-shown.

(30).—Corrections of register.

If, at any time after the registration of a film, the Board of Trade, upon making any such inquiries as they think desirable, are satisfied that the film either ought not to have been registered or is incorrectly registered in any particular, they shall cause the necessary deletion or correction to be made in the register and, if the Board think proper, issue to the maker of the film, or, if the film has been acquired by a renter for distribution in Great Britain, issue to the renter, a certificate of registration to take the place of any such certificate previously issued in respect of the film; but the Board, if in any particular case they think fit so to do, may direct that, for the purpose of any of the provisions of Part I of this Act relating to renters' quotas and exhibitors' quotas, the film shall, to such extent as may be specified in the direction, be treated as if the deletion or correction in the register had not been made.

(31).—Reference of disputes to High Court or Court of Session.

(1) Any person who is aggrieved by any decision taken by the Board of Trade for the purpose of the performance of their duties in relation to the register, may, subject to rules of court, make application in the matter to the High Court, and the decision of that court on any such application shall be final and not subject to appeal to any other court.

(2) In relation to any person whose principal place of business is in Scotland, the preceding sub-section shall have effect as if for any reference therein to the High Court there were substituted reference to the Court of Session.

(32).—Evidence of registration.

The registration of a film may be proved by the production of—

- (a) a copy of the Board of Trade Journal containing a notification of the registration of the film, or
 - (b) the certificate of registration issued, or, as the case may be, last issued in respect of the film, or
 - (c) a copy of the entry in the register relating to the film, being a copy certified to be true by the officer having the custody of the register;
- and a document purporting to be such a certificate of registration, or to be such a certified copy as aforesaid, shall be evidence of the matters stated in the document, without proof of the signature or authority of the person signing it.

(33).—Information to be given to exhibitors with respect to registration of films.

(1) A renter who, in the period beginning at the commencement of this Act and ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and forty-eight, delivers a registered film to an exhibitor in Great Britain for public exhibition therein shall, in such manner, and at such time, as may be prescribed, notify to the exhibitor the title and registered length of the film, the fact that it is registered as a British film or registered as a foreign film, as the case may be, and any such other particulars for the time being recorded in the register with respect to the film as may be prescribed.

(2) If any renter fails to comply with the provisions of this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds.

PART IV.

PROVISIONS AS TO PERSONS EMPLOYED BY MAKERS OF CINEMATOGRAPH FILMS.

(34).—Wages and conditions of employment of persons employed by makers of cinematograph films.

(1) The wages paid by any person carrying on in Great Britain the business of making films to which this Act applies to persons employed by him in connection with that business, and the conditions of employment of persons so employed, shall, unless agreed upon by the employer and by organisation² representative of the persons employed, be not less favourable to the person employed than the wages which would be payable, and the conditions which would have to be observed, under a contract which complied with the requirements of any resolution of the House of Commons for the time being in force applicable to contracts of Government departments; and if any dispute arises as to what wages ought to be paid, or what conditions ought to be observed, in accordance with this section, it shall, if not otherwise disposed of, be referred by the Board of Trade to the industrial court for settlement.

(2) Where any matter is referred to the industrial court under this section, the court, in arriving at its decision, shall have regard to any determination that may be brought to its notice relating to the wages or conditions of service of persons employed in a capacity similar to that of the persons to whom the reference relates, being a determination contained in a decision of a joint industrial council, conciliation board or other similar body, or in an agreement between organisations representative of employers and workpeople.

(3) Where any award has been made by the industrial court upon a dispute referred to that court under this section, then, as from the date of the award or from such later date as the court may direct, it shall be an implied term of the contract between the employer and workers to whom the award applies that the rate of wages to be paid, or the conditions of employment to be observed, under the contract shall, until varied in accordance with the provisions of this section, be in accordance with the award.

PART V.

GENERAL AND SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS.

(35).—Films to which Act applies.

The films to which this Act applies are all cinematograph films other than—

- (a) films consisting wholly or mainly of photographs which, at the time when they were taken, were means of communicating news, or
- (b) films made wholly or mainly for the purpose of commercial advertisement, or
- (c) films certified by the Board of Education under subsection (2) of section seven of the Finance Act, 1935, as being entitled to exemption from customs duties under the convention for facilitating the international circulation of films of an educational character which is referred to in that subsection.

(1) The Board of Trade, after consulting the Cinematograph Films Council and considering its advice in the matter, may lay before Parliament the draft of an order directing that any provisions of this Act or of an order under Part III of this Act which specify a sum to which—

- (a) the labour costs of a film, or the quotient arrived at by dividing the amount of the labour costs of the film by the length thereof, or
 - (b) the price paid or payable for the acquisition of the right to distribute a film in a foreign country,
- must amount for any particular purpose, shall have effect as if for any reference in those provisions to the said sum there were substituted a reference to such other sum as may be specified in the order; and if each House of Parliament resolves that the order be made, the Board shall make the order in terms of the draft, and the order shall come into operation on such date as may be specified therein.

(2) The power conferred by the preceding subsection to lay in draft before Parliament and to make an order shall be construed as including a power, exercisable in the like manner and subject to the like condition, to lay in draft before Parliament and to make an order varying or revoking an order having effect by virtue of that subsection.

(37).—Annual returns to be made by renters and exhibitors.

(1) Every person who has, in the year beginning at the commencement of this Act or any of the nine succeeding years, carried on business as a renter in Great Britain shall—

- (a) within one month after the end of that year, or within such longer period as the Board of Trade may in any particular case allow, furnish to the Board a return stating whether or not he has in that year acquired for distribution in Great Britain any film which is a registered film, and, if he has done so, giving with respect to each registered film which has been so acquired by him in that year such particulars as may be prescribed, being particulars which the Board consider necessary for the purposes of this Act, and
- (b) not later than the end of April in the year next following that in which a return has been made by him in pursuance of paragraph (a) of this subsection, furnish to the Board of Trade a supplementary return giving, with respect to any registered film acquired by him as aforesaid in the year to which the original return relates, such of the prescribed particulars as could not have been given in the original return:

Provided that, in relation to any such person who has ceased in any such year to carry on business as a renter in Great Britain, paragraph (a) of this subsection shall have effect as if for the reference in that paragraph to the end of that year, there were substituted a reference to the date in that year on which he ceased to carry on business as aforesaid.

(2) Any such return as aforesaid shall be admissible in evidence for the purpose of determining whether the films mentioned in the return as having been acquired by the person by whom the return was made were acquired by him for distribution in Great Britain.

(3) Every person who has, in any exhibitors' quota year, carried on business as an exhibitor at a theatre in Great Britain, shall, within one month after the end of that year, furnish to the Board of Trade a return stating whether or not he has in that year exhibited to the public at a theatre in Great Britain a film which is a registered film, and, if so—

- (a) specifying the dates in that year on which any registered film was exhibited by him to the public at that theatre, and, in relation to each of those dates, the number of times the film was so exhibited, and
 - (b) giving such other particulars (if any) with respect to the film as may be prescribed, being particulars which the Board consider necessary for the purposes of this Act;
- and the said return shall include a statement showing, in relation to each day in the said year on which cinematograph films were exhibited to the public at that theatre, the respective times at which the exhibition of films as aforesaid began and ended:

Provided that, if in any such year an exhibitor ceases to carry on the business of exhibiting registered films to the public at any particular theatre in Great Britain, the return to be made by him with respect to that theatre for that year shall be made within one month after the date on which he so ceases to carry on that business at that theatre.

(4) A return required by this section shall be deemed not to have been furnished in compliance with this section unless it is accompanied by a statutory declaration of the truth of the particulars contained in the return, being a declaration made by the person required to furnish the return.

(5) Every person by whom a return has been made to the Board of Trade in pursuance of this section, shall produce and furnish to the Board such books and other documents and other information by way of explanation of the return as the Board may require for the purposes of this Act.

(6) For the purposes of any proceedings which may be taken by virtue of this section, the fact that a person has been the holder of a renter's licence or of an exhibitor's licence shall be evidence that the said person has, in the year in respect of which the licence was granted, carried on business as a renter in Great Britain or carried on business as an exhibitor at a theatre in Great Britain, as the case may be.

(38).—Penalties in connection with the furnishing of information.

(1) If any person fails to produce, furnish or give to the Board of Trade, in accordance with the requirements of this Act, any book or other document, or any return, notification or other information which he is required by this Act so to produce, furnish or give, he shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding five pounds for every day during which the default continues.

(2) Any person who, in furnishing or giving any return, notification or other information for the purposes of any provisions of this Act, or, in recording any particulars in pursuance of this Act, knowingly or recklessly makes a statement false in a material particular, shall be guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and such fine.

(39).—Offences by corporations.

Where a body corporate is guilty of an offence under this Act, and it is proved that the offence occurred with the consent or connivance of, or was attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of the body corporate, he, as well as the body corporate, shall be deemed to be guilty of that offence and shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.

(40).—Regulations of Board of Trade.

(1) Subject to the following provisions of this section, the Board of Trade may make regulations prescribing anything which by this Act is required or authorised to be prescribed, and may make regulations prescribing—

(a) the form of applications for the registration of films or for licences under this Act.

(b) the particulars and evidence necessary for satisfying the Board that a film is a British film or is a film which ought to be registered under Part III of this Act as a renters' quota film, and

(c) the form of the returns to be made, and the record books to be kept, under this Act, and also regulations providing that any statutory declaration which a person is required by this Act to make shall be deemed to be properly made if it is made on his behalf by any such person as may be specified in the regulations; but no such regulations prescribing the payment of fees shall be of any effect unless those regulations have been made with the consent of the Treasury.

(2) Any regulations prescribing the amount of any fees shall be so framed as to secure, as nearly as may be, that the aggregate amount produced by those fees will be equal to the amount of the expenses incidental to the carrying out of this Act and the carrying out of the Act of 1927 after the commencement of this Act; but the amount of the fees payable on applications for the registration of films or for licences under this Act shall not exceed the amounts specified in the Second Schedule to this Act.

(1) There shall be a council to be called "the Cinematograph Films Council," consisting of twenty-one members appointed by the Board of Trade; and of the members of the said Council—

(a) eleven (of whom one shall be the chairman of the Council) shall be persons appointed as being independent persons,

(b) two shall be persons appointed as representing makers of British films,

(c) two shall be persons appointed as representing renters,

(d) four shall be persons appointed as representing exhibitors, and

(e) two shall be persons appointed as representing persons employed by makers of British films.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Board of Trade to satisfy themselves, with respect to any person whom they propose to appoint under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection to be a member of the said Council, or who is a member of the Council by virtue of an appointment made under that paragraph, that he will have or has, as the case may be, no such financial or commercial interest as is likely to affect him in the discharge of his functions as a member of the Council; and any such person shall whenever requested by the Board so to do, furnish to them such information as they consider necessary for the performance of their duty under this sub-section.

Before appointing a person to be a representative member of the said Council, the Board of Trade shall consult such bodies, if any, as appear to the Board to be representative of the interest concerned.

The Board of Trade shall not appoint to be a member of the said Council any person who has been convicted of an offence under the Act of 1927 or this Act.

(3) The functions of the said Council shall be—

- (a) to keep under review the progress of the cinematograph film industry in Great Britain with particular reference to the development of that branch of the said industry which is engaged in the making of films, and to report thereon to the Board of Trade at such times as the Council thinks fit,
- (b) to advise the Board in any matter relating to the cinematograph film industry in which the advice of the Council is sought by the Board (whether at the request of any persons appearing to the Board to have a substantial interest in the matter or otherwise), and
- (c) to make to the Board, as soon as may be after the end of the year beginning at the commencement of this Act and each subsequent year, a report of the proceedings of the Council during that year.

(4) As soon as may be after receiving any report made to them under paragraph (c) of the last preceding subsection, the Board of Trade shall lay copies of the report before Parliament.

(5) The Board of Trade shall furnish to the said Council such information as the Council may reasonably require for the proper discharge of its functions.

(6) The quorum of the said Council shall be such number, not being less than ten, as the Board of Trade may determine; and the Council shall have power to regulate its own procedure, and may act notwithstanding a vacancy among the members thereof.

(7) A member of the said Council shall hold and vacate office in accordance with the terms of the instrument under which he is appointed, and a member of the Council who ceases to hold office shall be eligible for re-appointment; but no person shall, on any occasion, be appointed to be a member of the Council for more than three years:

Provided that, if any member of the said Council is convicted of an offence under the Act of 1927 or this Act, his office as a member of the Council shall forthwith become vacant.

(8) The said Council may, subject to any such limitations and conditions as it thinks proper delegate any of its functions to a committee of the Council consisting of such members of the Council as it may determine.

(42).—Institution of proceedings, and service of process.

(1) Proceedings for an offence under this Act shall not, in England, be instituted otherwise than by the Board of Trade.

(2) Any process to be served on any person for the purposes of this Act shall, if that person is out of Great Britain but has a place of business in Great Britain, be deemed to be duly served if it addressed to that person and left at, or sent by post to, that place of business.

(43).—Exercise of powers of Board of Trade.

Anything required or authorised by or under this Act to be done by, to or before the Board of Trade, may be done by, to or before the President of the Board, any secretary, under-secretary or assistant-secretary of the Board, or any person authorised in that behalf by the President.

(44).—Interpretation.

(1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the meanings hereby respectively assigned to them, that is to say:—

“the Act of 1927” means the Cinematograph Films Act, 1927;

“the Cinematograph Films Council” means the Cinematograph Films Council constituted under this Part of this Act;

“exhibitor” means a person carrying on the business of exhibiting cinematograph films to the public;

“exhibitor’s licence” means, in relation to any person, a licence under Part I of this Act authorising him to carry on business as an exhibitor;

“exhibitors’ quota year” means the year beginning with the first day of October nineteen hundred and thirty-eight or any of the nine succeeding years;

“foreign country” means a country or territory which for the time being does not form part of His Majesty’s dominions;

“labour costs,” in relation to a film, means the total amount of the payments paid or payable by the maker of the film in respect of the labour or services of persons directly engaged in the making of the film, in so far as those payments are attributable to the making of that film, but does not include payments in respect of copyright; and for the purposes of this definition—

(a) the author of the scenario of a film shall be deemed to be a person directly engaged in the making of the film, and

(b) a person shall not be taken to be directly engaged in the making of a film by reason only—

(i) that he is financially interested in the making of a film, or is engaged, in an administrative or clerical capacity, as an officer or servant of an undertaking concerned with the making of the film, or

(ii) that he supplies goods used in the making of the film or is in the employment of a person who supplies such goods ;

“long film” means a film the length of which is not less than three thousand feet

“maker,” in relation to a film, means the person by whom the arrangements necessary for the making of the film are undertaken ;

“the register,” means the register of films registered under Part III of this Act, and “registration” means registration under that Part of this Act ;

“registered” means registered either under Part III of this Act or under Part II of the Act of 1927 ;

“registered length,” in relation to a film, means the length of the film as registered for the time being

“renter” means a person who carries on the business of distributing cinematograph films to exhibitors, and, in relation to any renters’ quota period, includes a person who has carried on that business in that period ;

“renter’s licence” means, in relation to any person, a licence under Part I of this Act authorising him to carry on business as a renter ;

“renters’ quota period” means the year beginning with the first day of April nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, or the period of six months beginning with the first day of April or October in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine or in any of the eight succeeding years ;

“serial film or series of films” means a serial film or series of films consisting of a number of parts not exceeding thirteen, each of which does not exceed two thousand feet in length, and which are intended to be exhibited on successive dates at intervals not exceeding fourteen days ;

“short film” means a film the length of which is less than three thousand feet ;

“studio” means a building constructed or adapted for the purpose of making films therein, and includes any land occupied with such a building, and a studio shall be deemed to be used in making a film if any part of that film, or of any other film used in making it, consists of photographs taken in that studio ; and “studio scenes” shall be construed accordingly ;

“theatre” means any premises used for the exhibition of films to the public, except that the expression shall not, in relation to any year,—

(a) be construed as including any church, chapel or other place of religious worship, or any hall or other premises used in connection with, and for the purposes of, any church, chapel or other such place as aforesaid, if the number of days on which registered films are exhibited in that year at the church, chapel, place, hall or premises (exclusive of any exhibition forming part of a religious service) does not exceed six, or

(b) be construed as including any premises used in that year for providing entertainments at which the exhibition of films is only part of the programme, if the total length of the registered film or films exhibited in the course of any one of those entertainments does not exceed two thousand feet ;

“trade-shown,” in relation to a film, means—

(a) displayed within the administrative county of London to exhibitors or their agents in a building, and under conditions, allowing for the satisfactory viewing of the film, after announcement to such persons at least seven days before the display the display not being open to any member of the public on payment, or

(b) displayed to exhibitors or their agents on one occasion on which the film is exhibited to the public at a theatre in Great Britain during the first four consecutive days on which the film is so exhibited, the display taking place after announcement to such persons at least seven days before the display.

(2) Any film registered under the Act of 1927 as a British film (not being a film which, by virtue of paragraph (ii) of the proviso to subsection (1) of section twenty-seven of that Act, is to be deemed to be a registered film for the purposes of the provisions of that Act other than those relating to the renters’ quota) shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to be registered also as a renters’ quota film.

(3) A person shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to acquire a film for distribution in any manner if he acquires the right to distribute the film in that manner.

(4) Any reference in this Act to distributing, or the distribution of, a film in any country or area shall be construed as a reference to distributing, or the distribution of, the film to exhibitors in that country or area for public exhibition therein.

(5) For the purposes of this Act, the making of a film shall be deemed not to include the production of blank film or of positives intended for public exhibition, or the production of negatives by means of any process used for making copies of negatives.

In this sub-section the expressions "blank film," "positives" and "negatives" have the same meanings respectively as in section three of the Finance Act, 1925.

(6) For the purposes of this Act, registered films shall be deemed to be exhibited at more than one theatre at the same time if any part of the period during which any one registered film is exhibited at a theatre coincides with any part of the period during which any one registered film is exhibited at another theatre.

(7) For the purposes of this Act, each part of a serial film or series of films shall be deemed to be a separate film.

(8) Any reference in this Act to His Majesty's dominions shall be construed as including a reference to any British protectorate, and to any such territory, being a territory in respect of which a mandate on behalf of the League of Nations is being exercised by His Majesty, as His Majesty may designate by Order in Council.

Any Order in Council under this sub-section may be varied or revoked by a subsequent Order in Council.

(45).—Repeals and transitional provisions.

(1) The provisions of the Act of 1927 specified in the Third Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed.

(2) No film shall be registered under Part II of the Act of 1927 after the end of March nineteen hundred and thirty-eight; and any application for the registration of a film under the said Part II being an application which has been made before the commencement of this Act and has not been determined before the commencement of this Act, shall be treated as an application made under Part III of this Act for the registration of the film under that Part of this Act.

(3) Any reference in the Act of 1927 to a licence or to a licensed person shall be construed as a reference to a licence granted under that Act, or, as the case may be, to a person holding an appropriate licence granted under that Act which is for the time being in force; but the power of the court under paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section twenty-four of the said Act to order that no licence shall be issued to a person may be exercised with respect to the issue of a licence under this Act, as well as with respect to the issue of a licence under that Act.

(4) Section eighteen of the Act of 1927 shall not apply in relation to any acquisition of a film after the end of March nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, and section twenty-one of the said Act shall not apply in relation to any exhibition of a film after the end of September nineteen hundred and thirty-eight.

(5) The reference in subsection (2) of section twenty-three of the Act of 1927 to the advisory committee thereafter mentioned shall be construed as a reference to the Cinematograph Films Council.

(6) Any regulations made by the Board of Trade under section twenty-nine of the Act of 1927 shall, if and so far as those regulations were in force immediately before the commencement of this Act and provide for matters other than the charging of fees, continue in force notwithstanding the repeal of that section, but may be revoked as if they were regulations under this Act, and the sum by which the aggregate amount produced up to the commencement of this Act by the fees charged under the Act of 1927 exceeds the expenses incidental to the carrying out of that Act up to the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to form part of the amount produced by the fees chargeable under this Act.

(7) The expressions "registered," "registration" and "the register," wherever used in the Act of 1927, shall be construed as meaning respectively registered under that Act, registration under that Act and the register of films registered under that Act, except that in section nineteen of the said Act the expression "registered" shall, in relation to the year ending with the thirtieth day of September nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, be construed as meaning registered either under Part II of that Act or under Part III of this Act.

(8) Any Order in Council made in pursuance of subsection (5) of section twenty-seven of the Act of 1927, shall, if and so far as the Order was in force immediately before the commencement of this Act, have effect as if any reference in the Order to the said subsection (5) included a reference to subsection (8) of the last preceding section of this Act, and may be varied or revoked as if it were an Order under the said sub-section (8).

(1) This Act may be cited as the Cinematograph Films Act, 1938.

(2) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of April nineteen hundred and thirty-eight.

(3) This Act shall not extend to Northern Ireland; and for the purposes of the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, the enactment of legislation for purposes similar to the purposes of this Act shall be deemed not to be beyond the powers of the Parliament of Northern Ireland by reason only that such legislation may affect trade with places outside Northern Ireland.

Subsection (4) of section thirty-three.

ASSESSMENT APPEAL

Reduction Allowed on E.P.T.—By allowing, with costs, an exhibitor's appeal that E.P.T. should be taken into account in the assessment of kinemas, the Chester Quarter Sessions, on March 21, gave a decision of considerable importance to exhibitors.

The appellants were K. and W. Cinemas, Ltd., of Whitefriars House, Friar Lane, Nottingham, who appealed against the assessment of the Tudor, West Kirby, and the Kingsway, Hoylake. The appellants said "it was unfair to assess on takings of a peak year and that in arriving at a basis of assessment, E.P.T. must be taken into account.

It was argued by the respondents, represented by Scott Henderson, K.C., that the method of assessment based on takings adopted in the case was general throughout Britain.

The appeal was allowed; the assessment of the Tudor was reduced to £932 gross value, £744 rateable value; and that of the Kingsway to £898 gross and £745 rateable, a reduction of about £40 and £50 respectively. No reason was given for the decision, the judgment only announcing the reduction.

QUOTA OFFENCES

West End Quota Fault.—Columbia Picture Corporation, and Fredk. Gordon Hill, secretary, were summoned at Bow Street on September 13 for failing to exhibit at the Prince of Wales Theatre, Coventry Street, W., the prescribed proportion of British long films.

B. M. Symmons, for the Board of Trade, said the company rented the theatre for 11 weeks for the showing of a film, "Cover Girl," from June 8 until August 27, 1944. After the first week they put on with it a British film, "South American George." This was shown for eight days, and another British film, "Freedom Radio," was then substituted. This was exhibited only at 10 a.m. on week days, and the Act, which required a quota of 15 per cent. of British films, was not fully complied with.

The company was fined £75, with £25 costs, and Mr. Hill was fined £20.

Doncaster Exhibitor Fined.—For failing to show a sufficient number of British films at Askern Picture House, near Doncaster, W. Eckard, of Harrogate, managing director of Star Cinemas (London), was fined £10 with £5 costs at Doncaster in November. Star Cinemas were fined £5 with £2 10s. costs.

BREACHES OF REGULATIONS

Films Shown in Unlicensed Premises.—Picture Hall, Ltd., Leigh, Lancs., were summoned on February 16 for allowing the Grand Cinema, Leigh, to be used for the exhibition of films without a licence; with failing to have a sufficient staff of attendants and with failing to nominate some person to be in charge of the fire-fighting appliances.

The Bench imposed a fine of £10 on each charge, £30 in all.

Ticket Irregularities.—Fines relating to Entertainment Duty regulations were imposed at Lymington (Hants), in August.

Frederick Norman Redhead, former manager of the Waverley, New Milton, was fined £20 for failure to issue tickets in strict numerical order, and the proprietors of the kinema, Mayfair (New Milton), Ltd., were fined £10 on a similar summons. There was a further £10 penalty against the company for an improper return of admissions being made for a date in January last, and Redhead was also fined £20 for aiding and abetting this offence. The firm and the former manager each had to pay £10 costs.

Revenue Offence.—For failing to return to patrons the appropriate portion of the ticket issued to them on admission, Peter Foy, managing director of the Foy and McGovern Cinema Co., Ltd., of Newbridge, was fined £262 10s. on 21 counts by District Justice Moloney at Newbridge in August.

THE Model 7 Universal AvoMeter is the world's most widely used combination electrical measuring instrument. It provides 50 ranges of readings on a 5" scale and is guaranteed accurate to B.S. first-grade limits on D.C. and A.C. from 25 to 100 c/s. It is self-contained, compact and portable, simple to operate, and almost impossible to damage electrically. It is protected by an automatic cut-out against damage through severe overload, and is provided with automatic compensation for variations in ambient temperature.

Western Electric will present

The Westrex Sound System

Of completely new design, this latest achievement of Western Electric delivers sound of quality and realism never previously available to the Industry.

The Westar Projector

Conceived for modern conditions it is totally enclosed, and with its superlative performance represents a marked advance in projector engineering.

FILM EXHIBITION AND TECHNIQUE

By JAMES BENSON.

THE sweeping changes recommended in the Monopoly Report of a special Cinematograph Films Council committee, which reported last year, have not been adopted and translated into legislation, as certain interests in the industry had hoped. The whole report, together with comments thereon by the trade associations were referred to a "working party" representative of all sections of the industry, which was able to smooth out a great many differences of opinion. The then President of the Board of Trade, Hugh Dalton, pointed out at the first meeting that the present Act had still to run for another three years and that legislation to cover some of the suggestions could not be undertaken at the moment. His successor, Sir Stafford Cripps, is understood to have the Monopoly Report in mind for future legislation.

The technical matters dealt with in the report were comparatively few. Allocation of studio space has tended to settle itself as studios have been de-requisitioned. Mr. Dalton favoured retention by the Government of a studio for producers of non-commercial films.

Full support was forthcoming for the suggestions regarding technical training and apprenticeship, but with respect to the former nothing tangible has been done. A plan put forward by a meeting convened by the British Kinematograph Society for the setting up of a Permanent Advisory Council on technical education, on which the Ministries of Labour and Education would be represented, has not so far been able to function. Some hostility to the scheme which was at first evidenced by the trade unions who considered technical education their own concern, may have been responsible for lack of progress in this direction, but recently the N.A.T.K.E. has recognised that the project is one deserving of support. The B.K.S. has, however, largely expanded its activities during the year and has provided a number of lectures for technicians in all departments of great value. It has also arranged that certain of its lectures shall be repeated in provincial key-centres.

In the matter of apprenticeship of projectionists, useful discussions have been undertaken with the Ministry of Labour by representatives of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association and the National Association of Theatre and Kine Employees, who are at present formulating a scheme for the Ministry's approval. (It is worthy of note, in passing, to record that French trade unions have framed a scheme of apprenticeship which they hope to see adopted. This scheme was summarised in the Ideal Kinema of June last.)

The suggestion in the report that a Tribunal should be set up to deal with trade problems was modified to an Arbitration Board, but no further move has taken place in this direction.

No further step has been taken by the Association of Cine Technicians to implement the suggestion of apprenticeship of studio technicians which it outlines in a manifesto dated January 1, 1945.

To the Sussex branch of the C.E.A., and particularly to A. J. Sadler, one of its committee, goes the credit of being the first to take action under the Government scheme for training disabled ex-Service men as projectionists. So far, this is the only scheme of its kind. Training is given at the Brighton Technical College under a technical instructor, and the Ministry of Labour makes a maintenance grant of from £3 10s. to £4 per week during the period of training, which may last for five months.

Other districts, especially Nottingham and Paisley, have inaugurated courses in projection technique for juniors, which are being well attended.

Hopes that there would be a plentiful supply of projectionists as men were demobbed were not fulfilled during 1945. Indeed, the situation was in some respects worse, as juniors were called up without ex-Service men being available to fill positions vacated.

THE FILM CARE MOVEMENT.

THE early promise of the various Film-Care Movements which were inaugurated in provincial centres during 1944 has not been so fully reached as seemed at one time possible. Some of the early enthusiasts carried on with the work, often, however, without encouragement from the renters end, and complaints regarding the condition of prints again grew to earlier proportions. This was partly due to the fact that owing to the small quantity of film stock issued to renters, prints had to extend their working lives, but the main cause of bad condition is the carelessness and inefficiency of newcomers to the projection room. It is much to be hoped that as staffs are augmented with the return of men from the Forces, a higher standard of projection and film care will be reached.

THE 2,000 FT. REEL.

STEPS are at length being taken to insure that films are dispatched in reels of about 2,000 ft. Renters who have done this report that the issue of the longer reel greatly minimises mutilation, and facilitates projection owing to the less handling which ensues. A problem which is not yet solved is the manner in which the 2,000 ft. reel should be sent out to exhibitors. Unless sent out on a spool, the film is likely to "telescope" and become damaged, while on the other hand, if the spool on which the film is dispatched is used on the projector any bending of the spool in transit would ruin the film during projection. The ideal method would seem to be a spool which could not be used for projection.

The larger spool also brings up the question of transit, the size, weight and shape of transit cases. Specimen cases have been obtained from America where the 2,000 ft. reel has been used for some time, and these are being used in this country with a view to improvement of the model and its adaptation to British use. There are a few differences in regulations to be overcome, but as these do not imperil safety, little apprehension is felt regarding the eventual use of the new size reel and transit case.

DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS.

IN the closing months of 1945, a new company was set up with the approval of the Government to be the channel through which ex-Service equipment surplus to requirement might be reconditioned and disposed of to purchasers. The company, the Kinematograph Apparatus and Disposal Association is a non-profitmaking organisation, with capital limited by guarantee, having on its board representatives of apparatus companies and of the Government, which will act as a clearing-house for material no longer required. It will receive it and pass it on to the manufacturers for reconditioning at prices to be agreed for each apparatus, payment being made to the Government department through the Association, which will charge a small percentage for its services. It is anticipated that during the year 1946 a large quantity of equipment will pass through this channel, some going abroad for foreign markets.

FILM STOCK SHORTAGE.

SHORTAGE of film stock caused considerable difficulty during the year, necessitating more economies in use as a result of a 15 per cent. cut to renters upon film used during 1944. Prospects of restoration of the cut were held out in the closing weeks of the year, and early in 1946, the Board of Trade was able to allocate a footage of 20,000,000 to renters to allow more copies of entertainment films to be printed. A plea from the newsreel companies for more stock to enable the present system of "bicycling" copies to be ended, was unsuccessful as was also the request of London exhibitors to return to the former release of copies in London to two areas, North and South, instead of three. The change would have absorbed more stock than the Board of Trade was able to allocate, as it felt that the position of the late-run exhibitors would be best served by placing film in the hands of renters for the production of more copies when they were needed for late runs. The provision of 20,000,000 ft. of film from the Belgian firm of Gevaert, Ltd., was of great value during the worst time of scarcity, as was a further footage of 60,000,000 in the early weeks of 1946.

TELEVISION MARKS TIME.

TELEVISION has not touched the trade very closely. Indeed, it has hardly touched the private viewer in this country yet. Broadcasts have been carried out with a view to testing apparatus, but no further step has been taken, and the position is very much what it was at this time last year. It is not thought that home television will become possible before the middle of 1946.

America has been vocal in various directions, discussing extension of channels for the use of various agencies which plan transmission. A generally favoured plan is the establishment of a broadcasting centre in large cities which would receive images from a distant transmission station and re-diffuse them through cables to theatres on the circuit by underground lines.

A new television tube which gives brilliant pictures with very low illumination, has been demonstrated by RCA in U.S., who have given it the name of Image Orthicon. Reports of the demonstration suggest that this tube is going to revolutionise the business of registering pictures by simplifying the process and decreasing the necessary illumination.

RCA has also demonstrated colour television by the use of mechanically-driven colour filters both in camera and receivers. The company does not, however, see the colour picture in use for five years even for home receivers. Capt. West, who visited America in the summer of 1945, did not think that the U.S. was much, if any, in front of Great Britain in television, although the coming of the Image Orthicon camera must be accounted an advance.

WEAR AND TEAR ALLOWANCE.

THE supply of new equipment in kinemas is a problem which exhibitors have still to face in view of the urge made by the Government to ensure as much preparation as possible of British manufacture for export. Second only to this is the problem of allowance for wear and tear on existing apparatus, furnishings and equipment which have been felt by the trade to be very inadequate.

A slight alleviation has been made during the current year as a result of representations made to the Board of Inland Revenue by the C.E.A., when the rates of depreciation on kinema equipment and the actual state of much of it now in use was firmly emphasised.

After interviews and correspondence with Somerset House, the Board offered, and the Bureau advised acceptance of, the following :—

Organs	7½ „
Seating	7½ „

Soft furnishings will continue to be dealt with on a repairs and renewals basis.

The Income Tax Act, 1945, has made several revolutionary changes in Income Tax law and practice, the most noteworthy being the initial allowances in respect of buildings and plants purchased, and the annual allowance in respect of buildings, capital expenditure on patents and scientific research. Exhibitors, however, will not benefit by the allowances in respect of buildings as representations have already been made to the Inland Revenue who have resisted the suggestion that kinema buildings should qualify as industrial buildings for the purpose of the Act. Exhibitors will, however, be entitled to the new allowance for Machinery and Plant.

SUNDAY OPENING.

SUNDAY opening difficulties asserted themselves in various areas during 1946, though not with great seriousness. As recorded in the Year Book for 1945, Surrey County Council announced its intention to prohibit the attendance of children at kinemas on Sundays and this was met by the decision of the C.E.A. to test the position in the Courts. The writ was withdrawn however, when the Council altered its condition to requiring that children attending kinemas on Sunday should be accompanied by parent or guardian.

Objection by local authorities to opening on Sundays was met with in other areas, notably Northampton, Derby, Eccles, and Warrington, while Manchester sought to alter a "gentleman's agreement" into a licence condition. This, however, was opposed. In two localities towards the end of the year, where opposition to opening was manifested, Ilford and Luton, preparations were made to hold polls of voters early in the New Year.

Lancashire exhibitors feeling that Stockport's conditions for Sunday opening are onerous, support local exhibitors in their decision not to accept Sunday opening on those terms.

Draft orders under Regulation 42B expire on December 31, 1947. C.E.A. members who are opening under those conditions, have been recommended to make application for Draft Orders under the 1932 Act.

AID TO THE GOVERNMENT.

THE ready co-operation of the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association with Government departments in the screening of official films continued throughout the year, but with a diminution in number towards the end of the year when it was decided by the Ministry of Information to make the issue of films monthly instead of weekly. Ministry of Food "flashes" are still produced, and their continuance is still seen, as the Ministry wishes to inform patrons on matters of food which have become one of the most pressing problems of the time with the world scarcity. Indeed, Sir Ben Smith, Minister of Food, thanking the C.E.A. General Council delegates for their help to his department, hinted that he might have to make further requests to them during 1946 for publicity assistance.

These official films have been efficiently handled during the years as in the other war years by National Screen Service, which also carries on the greater part of the trailer business of the country. Footage used in supplying Government shorts for propaganda purposes during the war was estimated at the beginning of 1945 to be 20,000,000, made up of 7,000,000 for Ministry of Information shorts, 6,000,000 for National Savings Committee, 5,000,000 for Ministry of Food "flashes" and 2,000,000 for other purposes.

For the four years up to the end of the war, 550 Government propaganda films of various kinds were shown, including 150 Ministry of Information short films, 160 Ministry of Food "flashes," 150 Ministry of Information tags issued with newsreels, 90 National Savings films, in addition to appeals for national funds. Arnold Williams estimates that the Government has had during that time the use of the screen, freely given by the industry, of about 200,000 hours, or a gift to the Government of between £3,000,000 to £4,000,000 at average advertising rates. Also during that period, there was the lending of kinemas to the Service authorities for screening of instructional films for the Home Guard and the Services of which no account was taken of the hours employed.

BARRING PROBLEMS.

THE problem of barring of product by one kinema of another within varying distances, sometimes up to 12 miles, which had seemed in the closing weeks of 1944 to be proceeding to a series of agreed settlements, was suddenly intensified at the end of February by the resignation of the A.B.C. circuit from the Joint Conciliation Committee in consequence of a decision given by the Committee which it thought unfair to its interests. Conciliation efforts were immediately undertaken and it was pointed out that as the Trade had recently pointed out to the Government the operation of the Conciliation as an indication that differences could be composed within the Industry, such a break would be inimical to trade interests and invite Government interference with its affairs.

Eventually, a new system of dealing with barring disputes was evolved, by which an attempt should first be made to settle the differences directly between the parties, failing which the matter should come before the Joint Committee, and if the award of that committee was unacceptable, each party to nominate a representative who would appoint a third. The three would become an Appeal Committee whose decision would be final. On subsequent occasions when this Appeal Committee was called into being, Sam Eckman and Hugh Gaitskell, M.P., were chosen as the nominated third party, with successful results.

ORGANISATIONS OF MANAGERS.

FOLLOWING the setting-up of a Cinema Managers Federation during 1944, and the consequent existence of two organisations competing for manager membership, a new step was taken by the C.E.A. to form a managers' section within the membership of the C.E.A. The necessary alteration of C.E.A. rules was made at the annual meeting of the association in April to allow the formation of the section, and in subsequent months preparations were made for the constitution of the new body to be formulated. The draft was duly submitted to the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies and was presented to the General Council at its September meeting by the Legal, Finance and Parliamentary Committee with the comment that the Section represented completely autonomous trade union machinery and the remark that this fact "is a complete answer to any of the lurid epithets which may be expected to assail it."

The report stated that negotiations had not been broken off with the Cinema Managers Association, which still operated under the secretaryship of Mr. Pember, but which at that date had not been registered as a trade union.

As approved by the Chief Registrar, the amendment to rule which was agreed at the Annual Meeting was altered by an omission which left the rule reading: "To organise managers assistant managers relief managers and trainee managers into a separate section."

It was announced at the September meeting that the new Managers Section would operate by the services of branch secretaries being available and matters relating to labour conditions of employment of managers being considered with the branch. The separate sections in the branch areas would have the opportunity of setting up a National Negotiation Committee to discuss matters with the General Council. Any agreements reached would be registered with the Ministry of Labour, and conciliation boards would be set up in each branch area. At the 1946 Annual General Meeting of the C.E.A. a further amendment to rule will be proposed to enable non-member managers to join the separate section for its purposes at special subscription rates.

(In an article in the January 17, 1946, issue of the "KINE," W. R. Fuller gives as the reason for the establishment of the separate section the inability of managers to run their own association in the past, two attempts having failed on economic grounds. W. Pember, in an article in the October 11, 1945 "KINE.," set out his view why the C.E.A. Managers Section could not possibly help managers.)

ASSESSMENT ACTIVITIES.

KEENNESS of rating surveyors to increase the rating of property within their area has led them as in past years to view kinemas and theatres as likely subjects for their attention. Decreasing takings in some areas over the past six months should, however, convince them that the grounds upon which their estimates were based were unsound. The hypothetical rent of a theatre or its possible purchase price in relation to earnings will have to be devised downwards from some of the high levels which have been set in some areas.

One of the most important cases which were before Quarter Sessions during 1945 was at Northampton, where the Corporation appealed against the Assessment Committee of the Town Council in allowing an appeal by P.C.T. Theatres, Ltd., against revaluation of the Exchange kinema. The assessment of the kinema was reduced as a result of the appeal, which was dismissed, the Recorder criticising the Corporation valuer, who "unwisely, flatly and obstinately refused to look into the future." The rateable value of the Exchange was reduced from the Corporation's figure of £3,555 to £2,930. It was against this amount that the Corporation appealed.

The need for vigilance when re-assessments are in the air is emphasised again in reports by the C.E.A. Rating Surveyors (Sidney H. and H. D. Graham motion), and the services of the various valuers to the Trade should be sought when difficulty is experienced.

Harris and Gillow, Ltd., as usual has been in the forefront in a number of kinema deals and valuations and record a volume of business well up to that of previous years.

Russell & Co., kinema surveyors and valuers, report that during 1945 their services were greatly in demand, particularly with regard to deferred repairs and valuations, and a large number of important contracts are in hand for 1946 for similar work from well-known English and Scottish circuits. This firm has also been instrumental in acquiring, on behalf of clients, a number of building sites for the erection of super kinemas so soon as conditions permit.

J. Rowland Sales, Ltd., records a remarkably good year, a number of very important properties having been sold. Business done includes valuation of the London Provincial Cinema Circuit, comprising fifteen theatres, Louis Morris's circuit and a number of independent exhibitors' kinemas.

The company has taken the whole of the top floor of Faraday House.

BUILDING AND DESIGN.

VERY little has been done in Great Britain to restore and rebuild kinemas damaged during the war, but in Eire a certain amount of building is planned. Exhibitors generally, while wishing to turn their properties into profit-making enterprises realise that domestic dwellings are of first importance, but hope for an early release from restrictions so that badly needed repairs can be carried out. The planning by the Government of new manufacturing centres must of necessity include opportunities of recreation as well as of employment, and in such areas kinemas are likely to be erected. Similarly, where there is a paucity of entertainment houses due to war damage, rebuilding should be early undertaken.

It is likely that the note of austerity will be seen in any new building during the first stages, owing to scarcity of material and high costs. In America, plans are going ahead for the construction of prefabricated kinemas by a corporation headed by Charles P. Skouras, brother of the 20th-Fox chief. Whether the prefabricated method could be adopted in this country is very doubtful, the success depending upon a large demand for standard slabs.

CONCENTRATION ON EXPORT.

THE need to build up export of British goods in order to restore the country's economic position to the standard which it enjoyed before the war, and even to increase the pre-war level, has set manufacturers a task upon which a great deal of their energies are centred. G.B.-Kalee has introduced to the export market a new projector model for overseas use entirely, known as the Kalee XV, but this is not very different from the Kalee XII. of the Home market, the difference being made to suit conditions of climate other than our own.

PROJECTION ROOM EQUIPMENT.

FOR the most part manufacturers of projection equipment are preparing prototypes for the time when, material and labour being more plentiful they can be supplied in quantity for waiting customers. J. Frank Brockliss, Ltd., is supplying the Super-Simplex projector, and it is interesting to learn that an installation in Paris for Fox Movietone News, is operating with the Simplex Four-Star Sound System.

G.B.-Kalee is doing well with its last-introduced Vulcan arc which can be operated with A.C. or D.C., a compact inductor unit enabling a smooth supply where the A.C. current is used.

Another company which announces a new sound equipment adaptable to all kinds of projectors is Sound and Scene Services, Ltd., of 145, Wardour Street, W.1. This is made in three standard sizes for auditoriums up to 750, from 750 to 2,000, and over 2,000.

Jack Roe hopes soon to be able to supply once again the well-known Ashcraft Suplex Arcs (Type D. and E.) and also the revolutionary Ashcraft Cyclex arclamp. This is an A.C. arc which it is claimed absolutely eliminates all flicker and cuts running costs.

Restrictions at present in force, on imports, prevent Jack Roe at the moment from supplying in this country the "Wenzel" "Ace" 35 mm. projector complete with "Wenzel Ace" WSR-2 soundhead for which sole U.K. distributorship has been secured.

KEEP GB-KALEE IN MIND For CARPETS

It is hoped to be able to make this projector available very soon. In the meantime "service" to exhibitors is given.

Among the smaller accessories supplied from stock are metal spools, rewinders, spool cabinets, mirrors, screens, etc.

Western Electric expects to have its "Westar" projector ready for delivery before the end of 1946. Essentially a product of the latest engineering methods it concedes nothing to tradition. The possessor of outstanding performance, the "Westar" is totally enclosed and is of particularly clean and straight-forward design. Bearings are sealed for long life and freedom from oil leaks. While its use is not confined to Western Electric's Westrex Sound System (q.v.), the two marry to make an exceptionally workmanlike combination both in appearance and performance.

Duosonic, the trade appellation given by British Acoustic to its theatre equipment is marketed by an associated G.B.-Kalee company, and the various improvements that have been effected from time to time are winning an increasing public for this system, mainly employed with Kalee projectors.

The same type of sound system is incorporated on the widely known G.B. N. type of projector which has found such favour for naval installations and for set-ups in out of the way places all over the world where British troops have been supplied with film programmes. Robustness of construction and attention to the mechanical details of sound reproducers' requirements in difficult situations have gained this type of reproducer many staunch friends, both in the services and elsewhere.

B.T.H. having been engaged in large-scale production of delicate mechanisms for war purposes, have also had in mind their subsequent employment in peace-time production. A number of new inventions calculated to improve sound-heads of B.T.H. projector mechanisms are being applied to new product.

In the 1945 Year Book, reference was made to a new projector for picture and sound, developed by Imperial Sound System. This projector has caught the attention of buyers both in this country and abroad, and a steady demand is anticipated during the coming year.

New types of projector lens have been introduced during the year by G. B. Kalee, Taylor, Taylor Hobson and Ross. These employ the method of treatment known as coating, which prevents light loss by applying a film over all surfaces which have hitherto permitted glare. The Ross lens is marketed as Rosskote, while the G.B. Kalee lens is known as the Kalee Bloomed and Colour Corrected Lens. A distinctive feature of the latter is that while most other "coated" lenses have a slightly amethyst appearance the Kalee is straw-coloured, which the company claims provides a correct tone for use with either monochrome or coloured films.

For projection purposes a 2 in. f/1.4 has recently been introduced by Taylor, Taylor Hobson for 16 mm. film: the range for this work includes lenses up to 4 in. focal length. For 35 mm. projection there are the very well-known Unifit, Maximum, and Ultimium series.

Both taking and projection lenses are surface treated or bloomed to enhance the brightness and contract of the image provided by the lens. Sound units for 16 mm. and 35 mm. production are also made. Taylor, Taylor-Hobson in the past has made 12½ in. f/1.5 lenses suitable for kinema television projection purposes, and work is constantly proceeding on the further development of lenses suitable for this work.

C. A. Parsons and Co., Ltd., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, has been manufacturing reflectors for over 50 years, and the experience obtained has been embodied into the manufacture of the Parsons kinema reflector. During the war nearly 60,000 glass reflectors and 9,000 rhodium-plated metal reflectors were manufactured by this company for the armed forces, including the highest quality searchlight and signalling reflectors. The skill and technique developed in their production has been applied to kinema reflectors. The main types of which are ellipsoidal, paraboloidal and spherical, but any special types could be manufactured if required. A wide range of sizes is available from 14 in. diameter down to 8 in. diameter, and the reflectors are usually supplied with heat resisting glass.

Rhodium-plated metal reflectors can be supplied for all purposes if desired.

RECTIFIER DEVELOPMENTS.

THREE leading manufacturers of rectifiers announced new units towards the close of the year, Hewittic, Nevelin Electric and Westinghouse. Charts of performance show interesting figures of saving in current and ease of operation, all three units being in compact cabinets.

The Hewittic Company's unit is an alternative form of their well-known Econotrol Rectifier, known as the Unitarc. It comprises a simple single-phase rectifier unit operating on the Econotrol principle, and is suitable for installation in any kinema where there is a single-phase supply of 200/250 volts (or other voltage if specially required) and meets the operating requirements of any D.C. arc lamp, high or low intensity, up to 65 amps.

The Nevelin unit, the Nevector, enables any D.C. trim to be accommodated by a turn of the switch in finely graded steps of approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$ amps., with a generous overlay. This unit was described in the December, 1945 IDEAL KINEMA and the immediate interest of exhibitors was enthusiastically forthcoming.

The Westalite, the Westinghouse unit has been developed from the pre-war copper-oxide type which has been replaced by the "Westalite" selenium-compound unit.

Like its copper-oxide predecessor, the new equipment is a "twin" set, comprising two separate "Westalite" double-voltage rectifiers, two transformer reactance units, two ballast arrangements and two sets of control-gear, and is operating two arcs simultaneously during change-over.

The nett weight is approximately 5 cwt.

Two models are available, one for H.I. having a maximum output for each arc of 45 volts 60 amps., the other for use with L.I. has a maximum output for each arc of 55 volts 60 amps.

PYRENE SAFETY DEVICE.

Pyrene Automatic Film Fire Extinguisher for projectors has made great strides during the war period, the mechanism having been redesigned. Used extensively for portable projectors on ships of the Royal Navy, it is now being manufactured for standard use in kinemas.

The automatic circuit breakers for the arc and motors are in keeping with the design of the mechanism, and arrangements are being made for special fittings of all the latest model projectors, thus doing away with the pedestal.

GEORGE PALMER

CINEMA STAGE EQUIPMENT and FURNISHINGS

89, WARDOUR STREET, LONDON, W.1. Gerrard 4796-6143

The new mechanism, together with the latest motor and automatic circuit breakers, can still be supplied with the pedestal model for earlier type projectors, not already fitted with this device.

This equipment can be purchased for cash, or on a "hire maintenance" agreement.

SPOOLS AND CONTAINERS.

A USEFUL service is being performed by the Cinematograph Engineering Co., Ltd., in the supply of film spools and cans which are marketed under the name of Cecol.

Cecol spools and containers are supplied in the standard production material steel, but also may be obtained in aluminium. The latter material lends itself to the export trade as weight is considerably reduced. An anodised finish can be offered and the range of colours available permits the customer to designate subject matter by colour, i.e., gold for education, silver for religious, etc., etc.

Containers have free-fitting lids to resist binding together of top and bottom when dented; and curled lip on lid to facilitate opening, and curled or beaded edges.

A COMPREHENSIVE RE-WIND TABLE.

IMMEDIATELY after the conclusion of hostilities Robert Rigby, Ltd., turned its attention to post-war production, and in August, 1945, the prototype of a comprehensive rewind bench was designed and built to fulfil a long felt want in the projection room. By the end of the year a number had been installed and are proving highly satisfactory from the operator's point of view, and from that of the licencing authorities to whom an all metal bench offers considerable appeal.

The bench can be accommodated in a space 6 ft. by 2 ft., and is fitted with the firm's latest model Premier rewinder, film joiner and film waxer. A scrap film bin is let into the table top, the film cuttings being disposed of through a spring flap situated immediately behind the film joiner.

Ample drawer accommodation is provided for tools and spares.

Lastly, a 12-way patent interlocking cabinet is supplied together with two metal bins with compartments for 12 spare spools. This is most ingeniously constructed. All the compartments when the spools are inserted, become self-closing and interlocking, and no spools can be removed out of sequence, thus preventing the possibility of screening any wrong part numbers. The bench was described and illustrated in the IDEAL KINEMA of August, 1945.

Another item of equipment which has been developed and marketed, is a patent spool with interchangeable hub centres, adaptable for all makes of projectors.

In addition to the above, a complete new range of slide lanterns of exclusive design and workmanship has been introduced, and are now available.

16 mm. PROJECTION.

A PROSPECT of an extensive widening of the activities of sub-standard projection units operating on a mobile basis over various sections of the country greatly disturbed exhibitors in country districts as introducing a form of competition with their established kinemas while being free from restrictions which the kinema using 35 mm. film has to observe. Discussions in C.E.A. branches showed that there was little which members could do to stop the incursion of sub-standard units into their territory, and suggestions were made that exhibitors themselves should, by entering this field themselves, reap whatever advantage might be forthcoming from such "opposition."

Renters are setting up 16 mm. departments, and the prospect is that during 1946, sub-standard copies of moderately up-to-date films will be available to those who run the competing shows. At the moment, there is a scarcity of 16 mm. projectors, but these are likely to become more plentiful as re-conditioned machines are returned from Service use, and manufacture gets into its stride. There is known, however, to be a desire on the part of the Ministry of Education to obtain as many as possible of these projectors for employment in schools and colleges.

During the year, a deal was made by the Rank interests whereby they obtained rights of manufacture in this country of the Bell and Howell 16 mm. projector. A controlling interest in the British company was secured and production of apparatus is being carried on. The British company will be able to market its product practically all over the world.

Other manufacturers of 16 mm. apparatus have been busy mainly upon export, there being a large demand for all types of equipment in overseas markets.

SOUND REPRODUCERS.

SOUND reproducer equipment has so far brought very little change, although the leading manufacturers have been busy planning prototypes which will be on the market later in 1946.

RCA Photophone is going into production in this country on new models as soon as workshop facilities make this possible, as it is, the company's policy to communicate all improvements in design which have been planned in America to the British company so that production advance may be level in both countries.

Western Electric hopes to commence deliveries of "Westrex," its post-war sound equipment, during the second half of the year. The new model is of entirely new design throughout, and has been engineered in step with the latest recording technique.

An interesting feature of the Sound Head is the hydro flutter suppressor, a new device for controlling the film movement. This reduces mechanical flutter to a point rather less than half that considered by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as the maximum toleration for clean sound. This device was described and illustrated in the January, 1946, IDEAL KINEMA. The speaker system which requires no back stage draping, also reaches a far higher degree of efficiency than those of previous design, and together with new amplifiers the whole combination results in an equipment capable of projecting sound of a finer quality and greater flexibility and realism than has hitherto been available to the industry.

Much more attention is being given in recent years to the need for more pleasing sound in the auditorium, and it is being increasingly realised that the scientific treatment of the interior of a kinema with the correct type of material can effect remarkable results.

Among leading acoustic specialists and suppliers of material for absorption or reflection of sound are Lithalun, Ltd., Gyproc Products and Acousti-Celotex, all of whom have given considerable research to acoustic problems.

Deaf-aid sets in certain kinema seats are now looked upon as necessary in most kinemas. Ardente, Ltd., has supplied a large number to British kinemas. Ardente Acoustic Laboratories, Ltd., has also prepared a very comprehensive range of post-war sound and inter-communication systems.

Amongst these, will be the re-designed version of the well-known Ardente group-hearing equipment, enabling deaf people in kinemas to follow the whole performance; the new "Philharmonic" range of extended frequency amplifiers and auditorium loudspeakers, for use with 16 mm. and 35 mm. sound equipments, and non-synchronised. The Ardente stage amplification system, portable universal sound equipment and many others are detailed and described in the well-illustrated range of leaflets, which the company will be glad to send on request.

FURNISHINGS AND DRAPERIES.

THE situation regarding furnishing, seating and draperies remains at the beginning of 1946 much what it has been during the years of war, Supplies are not yet larger than before, due to the concentration upon export, which is urged by Government departments.

Fabrics which are available are limited in range of design and quality of material and whatever priority is available is given to the domestic market.

Manufacturers of fabrics have designs ready for weaving, and large weaving mills such as those of Lister and Co., Ltd. of Manningham Mills, Bradford, announce that their first samples are woven, and as soon as a larger supply of raw materials is released production will go ahead.

Seating standards are expected to be available in larger numbers as the year advances, and these, with the springs and frames, should enable chair construction to proceed in the ensuing months.

From France comes news of the use of a specially hardened and almost unbreakable plastic material which is to be used for chairs by a Parisian manufacturer in the near future. The plastic is that which has been used successfully in automobile bodywork and aeroplane fuselages and is non-inflammable and capable of being produced in a variety of colours.

The old-established firm of H. Lazarus & Son, Ltd., is still using all the resources at its disposal to provide long-standing customers with essential repairs and renovations, advising on ways to prevent deterioration and awaiting the time when the company's experience may be exercised to the full on new material.

Walturdaw has provided materials and service for such work in many parts of the country, while Fosters (Curtains), Ltd., of Nottingham, reports having carried out a number of contracts for furnishing where the exhibitor has been able to obtain a licence from the Ministry of Works.

Beck & Windibank is concentrating on renovation and re-upholstery, carrying out repairs where possible on site, and where damage is too extensive and spares are available, performing the repair at the works. Carpets and floor coverings are also receiving attention to bide the time when larger supplies will allow more generous renewal.

W. N. Lockwood, carrying on the old-established L. B. Lockwood & Co., reports that his seating and furnishing experts have been very largely employed upon supplying seating and carpets in Government factory canteens and camps. Service to old-established customers is given first priority after Government orders are completed, and it is hoped shortly to increase the attention to the demand from this direction.

W. W. Turner and Patersons (Glasgow), Ltd., are also busy on repair service, in which direction it has been possible to keep in use seating which before the war would have been superseded by new. Pathe Equipment, having secured additional accommodation for seating and furnishing manufacture, anticipate being able to extend operations very widely in post-war days.

G. B.-Kalee, with Major Bell in charge of the theatre reconstruction department, and with the well-known Pixton seating factory as a supply source, plans a large seating output with some interesting features.

Hall & Dixon states that during the last four years the firm has been able to satisfy most of the demands which have come to them, although the supply of material has been limited.

Similarly, C. R. Harrison & Sons, Ltd., regrets having to ask customers to wait for full deliveries of their well-known seating. As soon as that portion of the works occupied by a Ministry is released, reversion to production on a larger scale is hoped for.

The difficulty of obtaining new furnishing and coverings for seatings is turning exhibitors' thoughts in the direction of cleaning those in use. The furnishing specialists are carrying out this work as circumstances allow, and the Davis Carpet and Upholstering Cleaners offer "on site" service for seating which can be carried out overnight if necessary. Stage drapes, of course, are removed for cleaning at the works.

Trinity Chair Works, Ltd., is satisfying customers in repairs and replacements wherever and whenever supplies permit, although most of its energies are absorbed in Government work.

LIGHTING RESTRICTIONS

THE need to economise fuel has, if anything, become more urgent since the close of the war due to the fact that the winning of coal has produced a far less tonnage than was expected. This has necessitated the retention of restrictions upon the use of light which will remain at 1 watt per square yard of floor space. Some of the difficulties have been overcome, however, by the substitution for tungsten lamps in certain parts of the theatre of fluorescent tube lamps, these operating with very marked effect in areas which are long and narrow, such as corridors. The amount of current used in these lamps is small and the area illuminated is large and thus it is possible without increasing expenditure upon current to make lighting much more effective. G.E.C. are suppliers of these units.

With regard to illumination of the stage and screen, this, too, remained very restricted and any increase of lighting in this respect has been impossible. Thus, the very impressive use of light for illumination and colour lighting has had to be kept very low. This has not meant that the electrical contractors has been behindhand in designing new light sources for use immediately any alleviation of the present restrictions is made possible. Modern technique permits changes to be made in colour lighting in as many as five cones for half arc lamps without repetition. Strand Electric has been carrying out some very effective installations for legitimate theatre uses, and the company has especially to its credit a very important installation in a Lisbon theatre which many theatre proprietors in this country must regard with envy.

W. G. Furse has also been busy in the stage lighting direction, and recently in a Glasgow theatre produced some beautiful artistic colour effects by varying colours upon a relief surface and controlling the whole by a pre-set dimming effect.

F. H. Pride is again specialising in the design and manufacture of decorative lighting fittings, cornice lighting, illuminated signs, floodlights, decorative and engraved glass, stage lighting equipment, switchboards, resistances, control panels, low tension switchgear, dimmers, metal trunking, etc.

The comprehensive equipment of the works enables facilities to be offered for overhauls, repairs and replacements due to war damage and deterioration.

Designs and models for fluorescent lighting are now in production. The colour, brilliance and economy of the new lamps makes them particularly suitable for canopies, entrance halls, foyers, cafes, etc.

MUSIC.

PROSPECTS of greatly increased P.R.S. fees for musical reproduction in kinemas have disturbed exhibitors during the closing months of 1945 in view of the agreement existing between the C.E.A. and the P.R.S. being due to come to an end in April, 1946. It was felt that any new arrangement reached between the two organisations could not come into force until later in the year, and that the settlement would be in the nature of a compromise between the two bodies.

With regard to organs, it is stated by Major Wright that on completion of the change-over from war to peace-time manufacture, Wurlitzer Organs will go into production of their new electronic instrument to be known as the Wurlitzer Orgatron, a pipeless organ having the tonal qualities and mechanical action of the present Wurlitzer. The system is entirely different from any other electronic organ on the market, and the tremendous advantage of saving in space will be warmly appreciated.

The John Compton Organ Co. has also a new Theatrone model in manufacture which it is hoped to demonstrate during the summer. New musical effects have been achieved in the promised instrument and others have been enriched and improved.

The company is at the moment turning over from its wartime work to peace production and among its orders are several for restoration and additions.

As regards organ music generally, the return of many organists from the Forces will no doubt lead to the unit organ regaining its high place in kinema entertainment, and a return to popularity by broadcast programmes is foreseen.

PUBLICITY.

Girosign has not been idle during the war period in making provision to put on the market new models of their well-known productions and immediately the existing restrictions regarding materials are raised they will be in a position to offer exhibitors attractive display frames. Girosign is now concentrating on silk screen products, a form of publicity which is proving of great benefit to the kinema industry, as it enables exhibitors to make use of D. C. posters at a reasonable charge.

A. Coltman and Co., Ltd., has also carried on its service to exhibitors in the supply of front-of-house publicity, and with greater opportunities provided by the return of peace conditions and the increase of material available intend to expand its resources. Other organisations catering for publicity material supply are Classic Displays and Ace Publicity.

Stillograph is described by the manufacturers, Stillograph, Ltd., Imperial Buildings, Manchester, as the machine which provides the attention-arresting method of displaying stills and announcements by movement and illumination. The wall model is a compact, all-metal, weatherproof unit in black and chromium, height 3 ft. 7 in., width 1 ft. 10 in., depth 9 in. Under automatic electric control, Stillograph displays in succession 11 illuminated panels (14 by 11 or 10 by 8), each panel appears twice—first in the top and then in the bottom window—and remains visible for about 11 seconds in every minute. The cost of running is very little indeed, the motor and three tubular lamps consume about two units of electricity in 12 working hours.

In addition to the manufacture of Stillograph machines, this company specialises in wood and metal publicity frames, sectional canopy units, directional signs, mirrors, standees and display backgrounds.

There has been a revived interest in slides during the year, and while there are some amateurs who like to try their artistic expression by writing their own, the much more attractive finish of the article supplied by commercial manufacturers is more attractive to the eye of the average patron.

Morgan's Projected Publicity still remains the company to which organists turn for special slides to announce organ items, while others, such as Herbert Baker, of Thaxted, carry on a large business in slide announcements of films. This company has an alert service and only needs to be notified of the name of the film for which a slide is needed to produce the finished attractive article.

With regard to trailers, National Screen Service has a reputation so nationwide that it is not necessary to dwell on the excellency of the material supplied or the efficiency of its service. The company has performed a remarkable work during the war in its handling of Government shorts, and it is continuing the work now that the world war has ended.

THE COST OF ELECTRICITY.

An electrical unit is equal to 1 kilowatt-hour, or 1,000 watts for one hour. To ascertain the consumption in hours per unit of any piece of D.C. apparatus rated in watts, divide the rating into 1,000 : e.g., a 60-watt lamp will run for $1,000 \div 60 = 16\frac{2}{3}$ hours for one unit.

The theoretical electrical horse-power is equal to 746 watts. For electric motors, a useful approximation is to reckon one unit per hour per rated horse-power.

In the case of A.C. supplies, maximum-demand charges are generally based, not upon the kilowatt, but upon the kilo-volt-ampère; the relation between the two terms is known as power factor. Thus at a power factor of 0.8, a supply of 1 k.v.a. is equal in power output to only 800 watts. The loading of cables must also be based upon the k.v.a., and not the k.w. consumption.

Lighting and heating circuits (other than neons and other discharge lamps) have a power factor of unity; the power factor of motors, arc rectifiers, etc., may vary from 0.6 to 0.9. It is advantageous to keep the power factor of such apparatus as high as possible.

CALCULATING ARC RESISTANCES.

The value of a resistance R to pass a given current C at voltage V is expressed, according to Ohm's law, by the formula—

$$R = \frac{V}{C}$$

In calculating arc resistances, however, the value of the back voltage A of the arc must be considered. This may be reckoned as 45 volts for low-intensity arcs, and for high-intensity from 25 volts for a horizontal-negative mirror arc or 40 for an inclined-negative mirror arc, up to 65 or 70 volts for rotating-positive arc and 20 volts for A.C. arc. The formula then becomes—

$$R = \frac{V-A}{C}$$

The earlier studs of a resistance should be so computed as to allow the arc to be struck on not more than one-third of its full current.

ORDINARY FILM CEMENT.

Amyl Acetate 4 oz., Acetone 6 oz.

This may either be used as it is, in which case the cement will be a thin fluid with not much more body in it than water, or it may be thickened to any desired extent by dissolving it in celluloid chips. Celluloid film base from which the gelatine coating has been cleaned off will serve.

For non-flam. film glacial acetic acid may be added; some users also add chloroform. It is, however, preferable to use the cement recommended by the makers of the stock—e.g., for Dufaycolor use Ilford cement.

MEASUREMENT OF SCREEN BRIGHTNESS

Mount photometer one-third the height of screen, and take readings at each end, in the centre, and intermediately (five in all). Average of readings gives light intensity in foot-candles; a recommended figure is from 10 to 14 foot-candles.

MISCELLANEOUS FIGURES

Standard Electricity Supply (from Grid) : 230v. single-phase or 400v. three-phase, 50 cycles per second.

Accumulators : Lead-acid type, 2.6 volts per cell fully charged, specific gravity of electrolyte 1.280; fully discharged 1.8 volts per cell, specific gravity of electrolyte 1.150.

Alkaline type : 1.2 to 1.1 volts per cell.

Gas Supply : Meter reading (cubic feet) \times declared value in B.T.U.s \div 100,000 = therms.

Recommended Temperature of Auditorium : Winter 55° to 65° F. Summer 10° below outside temperature.

Sizes of Posters : Double-crown : 30 in. by 20 in.

Quad-crown : 40 in. by 30 in.

Four-sheet : 60 in. by 40 in., larger sizes proportionately.

RUNNING TIME OF FILM

Standard speed of 35-mm. sound film = 24 frames per second = 90 ft. per minute = approximately 11 minutes per 1,000 ft.

The current ratings given above refer to the normal maximum current of the circuit, and do not refer to the overload at which the cut-out will operate.

The full normal load on a fuse should be two-thirds of its fusing load. For arcs, use copper fuses rated at double normal current to allow for striking. On motor circuits the allowance will depend upon the starting current. Allow 50 to 100 per cent. for D.C. motors or A.C. repulsion-induction motors, four times for wound induction motors, six to eight times for squirrel-cage. On 3-phase motor circuits always fuse heavily.

Econotrol

Hewittic Rectifiers

The Modern Choice for Re-equipment

In re-equipping for the post-war era the Econotrol rectifier is technically and economically the finest, most modern choice of rectifier for operating projection arcs.

Developed through exhaustive tests in collaboration with leading projector and carbon makers, ensuring scientific matching with modern projection equipment.

Cuts running costs to the bone while maintaining maximum performance. Simple to install and operate.

Suitable for remote control from the projector.

Announcing the New Econotrol

—an important development of the Econotrol. A neat unitarc Econotrol rectifier in a floor space only 16 by 19 inches, for installation adjacent to, or remote control from, the projector it operates. With simple switch for wide-range trim selection.

Combines the superior screen illumination that only the D.C. arc can give, with the simplicity and low cost associated with A.C. arc equipment.

Lt.-Col. A. C. Bromhead, C.B.E.

Founded the original Gaumont business in London in 1898, opened one of the first film studios in this country, and one of the first kinematograph theatres, one of the pioneers of the film hire service, and the originator of the "exclusive" film and "booking by contract." With M. Gaumont exhibited "Chronochrome" in 1913. In 1914 the Gaumont Co. constructed and equipped the first large modern film studios in London. In 1922 the Gaumont Company came entirely under British control, the majority proprietary interest being acquired by Col. Bromhead and his British associates. In 1922 installed a large plant for developing at the laboratory at Shepherds Bush, and considerable extensions were completed early in 1927. In the same year a large new studio was built and in 1929 the first sound-proof studio in England was constructed for the production of "Talkies" by the British Acoustic process. The Gaumont-British Picture Corporation was formed in 1927 to acquire Gaumont Ideal and W. & F., together with a group of 22 theatres, subsequently acquired the ordinary share capital of Denman Picture Houses, Ltd., General Theatre Corporation, Ltd. and P.C.T., and other companies, thereby becoming, under the Chairmanship of Col. Bromhead, the most important concern of its kind in Europe. Col. Bromhead retired from Gaumont-British Corporation in August, 1929. BRITISH PRODUCTION

Studio Work in 1945

BY GORTON BAKER.

ALTHOUGH 1945 was V-year, British studios were unable to make any immediate step-up of production. After VE-Day in May, only a small amount of the some half million square feet of studio space which had been requisitioned was released. It was not until the Government's November pledge—"studios second priority only to houses"—that producers could see their way clear to plan for increased production. Any speedy after-the-war boost in output was further made impossible by the acute shortage of equipment, and the fact that the dollar crisis barred studios from purchasing U.S. apparatus.

But although quantity was not increased, quality of production showed a steady improvement. For instance, the Sydney Box film, "The Seventh Veil," was the biggest box-office winner of the year as well as the top British picture, and other British productions successfully challenged American product on our screens.

Our product, however, did not reach the screens without criticism. Some of this criticism has been well founded. The two major criticisms were that British films lacked the "sparkle" of Hollywood product, and that quantity was being sacrificed for quality.

On the latter point, P. L. Mannonk, of the Daily Herald, wrote: "I am thinking, of course, of 'Cæsar and Cleopatra,' its 80 weeks or so on the floors, and its cost, which is roughly that of the entire output of British films in the 1920s. A whole programme of feature pictures could have been produced in that time and with the money expended on this single subject . . ."

Nevertheless, British products—thanks to our technicians—have greatly increased in public demand during the last twelve months, and although producers were still critical of Whitehall at the end of 1945, and of the way it was releasing space, giving permits for new equipment and making labour and materials available, the new Government has declared itself willing to aid the industry in every way possible: consequently there is every prospect for an increase in output and quality towards the end of 1946.

In the near future British studios can look forward to rapid technical progress. A. G. D. West, president of the B.K.S., told the annual meeting in December that within ten years we should be producing in full stereoscopy.

He adhered to his ten years forecast of the previous year. First, a period of rehabilitation, next the perfection of colour and sound, followed by theatre-size television, first in black and white, later in full colour. Finally, he was confident that stereoscopic films would be in full production by 1956. This may be an optimistic view: but it is certain that British studios will be ready to make the best use of any technical discoveries that may be available in the near future.

PRODUCTION OUTPUT

DURING the year to December, 1945, there were 65 British features reviewed in the KINE, and 18 British shorts. The latter figure does not include the large number of Government sponsored shorts. In addition, during the same period, there were 45 British reissues reviewed. Of these pictures, features totalled 388,648 ft. (and were given 36 U and 28 A certificates), the 18 reviewed shorts totalled 27,268 ft.

In its annual report, published in August, the B.F.P.A. listed 64 films for the year (July, 1944 to June, 1945), an increase of six over the previous year. In terms of Quota units, the number registered was 113, as compared with 123.

It is obvious then that British studio output is still very small compared with its pre-war standard, although quality is much greater.

Quota regulations remain the same as last year: They are covered by the Draft Order of December, 1944, and until its expiration in 1948, no extension or modification will be considered. For the Quota year 1946-7, the percentages are: exhibitors, $17\frac{1}{2}$, renters $22\frac{1}{2}$. There is a further $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. increase set on both exhibitor and renter Quota for 1947-8. The shorts Quota for 1946-8 is: exhibitors, $22\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and renters, 25 per cent.

There was no change made in the Board of Trade regulations as regards costs test—a 50 per cent. increase on the original costs test remaining in force. With the increase in Quota, it is obvious that producers will be encouraged to step up production as quickly as possible.

In June, 1945, the Board of Trade statistics for the year ending September, 1944, showed that 9,470,000,000 ft. of British films were shown on British screens. This represented 20 per cent. of the total footage shown in this country.

Of the total footage of films screened in this period, feature subjects accounted for 42,200 million feet, of which 8,307 million feet (or 19.67 per cent.) were British: 18.77 per cent. of the feature footage was British in the same period of 1943. This, however, includes British features which, being registered before October, 1939, were no longer eligible for Quota. Excluding these films from the analysis, the British long film percentage is reduced to 17.53 per cent. for the period ending September, 1944.

The fact that the minimum proportion of British features that exhibitors had to show by law was 15 per cent. is proof that exhibitors have found British product a box-office asset and not just a regrettable burden.

Registration figures quoted by Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, in the Commons (December, 1945) are a reliable guide to the year-by-year screening of British and Foreign output:—

Sir Stafford also divulged the year by year U.S. production costs for British-made pictures. On the assumption that the total expenditure of U.S. companies on the production of films in this country was, roughly, twice the labour costs of the British commercially produced features acquired by the U.S. companies' British associates for distribution in Britain, the approximate amounts for each Quota year (renters) since the beginning of the 1938 Films Act, were :—

1941	£900,000
1942	£1,200,000

----------------	-----	-----	-----	-----	------------

Financially, production tendency in British studios has been divided between producers who have advocated lavish, expensive films and those producers who have concentrated on medium-price pictures.

It was the cost of Rank-financed "Cæsar and Cleopatra," following the expensive production of "Henry V.," that raised the argument—Should films be made cheaper and quicker, or should British studios aim at "supers at any price"?

In April, Maurice Ostrer, executive producer for Gainsborough, commented on how British studios should allocate the money for their pictures. His argument was that we should aim at a "correctly priced commercial picture," the film that can make a profit in its own market.

Ostrer said that he was keeping to a production cost of about £150,000—the 1945 equivalent of the £75,000 1938 production, and provided some interesting figures showing the proportionate departmental expenditure on a picture. He cited "The Man in Grey" which cost £95,000. That amount was divided approximately into the following percentages :—

Story and scenario (5); direction department, 3; production department (5); acting (17); art department (1); camera department (2); recording and re-recording (5); sets (16); lighting (2.5); film stock (4.5); wardrobe (4); make-up department (2); music (2); location (0.5); insurance, etc. (4); miscellaneous (4); studio rent (13); production fee (3); royalties (recording) (1).

It is easy to see from these statistics that the war years have caused certain costs to rise out of all peace-time proportions. The costs of the wardrobe and sets are the more obvious. The set costs for "The Man in Grey" were £16,380, including a wage bill for carpenters, plasterers and property men of £6,300, and a property rental of £4,600.

REGAINING SPACE

THE major problem of the year was that of trying to regain much needed studio space requisitioned by various Government departments.

Sir Alexander Korda started the attack in March by discussing the matter with the President of the Board of Trade. Sir Alex, without production facilities of his own, had purchased the requisitioned Amalgamated Studios in 1944. This space was wanted to launch a £2,000,000 production programme in collaboration with M-G-M. But it was not until mid-July that the Board was able to announce that Amalgamated was being released. At the end of 1945, these studios had not yet been re-conditioned for production.

The position eased in April, 1945. The Board of Trade stated that 200,000 square feet of space would be released within a few months and was able to give details of stages that had already been released. These were the whole of Nettleford, one stage at Denham, and one stage at Sound City. It was estimated on this occasion that 130,000 square feet of space would remain in Government hands by the end of the year.

Producers were cheered to read in the KINE. on June 28 that Norman Loudon would be putting Sound City into production by September with two large and one small stage available, but in September, Wesley Ruggles started his "London Town" with broken-down aeroplanes being patched on the next door set!

A few weeks later the British Film Producers' Association warned its members that derequisitioning was going to be a slow process. Further, acute shortages of staff and equipment are holding up the resumption of film making. Following further discussions between the B.F.P.A. and the Board of Trade, the Board announced in August that by the end of Spring, 1946, the British studios would be able to start on a 50 per cent. increase in production.

The Services, said the Board, failed to realise the economic value of British film production.

These studios were added to the demob list: A.B.P.C. at Elstree and Walton-on-Thames. The Board hinted that the M. of I., Army and R.A.F. film units were prepared to move from Pinewood if they could find other suitable accommodation.

But the most encouraging news about space release came in November, when the Government announced that studios were to be given priority, second only to the nation's re-housing campaign. Since then studio release went ahead steadily and producers entered the new year with the prospects of re-starting production on their borrowed space at least by the summer or autumn of 1946.

Producers, at the same time they were discussing the derequisitioning of their studios, were talking about rebuilding old studios and the possibilities of building new plants. It seems imminent that new studios will have to be built if the British industry is going to build up its export trade to the degree visualised by J. Arthur Rank.

During the year a survey of the possibilities of providing new studio space was made by H. Junge, son of art director A. Junge, whose book, Plan for Film Studios, was published by the Focal Press. His argument for building a British studio town—without the many disadvantages of Hollywood—was based on replies to a questionnaire circulated to numerous studio executives. This survey is significant because it both reflects the faults in our present production structure and, what is more important, is the first serious post-war scheme for providing our production industry with a blue print on which to base its plans for expansion.

FOREIGN MARKETS

STUDIO expansion would be useless without a steady overseas market to provide extra earnings for British pictures. On the other hand, we must be ready with pictures that have a definite appeal to the overseas audience. During 1945 the Rank group concentrated on a number of subjects with an international appeal—the peak of this foreign market target being the première of Pascal's "Cæsar and Cleopatra."

One of the most important events of the year was J. Arthur Rank's visit to the U.S., resulting in a number of deals that provided British pictures with valuable, if in many cases a limited outlet in the American market. These included a reciprocal agreement with RKO-Radio by which joint productions are made in this country, RKO distributing the films in the U.S.

This agreement was followed in August by the news that Rank had made a production agreement with David O. Selznick, the new company being Selznick International Pictures of England. The films were to be distributed in the States by Rank's new distribution organisation, run by Captain Harold Auten.

Later in the year Rank, representing the British interests, and Leo Spitz and William Goetz, representing International Pictures, set up United World Pictures. Eight U.S. and eight British pictures were involved at the outset, the company having distribution organisations in U.S., Britain and other parts of the world.

During the year Rank also made a further deal with Universal for U.S. distribution and, in December, announced a tie-up with the Young interests in Pathé Industries for a reciprocal distribution of ten British and ten U.S. pictures each year.

With the end of the war in Europe, British production was able to make arrangements for distribution in most of the major countries. E. T. Carr, managing director of Eagle-Lion, started the year with a visit to the Scandinavian countries, making arrangements for the distribution of product in this part of Europe.

By the end of 1945, British producers had an outlet for their pictures in nearly every country of the world. J. Arthur Rank's organisation, through Eagle-Lion and its subsidiary companies, had made arrangements for distribution of British pictures in France, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Spain and Portugal. Arrangements were being made for Turkish, Swiss and Jugo-Slav distribution. There were eight Eagle-Lion offices in Italy, and the Middle East was covered from Cairo, films being distributed in Palestine, Egypt, Syria, Iran, Iraq and even Abyssinia.

Africa is being covered from centres at Lagos, Freetown and elsewhere, the South African distribution of British pictures is being handled by 20th-Fox, which is also operating with British films in Australia and New Zealand. India is covered by an Eagle-Lion allied company. An organisation was also set up in Singapore a few weeks after its liberation. Japan saw British pictures by December, 1945, while distribution in British occupied Germany was being handled by the authorities.

These arrangements are in addition to the comprehensive Rank organisation for the States and Canada. Whilst it is obvious that the distribution of our films in the world market—especially throughout the vast channels of the U.S.—is very inadequate, the past year has seen rapid progress in creating the necessary distribution organisations for our films.

The British Film Producers' Association has set up a permanent Export Committee to survey and report on film markets abroad.

MONOPOLY REPORT

THE Palache Committee's report, better known in the trade as the Monopoly Report, has been discussed by all sections of the industry, and the findings of the B.F.P.A., together with the K.R.S. and C.E.A. views, were submitted to the president of the Board of Trade in April, 1945.

A full analysis of the recommendations of the original Monopoly Report and the replies of the three associations was compiled by the KINE. for its April 19 issue.

As yet the Government has given no indication as to whether it intends to implement any of the report's proposals. This attitude has been criticised on more than one occasion by the Association of Cine Technicians, which wanted to see the principles of the report put into operation at the earliest possible moment. One thing the Government did say, and that was that it did not intend setting up another Moyne Committee.

RAW STOCK

THERE has been a noticeable alleviation of the raw stock restrictions, but there is a general impression that, following the implementing of the loan agreement with the U.S.A. and the slackening of Government and Service demands, relatively normal supplies will be available in the not too distant future. Meanwhile there are prospects that a certain quantity of Continental stock may help matters; for instance, during 1945 Gevaert made a small-scale though significant re-entry to our markets.

Reference in past issues has been made of the increased quality of raw stock, although during the war years British production has not been able to avail itself of these developments. Now, however, the introduction of Kodak fine grain release positive 1302 has been the most striking change in the raw stock direction during 1945. It is being issued from Harrow, and two important laboratories are using it almost exclusively. Others will probably use it in increasing quantities as supplies become more fully available and it becomes possible for laboratories to make the necessary changes in printing lights.

COLOUR DEVELOPMENT

THERE has been a slight increase in the use of colour in feature subjects which, as in the previous war years, were still almost wholly restricted to Technicolor. Competent observers declare that within two years colour will be almost universally used for any important subject. This is borne out by the schedules already announced of U.S. production for the 1945-46 season. In this country owing largely to the shortage of equipment Technicolor has been hitherto used exclusively by the J. Arthur Rank organisation whose films "Cæsar and Cleopatra," "A Matter of Life and Death," and "Men of Two Worlds," have been or are being made by this process. There is evidence, however, that this year will witness an expansion over here of the use of colour. British National, for instance, has used Technicolor sequences in "Meet the Navy," and proposes to make the whole of its new musical "Song of Romance" in colour.

A new integral layer process, Anglocolor, sponsored by the colour research specialist Dr. Martinez, was announced last year but details are not yet available.

The most promising development in the colour field is the new Agfacolor system, perfected by the Germans during the war. From specimens shown by the Ministry of Information, some experts have declared that Agfacolor, when correctly used, is without doubt equal to any other colour system at present in commercial use. It is said to be the simplest and most easily handled method so far invented.

The basic principle is one in which the negative, when exposed and processed, registers complementary colours to those obtained on the positive print. Green registers as magenta on the negative and prints as blue-green and yellow. Red becomes blue-green in the negative stage, printing as yellow and magenta, while blue is yellow in the negative, returning as blue-green and magenta in the print. The three emulsions are laid on a single film base. Stock is exposed in the normal camera, and a print can be produced in full colour almost as quickly as the normal monochrome rushes. Further, no special studio lighting unit is necessary. Dupe negatives are of a high quality and the stock is adaptable to trick and optical work. Agfacolor's sensitivity makes it possible to take colour shots under the worst exterior conditions—when any other colour system would be off the record.

Dr. Sigvard Weber, an authority on colour work, considers this new process to be an ideal system for use in British production, and made particular reference to its possible use in weekly newsreel coverage.

Another system discussed during the year, Thomascolor, developed in the U.S. The process depends on mechanics rather than on a special stock. The 35-mm. frame is divided into four sections, in three of which a picture is printed, the fourth remaining blank. The camera and projector both need special lens, the camera taking three pictures simultaneously through colour filters, and three filtered monochrome images are rendered on the film. The projector reverses the process, the three black and white

TECHNIQUE

DURING the year there was little addition to the field of new apparatus. Throughout the war years technicians performed first-rate work on second-rate apparatus. But it will still be some time before new British made equipment is on the market—most manufacturers agreeing that the first post-war designs will not be available until about September, 1946.

Sound recordists were the focal point of a mild sensation when it was suddenly realised that London's new Heath Row airport is likely to cause serious interference. An observer pointed out that nine studios are situated on the circumference over which every 'plane will fly at a low altitude both when taking-off or landing. Sound experts claimed that no studio sound insulation would be able to withstand the vibrations of heavy low-flying aircraft. C. W. Glover, sound insulation expert, who was called in to advise the Rank organisation, points out that the industry must face up to considerable expense to secure adequate defence against interfering noise if flying is to remain unrestricted. The cost of extra insulation would be about £5,000 to £10,000 per stage, according to Mr. Glover. This is because stage trusses would have to be strengthened or renewed to stand the additional weight of fresh insulation material.

Some interesting comments on the problems of recording music in British studios were made by Louis Levy in an address reported in the Kinematograph Weekly in February of 1946. Levy recalled the difficulties experienced during the making of "Sunshine Susie," one of the first important sound musical pictures he had to tackle. They soon found the snags caused by shooting the film and recording the music at the same time.

He described the modern U.S. musical recording methods, the use of multiple sound channels. The result was that for one number you had four negatives. One benefit resulting from this was that if any one of these negatives was not quite good enough, only that one section which was faulty need be recorded again. Again, editing and cutting of routines became a practical proposition, and the most important point of all was that perfection of balance and an attempt at perspective was made possible.

Levy said this: "Recently I was responsible for the production and musical direction of the musical, 'I'll Be Your Sweetheart.' Multiple channels were not available to me, and so I adopted the following method.

"At the first recording I had everybody present, such as the orchestra, and singers. We rehearsed in the usual way, with everybody taking their part, while I was in the listening room to judge the effect. When rehearsed, balanced and satisfied, we recorded the band only, after which we played the track back through earphones and recorded the solo artist on a separate channel. Then the same thing was done with the choir.

"In effect, the result of multiple channels was obtained, but the method at the best is only a makeshift, has its snags, and from an efficiency point of view does not compete with the multiple channels being recorded at the same time."

Considering the future of recording in British studios, Levy said that he considered the microphone has a direct bearing on developments, for at present it was the microphone which limited any technical advance that we would like to make. Directors, he said, were handicapped in movement, shots, and angles, all due to the limitations of the mike.

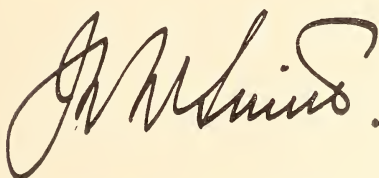

Technicians concerned with the 16 mm. recording were interested in reports coming from the U.S. describing an improved method of direct sound-recording on 16 mm. It offered many advantages over the usual method of reduction from 35 mm. and made it possible to record in conjunction with the Kodachrome type of colour process.

The new recording equipment was developed by Berndt-Maurer, differing from the early B.M. "Auricon." Cameras and recorders are synchronously linked and, apart from the obvious advantages of this two film system in shooting, recording and editing, it is claimed that background noise is considerably lower than the reduction print method. The recording camera holds 400 ft. of 16 mm. film (equivalent to a 1,000 ft. of 35 mm. stock). Recording is of the variable area type, using an oscillograph, the width of the recording beam being only .00015 inches, assuring a clean upper frequency recording. These upper frequencies, it is claimed, can be extended to 7,000 c.p.s. which is equivalent to 17,500 c.p.s. on 35 mm. in terms of image size. The system possesses all the refinements of standard film size recorders.

PERSONNEL.

DURING the year there were a few minor strikes—at Welwyn, Merton Park and Islington, and the forcing of the laboratory agreement by A.C.T. In early 1946 there was a more serious threat by N.A.T.K.E. members at Denham; but this was fortunately avoided by a last minute settlement.

Tom O'Brien, general secretary of N.A.T.K.E., made a bid during the year to make N.A.T.K.E. the one official union covering the whole film industry. A.C.T. refused to attend a meeting to discuss its amalgamation into N.A.T.K.E. Discussions took place with E.T.U. but no concrete arrangements were made.

The year was a busy one for A.C.T. The Association took a strong line in securing a new agreement for members of its Laboratory Section, an "overtime" ban upsetting feature production for several weeks. It also rigidly enforced its "no foreign technicians without reciprocation" rule, which, in particular upset Wesley Ruggles' original arrangements for producing "London Town" at Sound City.

A.C.T. made a valuable contribution with its plan for the absorption of Service technicians into the industry. It pointed out that as so many companies had given up producing and new companies had started up during the war, the re-instatement of Service personnel would be a problem to be tackled by everyone concerned in the production industry. The plan made sure that a technician who had served in the Forces should not suffer in comparison with a fellow technician who had remained at his job. A similar report was prepared on the need of an Apprenticeship Scheme in the production industry.

At its annual meeting in April, A.C.T. members commented that the whole studio set up depended on the immediate legislation of the Monopoly Report. A resolution to that effect was passed. The meeting also decided to ban all Fascists and Nazis from working in the industry and passed a resolution urging the Government to continue its film production activities after the war.

NEW EQUIPMENT.

AS the "Year Book" goes to Press the first descriptions of new recording apparatus and improved film stock have reached me from British manufacturers.

RCA has been able to give its licensees an adequate studio service during the war years—now, I understand from one of its directors, J. C. Atkinson, that the company has new installations ready to put into the studios.

One of them is the new PM 38 E major recording channel. Whilst retaining all the advantages of the magnetic drive it incorporates a number of refinements, including a photronic exposure meter and measuring apparatus enabling a close check to be kept on laboratory processing. The optimum photographic image, with its resultant improvement in sound quality is thus assured. Electronic mixing is provided so that the most suitable settings can be made easily, accommodating the various recording conditions encountered.

One feature is the provision, if desired, of facilities for changing the type of recorded variable area sound track from Standard Duplex to Class "A" Push-pull, within a few minutes. The recorder becomes a dual-purpose instrument capable of making use of the advantages of a push-pull sound track for original negatives and of making re-recorded negatives for release work.

The newest types of uni-directional, bi-directional and omni-directional microphones are supplied, catering for the different requirements met within the field. A new type of microphone with ultra-directional properties, known as the Line Microphone, is designed to eliminate unwanted sounds.

RCA has a complete channel, which may include a high quality synchronous disc recording and reproducing mechanism, for use either as a mobile unit complete with its own power plant or as a static installation. In cases where the first requirements are lightness and transportability, the PM 45-recording channel provides one solution. A compact channel, comprising three major pieces, together with the attendant accessories and power supplies; it can be operated either with a D.C./A.C. Interlock system of drive with its consequent small battery requirements, or with a normal three-phase system.

Electronic mixing is provided, and the feature of recording Standard Duplex or Class "A" Push-pull tracks can be used with this channel as with the PM 38 E. An important point in the design of this machine is a device whereby recordings can be made either on 35 mm. or 16 mm. stock. With the increasing demand for sub-standard film this is a worthwhile feature, as the equipment may be used for direct recording on 16 mm. film, or in combination with a sound head, used for transfer work from 35 mm. to 16 mm. Special correction devices are included in the channel for use when recording on the sub-standard film. This equipment can be mounted in a small track of the utility type.

The third of the new channels is the PM 44 combined film portable equipment. Designed expressly for newsreel work, its features are lightness, compactness, and the rapidity with which it can be brought into action. The recording head, mounted on many cameras, records a Class "B" Push-pull variable area sound track. This combines a low background noise without the need for special ground noise reduction apparatus. Those are two vital points in newsreel work. The equipment can be carried in a saloon car.

In addition to these recording channels RCA is continuing to develop and improve the re-recording features offered to studios. Equipment is being designed and installed to deal with multi-channel work, both in re-recording and music scoring.

Production and development of normal studio recording apparatus by British Acoustic was suspended during the critical war period, but an adequate service was continued for customers both at home and abroad. This service included the modernisation of earlier equipment.

Development of new post-war standard equipment is now well advanced, and covers a complete range of apparatus for floor recording, re-recording, post-synchronizing, disc play-back, dubbing and pre-view projection of unmarried studio rush copies. Most of this apparatus will be of the self-contained unit form.

Features in a typical recording canal will be :

Microphones. A new "cardioid" pattern of wide-range frequency response and low noise level. The acceptance angle of sound pickup is adjustable in five steps, by control on the microphone or by remote control on the mixer, from a narrow "beam" to a fully non-directional characteristic. Connects directly to the mixer without the need for a line amplifier. The microphone is small and light, and is provided with a universally-adjustable and well-damped shock absorbent mounting for boom suspension.

Recording Mixer. Each of the three input channels is provided with a gain control and five-position bass and treble equalizers, with electronic mixing to the master gain control. A built-in signal generator is incorporated for setting up purposes. Other features include provision for recording operational announcements.

Main amplifier assembly. This includes a unit with a comprehensive range of fixed-characteristic filters and equalizers. The amplifier unit contains, in addition to the gain and output stages, an automatic volume-range compression circuit with a wide range of adjustment. Push-pull and cathode couplings with negative feedback are employed to reduce distortion, and meter checking of all circuits is provided.

Sound Recorder. Embodies a film-speed stabiliser which removes all traces of "wow," "flutter" and 96 c.p.s. sprocket-hole modulation. The variable-area type optical system has several advanced features to improve image definition, including coated lens and is fully adjustable to facilitate perfect alignment.

To meet the company's policy of providing the maximum service to customers a new studio servicing depot is being set up in West London. Adequate stocks of spares will be carried, and the premises will be fully equipped with the most modern testing facilities, including a demonstration theatre.

Between 1929 and 1939 CAPLIN ENGINEERING was constantly engaged in the design and manufacture of 35-mm. sound recorders, film rewinders and pick-up attachments for editing tables, in addition to doing experimental work. The company's sound recorders are supplied to A.B.P.C., Pathé News, Welwyn and British Pictorial Productions.

On the outbreak of war the company was asked to design and build a precision quartz cutting machine for use with Radar and similar equipment. At the outbreak of war it had to make a decision and decided to put the manufacture of cinematograph equipment on one side.

Part of the company's post-war plan is to continue with cinematograph apparatus and it is now making sound recorders and film rewinders.

LEEVERS RICH sound recording services during the war period included the hire of mobile sound-on-film units and disc units, and the supply of mobile disc recording equipments for use on either 35 mm. or 16 mm.

Features of the studio equipment include single or double width push-pull optical system on the 35 mm. recorder, photo-electric meter for checking exposure, provision for recording negative or reversal-positive tracks on the 16 mm. machine and disc transfer machines for the audio-synchronising system. A wide range of studio conditions can be simulated by means of a new type of reverberator at present undergoing tests. This device is very compact, and by means of controls on the mixer-panel both the quantity and delay period of reverberation may be adjusted while recording is in progress.

A few uses of Dufaycolor 35 mm. film during 1945 were :—

A full-length film made for the Admiralty, the subject being instructional and dealing with navigation, part of it being taken at sea.

Balet y Blay, Spain has produced a full-length feature cartoon (6,938 ft.) on the lines of Disney's " Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The name of the film is " Garbancito de la Mancha." The negative stock was shipped over from this country, special facilities having been granted by the Board of Trade. The making of the film in Spain took about 18 months. The negative was then sent by air for printing, and prints rushed back by air to Spain.

Dufaycolor 35 mm. was also used during 1945 for registering results in gunnery practice at sea.

A short film in Dufaycolor, " Our Inheritance " was screened at two world premieres in the West end.

The scarcity of base has limited production of Dufaycolor material, particularly as most of the product has been supplied for Government priority requirements. The demand for Dufaycolor film from abroad is considerable, but production is still governed by the amount of base available.

The company hopes to be able to supply the industry with Dufaycolor film on nitrate base instead of the cellulose acetate which has been used in the past. This requires some structural alterations to the works so that they should comply with regulations, which explains the delay.

The Dufaycolor printing and processing laboratories in France, Switzerland, Italy, South Africa and India have been made ready to operate, and are only waiting for more film to become available. In Spain a new and up-to-date laboratory is being put up by Balet y Blay, and the plant will be British made.

The company is planning to make its own base. It is operating a large cellulose acetate base casting plant which has been working to capacity on priority requirements for the last six years : but the base it was making was not photographic. It does not anticipate great difficulty in converting this plant to produce photographic base.

As to the quality of Dufaycolor, the research work done during the past six years, and the call for very precise colour reproduction in the work for the Government, has brought about improvements.

The occupation of the Gevaert Antwerp factory during the war did not enable very serious research to be carried out in connection with new emulsions or improvements. But in spite of this the standard of Gevaert quality seems to have been kept up pretty well.

I am told that the company's Panchromosa Negative of 1939 has been considerably improved so that it will deal effectively with both under and over-exposures and compare favourably with other types customarily used in the studios. Fine grain positive emulsions have been created during the war and are available for this market with slight adjustments in order to be processed in conjunction with other types so that the necessary density and gammas are obtained with these alterations. Fine grain dupe negative and printing stock is also available.

MANAGING DIRECTOR . W. GORDON

we had established a reputation for satisfactory work, dependable service and straightforward business methods.

during the war . . .

in spite of numerous difficulties we maintained our reputation with an ever-increasing number of satisfied clients.

through the reinstatement of our many skilled craftsmen who have served with H.M. Forces we look forward with confidence to a considerable expansion of the many activities with which we are identified.

Back in Our Seats

During the past year or so we have been so fully engaged on work of National importance that the manufacture of Cinema Seating has had, literally, to "take a back seat." Those Cinemas already equipped with HARRISON SUPER SEATING will not have been unduly disturbed by the temporary suspension of our normal activities as Harrison Seating, once installed, will remain sound in spring and limb for a very long time. But new seating equipment could not be provided and we regret the many disappointments created by this war-time restriction.

Now, however, the situation is easing and we will soon be in production again . . . we are "back in our seats," so to speak, for the handling of post-war requirements. If you are thinking about seating get in touch with us now — and place your orders early.

* Denotes temporary war-time address

WANTED TO KNOW

Says K. A. NYMAN, V-P. of the C.E.A.

"I commend this first real and comprehensive work on Kinema Management to managers, would-be managers, and especially circuit executives."

A GREAT WORK WHICH ANALYSES AND ADVISES ON YOUR DUTIES, RIGHTS, RESPONSIBILITIES.

This wonderful book provides over 250 well-printed pages, a detailed answer to almost every problem which is likely to confront a Kinema Manager. It is a practical guide for the beginner, and a mine of information for the experienced manager who needs immediate and clear-cut answers to problems relating to his position and that of his staff.

Here are just a few of the subjects dealt with:—

Three-Hour Show, Cost and Value of First Features, Quota Demands, Press Co-operation, Publicity, Tie-ups, Furnishing and Upkeep, Lavatories, Lighting, Heating, etc., Organising Programmes, Control of Sound, Projection problems, Stage Shows, Matinee Conditions, House Staff, Attitude towards Patrons, Comp. Tickets, Entertainment Tax, Seating Plans and Policy, Matinee Prices, Children's Shows, Laws and By-laws governing the Kinema, Employment of Juniors, C.E.A. Membership, Sunday Openings, Procedure of Application, Employees' Position, Sunday Programmes, Copyright, Censorship, Patrons' Rights, Liability for Damage, Lost Property, Queues, Ceremonial Duties, Fire Precautions, The New House, Builders and Architects, Equipment, Staff Rehearsal, Advertising, Dressing the Stage, Souvenir Programmes, Opening Ceremony — The Manager's office, Routine, Film booking record, Wages System, Cafe—Hours, Menus, Outside Caterers, Staff, Screen Advertising, Car Parks, etc.

"GOOD WINE NEEDS NO BUSH"

The ivy bush in Roman times served as a sign to identify a house where wine was sold. When the vintner had established a reputation for the excellence of his wares—and a reputation is not built up overnight—he no longer needed the sign of the bush. But those who knew what was best still came to his house, remarking that "good wine needs no bush."

. . . and the moral?

Oh, yes! It's simply this; that when a better projection lens is made it will still be a
